VOL. XLIX. THURSDAY MORNING, JULY 3, 1930. C DAILY, FIVE CENTS

SEA ENIGMA REVIVED

Fate of Cyclops Indicated

Diary Purports to Tell How Naval Collier Was Sunk in 1918

Says Enemy Agents Placed Bombs in Engineroom; 293 Lives Lost

WASHINGTON, July 2. (Exclusive)—New information concerning the disappearance of the United States naval collier Cyclops with [illegible] officers and 221 men and [illegible] passengers in West Indian waters during the World War led the Navy Department to [illegible] a rigid investigation in [illegible] hope of solving this tragic mystery of the sea. No trace of the vessel has been discovered since she [illegible] from Barbadoes for Baltimore on March 4, 1918, with a cargo of manganese from Brazil.

The Navy Department has run [illegible] many clews received in the [illegible] twelve years, none of which resulted in anything definite, but the new information comes from a source which officials regard as reliable and may bring to light the circumstances under which the [illegible] vessel went to the bottom with all on board.

BOMBS PLANTED

The new information is to the effect that the ship was sunk by bombs placed in the engineroom by four men in enemy pay who had shipped as members of the crew and arranged to leave the collier in a small boat just before the explosion.

The information is contained in a purported diary of one of the conspirators which came into the possession of a former sergeant of marines who forwarded copies of its essential parts to Marine Corps headquarters. These were then sent to the Secretary of the Navy and are now in the possession of the office of naval intelligence, which is making the investigation. Various theories have been advanced to account for the disappearance of the Cyclops. The theory which obtained the greatest credence was that she was destroyed by an infernal machine placed by agents of the German government with which the United States was at war.

Another possible solution was suggested by assertions of naval officers that the vessel was structurally weak and may have broken in two.

APPEARS GENUINE

An inexplicable phase of the mystery, however, was the absence of any trace of the ship or wreckage. [illegible] carried by the Cyclops ever [illegible] and no body of any member of her crew was recovered.

The former marine who produced the diary met his informant in San Antonio, Tex., but the acquaintance was only casual, and he was unable to furnish the man's name, although subsequently he was able to get possession of the diary. There is no question at the Navy Department concerning the standing and intelligence of the marine as investigation has disclosed that he has an excellent record in the service and is reliable.

The diary was somewhat mutilated, but the essential parts were intact and the office of naval intelligence is now seeking to obtain the original from the ex-marine.

ROWS REND AIR CAMP

Fourth Week of Flight Begins

Corporation That Owned City of Chicago Sues for Accounting

Broadcasting Companies in Quarrel Over Contract; Sunday Goal Set

CHICAGO, July 3. (Thursday) (Exclusive)—At 2:40 a.m. today, the Hunter brothers passed their 515th hour in the air, almost ninety-five hours longer than the previous record.

CHICAGO (Ill.) July 2. (AP)—The City of Chicago sailed smoothly along tonight, entering its fourth week of constant flight, but at the airport below several potential storms were brewing.

The trouble began when Deputy Sheriff Matt Porten arrived late today with a summons ordering all of the Hunter brothers and backers of the endurance flight to appear in Circuit Court the 21st inst.

Flight managers and assistant flight managers scurried about greatly perturbed. Walter and Albert Hunter, operators of the endurance ship's refueling plane, were served, as were Bernard L. Najewski, flight secretary and Wilson Herren, backer.

Deputy Porten then turned his face skyward, watching the endurance plane glide over the field. Flight managers began protesting. But their protests were unnecessary. The deputy quickly announced he had no intention of serving any papers in the air.

RADIO ROW BREAKS

The appearance of the deputy Sheriff was only the beginning of the discord, however. Rivalry between the National Broadcasting and the Columbia systems, both of which have broadcasting equipment at Sky Harbor, cropped out after a ship carrying Columbia equipment made an unsuccessful attempt to broadcast from the endurance ship.

The National Broadcasting Company promptly sent up equipment, made a contact and, officials at the field reported, succeeded in broadcasting a few words from the flying Hunters.

The brother Hunters, according to N.B.C. officials broadcast as follows:

"There isn't much to say up here, and there isn't much to do. We're just sailing along."

A spokesman for Columbia then announced his system had a contract with the Hunter brothers, and that an attorney had been consulted regarding the business of enforcing it.

The endurance ship had been in the air 512 hours at 11:40 p.m. (central standard time,) or ninety-two hours ahead of the previous endurance record. A total of 193 successful contacts with the Big Ben refueling ship had been made. In addition three successful radio contacts had been established.

NOTES GUARDED

As a result the nerves of the field attaches were jangled; conversations strained and at times openly ill-tempered. Rumors of all sorts were rampant. They were to the

RECREWED ENDURANCE TEST READY

Pilots Will be Changed on Planes Starting Flight Friday at New York

ROOSEVELT FIELD (N. Y.) July 2. (AP)—Three gaudy planes flew in from Detroit today to put on one of the strangest endurance flights in aviation history.

In the first place, two planes will start at the same time and in the second place these planes not only will be refueled at regular intervals, but they also will be recrewed.

The refuelling plane will fly above the endurance planes in the orthodox manner, letting fuel down in a hose. Then it will fly under them and fresh pilots will climb up rope ladders to take their turns at the controls. The pilots to be relieved will jump out in parachutes.

The planes were brought in today by John Donaldson, Jack Charleson and Tex Anding. The grind is scheduled to begin on Friday.

Friend of Poor to Wed Actress

OLD ORCHARD BEACH (Me.) July 2. (Exclusive)—Urbain Ledoux (Mr. Zero,) champion of the poor of New York, will wed a Shakespearean actress at 8:30 a.m. tomorrow.

A license was taken out today by Ledoux and Miss Mary White, daughter of the late Judge George Henry P. White, one-time Mayor of Kansas City, Mo. They stopped tonight at the Beldron Hotel and the ceremony tomorrow morning will be performed by a Catholic priest, Rev. James Mullen, at St. Margaret's Church.

Woman Dies in 110th Year

SAN JOSE, July 2. (AP)—Santa Clara county's oldest resident, Mrs. Marie Marcissa Del Carmel Churchill, reputed to be 110 years of age, died at the County Hospital here today. She was born in Mexico, reared a family in Monterey, Cal., and up to the time of her hundredth birthday, supported herself by working in canneries in this vicinity.

Large Melon Cut for Employees

CHICAGO, July 2. (AP)—E. T. Crane, Jr., head of the Crane Company, plumbing supplies manufacturers, today distributed $4,000,000 worth of the concern's stock among employees.

The gift was made from Crane's personal holdings and was his third since 1926. The total value of the stock amounted to $10,000,000.

Employees who have been with the company ten years or more, about 5000 in number, were beneficiaries.

LEAGUE GETS ESTONIA PACT

GENEVA, July 2. (AP)—Estonia has deposited with the League of Nations treaties of arbitration and security concluded between her government and the United States last August. The two treaties are similar to numerous others made by the United States and deposited with the League.

FOKKER GETS AIR LICENSE

Designer's Aerial Dance as Kingsford-Smith Departs Discloses Lack of Flying Permit

ROOSEVELT FIELD (N. Y.) July 2. (AP)—Anthony H. G. Fokker, who has been building and flying planes for half his forty years, ran afoul of Federal inspectors today when he waxed overenthusiastic about one of his ships, but the little drama of the air was closed at last with a happy ending written by official hands.

Early today the dynamic designer, whose planes have won fame in peace and war, came to witness the departure for the West of the Southern Cross.

With pride he walked around the old ship, which he first sold to Sir Hubert Wilkins for Arctic exploration and which lay untended in Alaskan snows for a whole winter before Kingsford-Smith had it rebuilt to fly around the world. And when it lifted into the air with its five passengers and heavy load of fuel as gracefully as a sport plane Fokker could contain his glee no longer.

SPECTATORS AGAPE

There was a little two-seater on the line, and in a flash he was in it, waiting only for Luba Phillips, a former pupil, to climb into the other cubby.

Then he was off, wings waggling, to swoop low over hangar roofs and circle close to the field in an aerial dance of jubilation. Spectators gaped and two Department of Commerce inspectors ran out on the field waving their arms and shouting commands.

When Fokker shortly came down the inspectors, perhaps not immediately aware of his identity, questioned him and announced he had not only violated the rules against stunt flying close to the ground, but did not possess a license to fly at all.

INCIDENT CLOSED

A check of the official lists of licensed pilots on file at the Aeronautical Chamber of Commerce revealed no record of any license having been issued to Fokker this year or any time since 1926, which was as far back as the lists went. The only answer seemed to be that Fokker was so closely allied with planes as designer, builder and flyer that it never had entered his mind to go through the formality required of fledglings in the air.

But when the private conference between the inspectors and the airman was concluded the officials announced they had been mistaken in their first statement and that Fokker had a license but had let it lapse by neglecting a periodical medical examination. He was immediately given this test, was passed, and was told a renewal license would be sent him at once. There was no explanation for the absence of his name from the official lists.

AUTOMATIC PARACHUTE IN RECORD

Broker's Secretary Leaps from Plane at Altitude of 15,000 Feet

ROOSEVELT FIELD (N. Y.) July 2. (AP)—Equipped with a device to take the task of opening her parachute from her own numbed hands, Mrs. Rita Schoemaker leaped from a plane more than 15,000 feet in the air today to establish a new woman's record for altitude jumping.

In a cabin plane the young broker's secretary, who came from a Chicago home to make her way in the money marts of Manhattan, flew upward until lost to sight. Higher and higher she went, until her fingers stiffened with the cold and her heart pounded in the thin air.

Then, between 15,000 and 16,000 feet up, she opened the door and walked out. A ten-foot rope was secured at one end to the plane and at the other to the ring of her parachute's rip cord. So the umbrella opened without any action on her part.

She floated easily downward, rubbing her chin, which had been bruised by her belt buckle in the first precipitous plunge. She landed among the squat trees of a nursery after narrowly escaping some high-tension wires.

A barograph carried in the plane will be sent to Washington for calibration.

Clyde A. Epperson, the resigning president, said the donation had been solicited. The action followed more than a week of discussion of acceptance of the gift among the club members.

EDUCATOR WORRIES OVER LEISURE TIME IN 1960

COLUMBUS (O.) July 2. (AP)—Joy Elmer Morgan, editor of the Journal of the National Education Association, advised American educators to prepare the public for the time when the average working day will be just four hours long.

Addressing a departmental meeting of the association's annual convention, Morgan said the rapid rate of replacement of men by machines makes it reasonable to believe that the working week gradually will be shortened.

By 1960 men and women probably will be working the equivalent of five four-hour days, he said. He based this statement on the assumption that machine replacement of men will clip an hour off the working week each year.

The problem for the educator, he said, is to teach the public how to use all the leisure time it will have on its hands. It will mean either a great increase in culture and learning or a deterioration resulting from ill-spent leisure.

The association hopes to reach every American with a plan of devoting his spare moments to study through the work of its committe on the enrichment of adult life.

WETS LOSE IN HOUSE

Fund Voted for Enforcement

Hoover Commission Expense Provision Restored in Deficiency Bill

Final Senate Action on Conference Report Expected Today

WASHINGTON, July 2. (AP)—By a substantial majority the House today indorsed the Hoover law-enforcement commission's investigation into all law enforcement and voted funds for its expenses for a second year.

Administration leaders and drys on both sides overwhelmed a group of wets, 272 to 41, and restored to the second deficiency bill $250,000, besides a reappropriation of $88,000 in unexpended funds for continuation of the commission.

SENATE TO VOTE

The item will be considered tomorrow by House and Senate conferees on the deficiency measure and an agreement is expected before noon so the Senate may take final action on the same day. Chairman Jones of the Senate Finance Committee has agreed to a demand by Senator Glass, Democrat, Virginia, for a separate vote in the Senate on the item.

When the measure was first before the House the allotment was stricken out on a point of order by Representative La Guardia, Republican, New York, on the ground that legal authority for the commission expired July 1. With the adoption today by the House of a resolution authorizing a continuation of the commission's inquiry all ground for a point of order against the appropriation was removed.

HOOVER DEFI

The Senate allowed $50,000 for the commission's expenses provided it confined its inquiry to prohibition. President Hoover then said he would procure private funds for the commission's other work.

Republican leaders today obtained adoption by the House of a resolution to authorize continuation of the commission's unrestricted law-enforcement inquiry.

A motion by Chairman Wood of the House Appropriations Committee to increase the allotment to $250,000 and reallot the unexpended balance then was approved.

SENATE PASSES BILL MODIFYING JONES LAW

WASHINGTON, July 2. (AP)—The Senate today passed a House bill modifying the Jones law to provide lighter penalties to petty offenders of the prohibition act.

The measure went through the Senate on motion of Senator Walsh, Democrat, Montana, without debate. It provides that those convicted of selling, making or transporting less than a gallon of liquor are subject to a penalty of not more than $500 and a jail sentence of not more than six months. The bill was recommended by the Hoover law-enforcement commission.

DEAF PAIR READ LIPS BY TELEVISION

Communication by Radio Adjunct Found Possible in New York Experiment

NEW YORK, July 2. (Exclusive) Silent speech for the deaf—a dream Alexander Graham Bell, the inventor of the telephone, never lived to see come true — became a reality through television today.

Miss Evelyn Parry, herself deaf, sat talking before the television board at the American Telephone and Telegraph Company laboratories here, while Miss Marie Pless, deaf teacher of lip reading, sat two miles away, "hearing" Miss Parry clearly through lip reading. They could see each other's faces as plainly as though they sat ten feet apart. They conversed for some minutes.

Representatives of press associations then replaced Miss Pless, in turn, and Miss Parry was able to read their lips plainly, giving answers to their questions.

Will Rogers Remarks:

MINNEAPOLIS, July 2.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Mr. Hoover has done lots of things, but he never trained circus animals before. Up to now the animals have had him hemmed up doing the tricks instead of them. Now he is a man that is quick to learn anything new, and the minute he finds out they are cowardly, why he will grab that sharp pole and pistol and he will have Congress lions and Senatorial hyenas jumping through more fire hoops and rolling more barrels than you ever heard of, and the audience will applaud and eat it up. They will dog it if he takes after 'em. Roosevelt dumped 'em into the Potomac with their clothes on. Sic 'em, Herb.

ITALY RAISES AUTO DUTY

Tariff Reprisal Effective

Import Rate on Motor Cars Increased Between 110 and 120 Per Cent

Small Cars Hardest Struck; Protection of Labor Given as Reason

ROME, July 2. (AP)—Italian import duties on automobiles have been raised between 110 and 120 per cent by royal decree, issued without previous notice.

The sudden blow at automobile imports, which went into effect on Monday but escaped notice for thirty-six hours, applies particularly to small cars. The decree raising the tariff was drawn up June 27. The Council of Ministers had met the day before without announcing any such step.

SIGNED AT ONCE

King Victor Emmanuel, Premier Mussolini and other government officials immediately signed the decree. The Parliament later will convert it into statutory law, but today it stands as an effective barrier to commerce in foreign motor cars.

Protection of home industries, including the vast Fiat enterprise at Turin, was responsible for the action, according to Minister of Corporations Bottai, who is mainly responsible for the radical tariff. He urged its enactment in the interest of home labor.

Small automobiles, such as the American Ford, are affected most. On this class of cars the increase is from 7000 lire to 16,000. On higher priced cars the percentage is somewhat less. One high-priced car is covered with a tariff increase of 8000 lire. The lire is worth about 5 cents American.

RETALIATION SEEN

Agents of the American manufacturers discount the explanations of domestic necessity and see in the move retaliation against the recently inaugurated tariff laws of the United States.

Among the differences between the old and new tariff was the separation of classes. The new schedule treats pleasure cars, trucks and tractors apart.

Duties on automobile parts henceforth will be at 55 and 45 lire per hundredweight.

FOSTER HELD AS KILLER

Lingle's Murder Charged

Leader of Gunmen Will be Returned to Chicago for Trial

Plot of Gangsters to Flee Jail Frustrated by Extra Guards

CHICAGO, July 2. (Exclusive)—Because he refused to talk in his cell in a Los Angeles jail, Frankie Foster, the dapper Chicago gangster, today was indicted by the Cook county grand jury. The indictment charged him with the murder of Alfred (Jake) Lingle, Chicago Tribune police reporter, who was slain June 9, last. It was the first completed action by the authorities in the case.

No official here has ever contended that Foster fired the shot that killed Lingle, but they have charged that he bought the death weapon and they maintain he knows into whose hands it passed, and that, therefore, he knows who fired the shot. Hence the indictment.

Extradition papers were prepared today by Assistant State's Attorney Q. J. Chott and will be rushed to the Pacific Coast by air mail as soon as Gov. Emmerson signs them.

Tactics and plans of Chicago gangsters received a severe setback here yesterday when the authorities suddenly blocked moves for an attempted jail break and arrested a sixth member of the group.

Information indicating the beer barons, with the aid of friends outside, were planning a dash for liberty from the City Jail, where they had been confined since their arrest late Monday night, was received by Chief Investigator Matthews of the District Attorney's office.

Investigation of the tip, according to Matthews, revealed that on Tuesday night four strangers were loafing around the Central Station with apparently great interest in the welfare of the five held in jail.

They are said to have made numerous inquiries as to the cells in which the gangsters were confined, the treatment they were receiving, and also asked information about visiting hours and other details which tended to arouse suspicion.

GUARD STRENGHTENED

When the five were taken from the cells yesterday preparatory to a trip to the District Attorney's office for questioning, Matthews had an extra number of officers on guard.

This precaution is now believed to have awed the outside aid and caused a sudden change of plan. Last night the entire group were in the stronger cells of the County Jail.

Matthews explained this as a precautionary measure, the County Jail being considered more difficult to escape from than the city prison, and stated he did not feel disposed to see any of the Chicago gangsters get their freedom until a full and complete investigation of their past records and movements in Los Angeles had been conducted.

The arrest and jailing of the sixth member came while the quintet, composed of Frankie Foster, alias Foreman; Marvin Hart, alias Apeler; Frankie Fisher, George Davis and Herman Walters, was in the booking quarters at Central Station.

HART'S BROTHER TAKEN

While the members of the gang were receiving their property, a dapper young man walked up to Hart and attempted to slip him a message. His actions were observed by the alert officers, but before they were able to make a move Fisher whispered: "Get out of here, while the gettin' is good."

Police officers then arrested the man and identified him as Lee Hart, young brother of Marvin and one of the four strangers observed around Central Station the night

VETERAN BILL DEADLOCKED

House and Senate Conferees Stand at Loggerheads on Measure for World War Pensions

WASHINGTON, July 2. (AP)—House and Senate conferees on the World War veterans' pension bill stood at odds tonight on the major differences in the legislation approved by their respective branches.

Hope was held by administration followers on both sides of the Capitol an agreement may be reached tomorrow in time to permit final Congressional action.

Standing firmly for the bill designed to meet approval of President Hoover, the House declined to accept the Senate amendments broadening its provisions to a scope comparable with those in the recently enacted Spanish American War veterans' pension law.

BOTH SIDES STAND PAT

The measure was sent to conference immediately, but neither side yielded and arrangements were made for resumption of discussions tomorrow. Should an agreement be reached and the measure finally approved in both Houses Congress would adjourn probably tomorrow night.

As the conference broke up, Representatives Rankin of Mississippi, ranking minority member of the House Veterans' Committee, and Jeffers, Democrat, Alabama, said they would vote for the Senate amendment to increase the maximum pension from $40 to $60 a month. Rankin sponsored the veterans' relief bill vetoed by President Hoover.

The House received the Senate measure shortly after noon, and considered it under a parliamentary rule to disagree to all the amendments. It was sent to conference by viva voce vote after a test vote of 194 to 116 was recorded.

TWO VIEWS OF QUESTION

In urging the House to disagree to the Senate amendments, Chairman Johnson of the House Veterans' Committee said if the Senate amendments, increasing the cost to the government by several million dollars annually, are accepted by the House, the measure undoubtedly will be disapproved by the President.

He contended responsibility for failure of enactment of a veterans' bill devolved on those who would force the House to accept the Senate amendments.

On the other hand, Representative O'Connor, Democrat, New York, charged President Hoover wrote the House bill, and had informed the House Republicans it was the only one he would receive. He declared it was dangerous for a Chief Executive to dictate to Congress what kind of legislation he desired.

CHICAGO GUNMEN FOILED IN PLOT TO FLEE JAIL

Police Scare Off "Outside" Aides; Foster Formally Accused of Murdering Lingle

before. His three companions have not been identified as yet, according to Matthews.

Hart was also revealed as one of the six members of the Chicago gang who eluded the apartment-house trap on Monday night. He was booked on suspicion of murder and joined the crowd as they marched in from up Broadway to the Hall of Justice.

All members of the gang were questioned yesterday by Matthews, Investigators Dudley and Scherping, of the State's Attorney's office in Chicago, who led the raid on the gang here, and Investigators Winn and King of the District Attorney's staff.

In addition to the six, Mrs. Foster, wife of the gang leader, who was arrested in the exclusive apartment-house, where the sextet lived and made plans for brewing and running beer along the entire Pacific Coast, was questioned and made a long statement on the departure from Chicago and the arrival here.

Some of the information she divulged was considered of very great importance by the investigators, but they declined to make it public.

Immediately after the woman had started talking, Matthews and Dudley telephoned to Chief Investigator Roche at Chicago, and it was learned that her information had thrown new light upon the daylight slaying there of Alfred (Jake) Lingle, newspaper reporter.

KILLER IDENTIFIED

"We cannot give the facts that Mrs. Foster has admitted," said Dudley, "but they are of the greatest importance in identifying beyond doubt the killer of Lingle. It is a matter that we have been attempting to clear up for six weeks in Chicago, and we have just telephoned it to the office there."

Coincident with this revelation came orders from Chicago to swear out a warrant for the arrest of Foster on a charge of murder, and ten minutes later the document was served on the dapper gunman.

The warrant was sworn to before Municipal Judge Ballard and accused Foster of committing a murder in Chicago on June 9.

When Investigator King asked Foster if he would waive reading of the accusatory paper, the well-dressed, stone-faced leader of the gang said he would like to hear it all.

SEEKS DELAY

"Just go ahead and read the whole thing," said Foster. "I want it to string out as long as possible."

When King had finished the formal arrest, Foster said: "Well, now I know why I am under arrest and what this is all about." He then revealed that he had been on somewhat of a diet at the City Jail and requested that he be provided with a "bite of lunch."

Foster didn't charge that the City Jail fare was not to his liking, but it was learned that the authorities, in their zeal to clear up the questioning of the different members of the gang, had forgotten to serve the noonday repast.

Outside of the information gleaned from the answers of Mrs. Foster, the investigators admitted that they had secured little from the gang members that would throw light on plans for the erection of a brewery here or the Lingle slaying.

Walters, brew master, admitted that he was brought here from Chicago to superintend the construction of a plant and the brewing of illicit beer, but declared that he knew nothing of gang activities connected with the Lingle murder.

QUESTIONS DODGED

Foster answered the customary questions, giving his name as Frank Foreman. He said that Foreman is his right name, with Foster and Frost as assumed. He further said that he lived at 900 South Serrano street, that he had black eyes and black hair.

A string of "noes" and "don't know" came from his lips to questions that concerned anything that would reveal his recent movements, while "I never heard of it" were his answers to queries concerning incidents in Chicago with which the investigators say he is thoroughly familiar.

The same code was followed by all the others, and denials were entered to "did you kill Lingle?" and "do you know who killed him?"

Investigators who conducted the questioning declined to give out the details of the various statements, but admitted that the prisoners were all tight-lipped, and "not saying anything." In all instances except that of Foster and his wife five minutes was the length of time each member spent in the secluded inquiry rooms.

Foster and his wife may be on their way back to Chicago by Friday night, according to Dudley. Extradition papers for the accused killer are expected to reach Sacramento today and tomorrow night will be forwarded here. They are en route to the California capital by air, according to advices from Chicago.

As soon as the documents, which will set out the formal charges of murder, reach here, they will be sent to Gov. Young for his signature. Dudley and Scherping said yesterday that they will start back with Foster just as soon as the papers are approved. Mrs. Foster is expected to accompany the party of her own volition, unless charges are preferred against her in the meantime.

OTHERS TO BE HELD

The five remaining members of the gang will be held in the County Jail until their records are carefully investigated, according to Matthews. They are all booked "held for investigation" and their fingerprints and photos have been sent to Sacramento and half a dozen other cities for comparison.

Requests came from authorities of many sections yesterday for complete descriptions of all the men held here, and Matthews said that he will attempt to keep the group in jail until the entire situation of their appearance in California and intended beer venture has been cleared up.

Two trunks described as the property of the Fosters were seized last night by the investigators at the apartment-house and their contents will be examined today.

From answers of Mrs. Foster to questions yesterday the authorities believe that certain letters and documents in the personal and expensive baggage will uncover the trail of the gang leader and his wife from the hour they left Chicago, June 11 at 11 a.m., until their arrest here.

PILES AND FISTULA

During the past several years the Pacific Coast Proctological Clinic, 1117-1124 Loew State Bldg., Los Angeles, have permanently relieved thousands of Hemorrhoids (piles) sufferers without surgery or interference with their daily activities.

Probably no other group of diseases are so prevalent and common to people of all ages, in all walks of life, as those of the rectal region. And although many do not know it, these troubles are the primary cause of many others which can be eliminated only by removing the cause.

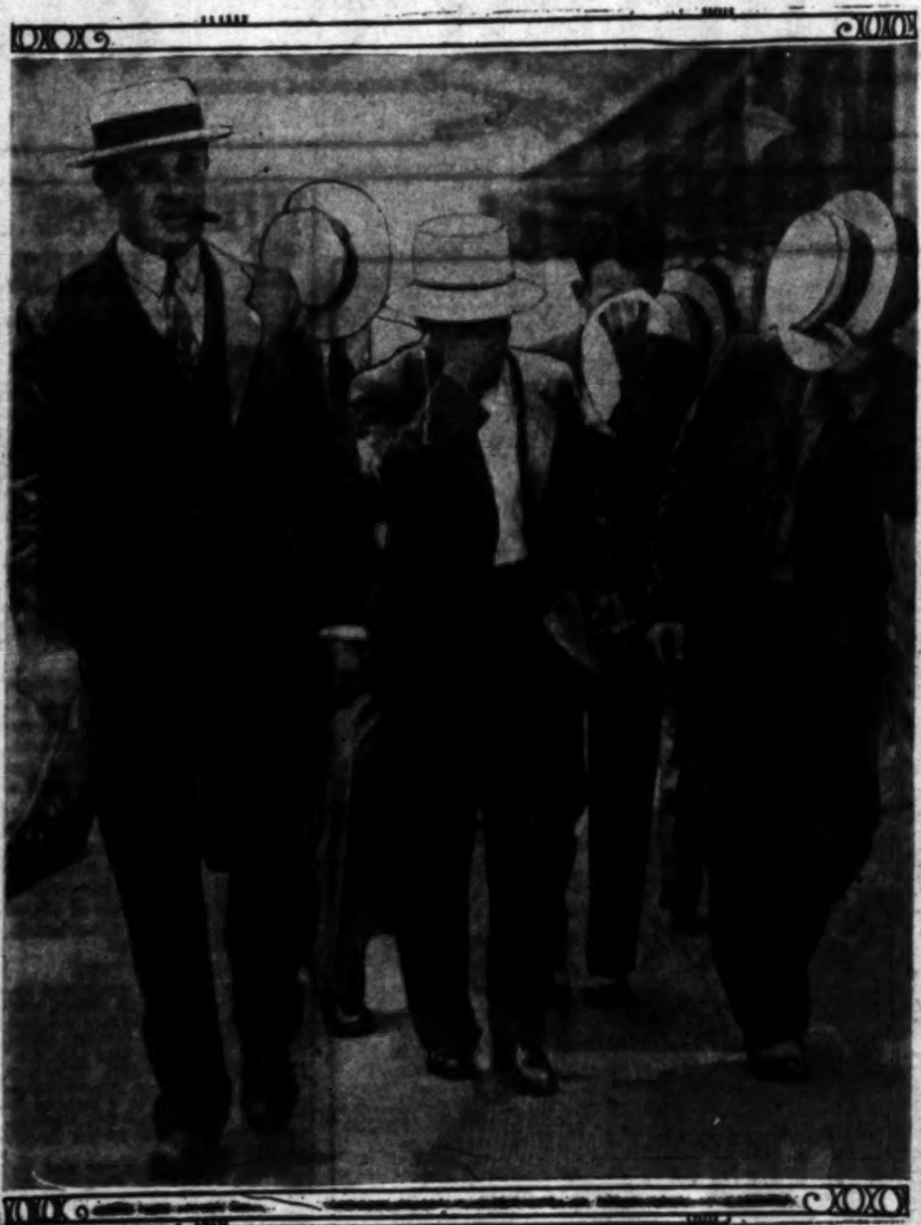
Bold Bad Men Shy As Violets Before Camera



They Just Can't Stand Limelight

Capt. Jess Winn of the District Attorney's investigation forces (left,) heading the band of Chicago gangsters in the transfer from the City to the County Jail yesterday.

LINGLE MYSTERY CLEARING

Events Moving Rapidly Toward Slaying Solution; Officer Suspended After Shooting

CHICAGO, July 2. (Exclusive)—Events leading up to the solution of the Lingle murder mystery are moving rapidly. The audacious attempt last night by two gangsters to kill Jack Zuta, vice-monger of the Moran-Aiello gang, and three of his companions as they were being driven down crowded State street by Police Lieutenant George Barker, was followed today by Barker's suspension from the force.

At the same time it was announced that Frank Foster, under arrest in Los Angeles, was indicted here by the grand jury. Assistant State's Attorney Chott was preparing extradition papers to bring Foster back to Chicago. The indictment was voted on the testimony of Coroner Bundesen and Peter Von Frantzius, a sporting-goods dealer, to the effect that the gun used to kill Alfred (Jake) Lingle, Tribune reporter, was sold by Von Frantzius to Foster.

ZUTA MARKED MAN

Zuta still is in hiding after he and Solly Vision, Albert Bratz and Miss Leona Bernstein escaped from Barker's car as he was standing in front of it exchanging gunfire with the two would-be assassins who drove alongside and poured bullets into the policeman's auto. He is being hunted both by gangsters and police after the affray which cost the life of one innocent bystander, Elbert Lusader, a street-car motorman, and seriously wounded another, Olaf Svenste, a night watchman.

Zuta is a marked man, police say, for reasons connected with the murder of Lingle June 9. He is reputed to have been the instigator of the plot to do away with the crime investigator.

An inquest was held over the body of Lusader, but no information was brought out there as to the motive of the attempt on Zuta's life.

BARKER'S STORY

Then Lieut. Barker told his story: "I was leaving the detective bureau at Eleventh and State streets shortly after 10 o'clock last night when Zuta approached me and told me he feared to leave the building, as he would be killed before he reached the Loop," Barker said.

"I told him I was going north and I would take him to some place in the Loop, where he could get a cab and Zuta, Albert Bratz, Solly Vision and the woman got into my car. Near Quincy street another car pulled to the right of my car and a bullet came through the windshield.

"I jammed my brakes and came to a stop, pulling out my pistol. One of the men in the other car was on the running board, firing at us. I jumped out and fired three times at them when Officer William Smith came running at me and was about to shoot me when I yelled to him that I was a policeman. Then he joined me and we started in pursuit of the other car but it sent back a smoke screen which completely hid it and we lost sight of it."

Lieut. David Schwartz and Sergt. John Ryan of the Central Station were on the scene a few seconds after the gun battle and started to give chase when the smoke screen enveloped them.

SUSPENSION EXPLAINED

Commissioner Alcock explained the suspension of Barker.

"I think it better that Barker be suspended while an investigation into the whole affair is made," he said. "It does not look good to me. I don't want to make any further comment until a fair and impartial investigation is made."

Chief of Detectives Norton said he didn't think Barker should have agreed to furnish Zuta and the others with protection without first notifying him. Barker said he understood the duty of any policeman to be to furnish protection upon request, no matter who the person may be.

Zuta and the others were arrested Monday afternoon after a telephone report to Deputy Chief of Detectives John Ryan that a gang of gunmen was making headquarters at 727 Lakeside Place. All were questioned by Chief Investigator Roche regarding their knowledge of the feud in progress at the time of the murder of Lingle. They were released at 10 o'clock.

This morning they were to have appeared before Judge McCarthy, but did not. Attorney Benjamin Cohen told the judge they feared Zuta would be killed if they came to court and the judge told Cohen to have them present Saturday morning if he had to bring them in an armored car.

"He may be killed before then," said Deputy Ryan, "if we don't find him before the hoodlums do."

APARTMENT BEER ROOMS UNEARTHED

Raid Supports Theory of Liquor Ring Organization Here by Mobsmen

Quickly following the arrest of the Chicago gangmen, and supporting the unofficial theory that the foundation for an organized liquor traffic had been established here, police raiders last night unearthed eight asserted "beer apartments" in an exclusive apartment-house at 158 South Berendo street.

In the eight apartments, which were said to have operated on a joint basis, were found 3000 gallons of beer, two well dressed women and three men, who were taken into custody on charges of liquor possession.

The raids and arrests last night were made by a squad of officers from the Wilshire district lead by Detective Lieutenants Rudolph and Jordan.

Primarily, the officers had been detailed to search for additional members of the Chicago band believed still to be lurking in the city. However, they had also received instructions to look for any information that might be uncovered indicating that a nucleus for a beer-running organization, such as has been said to have been planned by the gangmen, actually is in existence.

No evidence was found last night connecting the eight apartments raided with the Chicago mobsmen, but this did not deter the police from closely questioning the two women and three men concerning any knowledge they may have of the gangsters and their reported intention to "organize" Los Angeles after the manner of Chicago.

DIARY RECITES SHIP BOMBING

Moreover, from the copy of it forwarded here officials are impressed with it as apparently a genuinely kept record.

According to the diary, the writer of it was one of four men who for pay from an unnamed source shipped on the Cyclops and at Barbadoes secreted dynamite around the engine room. These charges were exploded at 2 o'clock in the morning, it stated, after the collier had cleared for Baltimore.

TWO ESCAPE

Just before the explosion the four conspirators attempted to leave in a small boat, but only the diarist and one companion succeeded. The other two delayed too long and were lost.

The two in the small boat cruised around until daylight, when they were picked up by a large vessel manned by a crew of about 700, who spoke "a foreign language." This vessel had been hovering in the vicinity and, it is asserted, was careful to pick up all debris from the wreck and dispose of it. The nationality of the vessel was not disclosed, but the officers treated the two conspirators well and the vessel sailed for eleven days to a European port, where the two left the ship. Since then one of the men has died, leaving only the diarist as the one for whom search can be made. That search is now in progress.

Considerable doubt as to the soundness of the story contained in the diary is expressed by some naval officers on account of the description given by the diarist as to how he and his unnamed companion escaped from the Cyclops just before the explosion. According to these officers, it would have been virtually impossible for the two men to have escaped from the Cyclops in a small boat while she was under way without being swamped. These officers contend further that the men probably would have been unable to launch the boat without discovery. At the same time, it is conceded that if the boat was launched the two men would have gotten away.

OTHER PROBABILITIES

Other "improbabilities" advanced against the story are that there are no reports of a loose ship around the West Indies in the spring of 1918 and that it was extremely unlikely that one could get through the Allied naval cordon. Further it is argued that no ship could probably dispose of all the wreckage while an intensive search of the entire region by American and Allied vessels at the time disclosed not a vestige of the missing collier.

In addition it is considered improbable that in the twelve intervening years none of the crew of the mysterious rescue ship would talk of his experiences or at least hint of information concerning the Cyclops. It is pointed out that many of the officers and men of German raiders and submarines have talked and written freely of their exploits since the war.

Nevertheless the evidence on its face has impressed officials who admit all the improbabilities from the standpoint of mere reasoning.

CRUISERS WILL BE FLAGSHIPS

Change in Policy Announced by Navy Heads

Commander-in-Chief to Have Greater Mobility

Battleship Strength in Line to Be Unimpaired

WASHINGTON, July 2. (AP)—So the commander-in-chief may move about among his forces to direct maneuvers and yet retain the full battleship strength in the line, the Navy has announced a new policy whereby fast 10,000-ton cruisers are to become flagships.

This was decided upon before the London naval conference, when it became apparent efforts would be made to limit the number of capital ships. Under the old policy, if a commander-in-chief were to withdraw from the line, a battleship thus would have been removed from the combat.

With cruisers as flagships, commanders will have the advantage of about thirty-two knots speed against a maximum of twenty-two on a battleship as well as the ability to withdraw because of an emergency and yet retain the full battleship strength in the combat.

The Chicago, now under construction at the Mare Island navy yard, will replace the battleship Texas as flagship of the commander-in-chief of the United States Fleet.

The Augusta, building at Newport News, Va., will supplant the battleship Wyoming as flagship of the scouting fleet commander, and the Houston, already commissioned, will become flagship of the Asiatic fleet commander, relieving the obsolete Pittsburgh, which now is twenty-five years of age.

The cruiser Indianapolis, being built at Puget Sound, has been designated relief flagship of the commander-in-chief of the United States Fleet.

"It's the Talk Of Our Whole Neighborhood"

"Sargon is the talk of our neighborhood, and a household word among us," recently stated Mrs. Georgia Fisher, 1706 E. 39th St., Los Angeles.

MRS. GEORGIA FISHER

"I had gastric indigestion for four years. My left side pained me day and night; the least unexpected noise startled me, and I was so weak and lifeless I wanted to lie down all the time. I was habitually constipated; my liver was out of order, and my complexion was awful. I'd taken so many medicines without relief that I didn't expect much of Sargon, but it wasn't long before my improvement was so great I was like a different woman. Every ailment I had is entirely gone; my appetite is fine and I've gained so much in weight and strength that my friends and neighbors are all talking about it.

"Sargon Pills beat anything I ever took for liver trouble and constipation! They have regulated me perfectly, and my complexion has cleared up wonderfully. It is not only a pleasure, but my duty, to recommend this wonderful new Sargon treatment."

Sargon may be obtained at all Owl Drug Stores and Liggett Drug Stores in Los Angeles and other cities.—[Advertisement.

JUDGES DECIDE BILLINGS'S FATE

Recommendation on Pardon Plea Sent Governor

No Hint Given Out as to Nature of Opinion

Report Also Will Determine Mooney's Future

SAN FRANCISCO, July 2. (Exclusive)—The recommendation of the State Supreme Court on the application for pardon of Warren K. Billings was completed today and sent to Los Angeles for the attention of Gov. Young on his return from the governors' conference at Salt Lake City. Billings is serving a life sentence in Folsom prison for the 1916 Preparedness Day bombing outrage here, and Thomas J. Mooney is serving a similar term in San Quentin prison for the same crime. Gov. Young has indicated he will act upon Mooney's pardon application in accordance with the action taken in the Billings case, which he referred to the Supreme Court.

REPORTS CONFLICT

Members of the court declined to commit themselves regarding their individual recommendations, saying "any further information must be given out by the Governor."

One line of a statement issued by Chief Justice Waste on behalf of the members was taken by some to indicate a unanimous decision, although reports have been current in State circles the justices had divided, four for pardon and three against.

SOME DELAY LIKELY

While Gov. Young has stated he expects to act upon the Mooney and Billings applications as soon as the Supreme Court has made its recommendations to him, there may be a delay because the advisory pardon board to which the Mooney application was referred by the Governor has not yet reported to him. The members of the board are Lieut.-Gov. Carnahan, Atty.-Gen. Webb, James A. Johnston, director of the State Department of Penology, and Wardens Holohan and Smith of San Quentin and Folsom prisons.

REPORT NOT RECEIVED YET BY GOV. YOUNG

Gov. Young last night had failed to receive the copy of the recommendation of the State Supreme Court on the pardon application of Warren K. Billings, convicted with Thomas J. Mooney as the bombers of the San Francisco Preparedness Day parade in 1916.

"I have not the slightest intimation of what the report contains," Gov. Young said last night, "and will not until I receive it here. I understand that the documents were mailed in Sacramento Wednesday and they ought to be in my office here in a day or two.

"However, with the Fourth of July coming as a holiday it may be that I will not have the report until the 5th. Also if the report is of any length at all, I will want a day or two to look it over before taking any action."

PORTLAND (Me.) July 2. (AP)—Lieut. Yantis H. Taylor landed his army pursuit plane at the Portland Airport at 6:25 p.m., E.S.T., today, completing a one-day flight from Laredo, Tex.

Lieut. Taylor left the Texas field at 1:10 a.m., C.S.T., and made five stops.

The 2100-mile flight was covered in fifteen hours' actual flying time at an average speed of 140 miles an hour. Elapsed time was sixteen hours and fifteen minutes.

Taylor made stops at Kelly Field, Texas; Scott Field, Illinois; Muskogee, Okla., St. Louis, Dayton, O., and Middletown, Pa.

He said he will stay here a few days and then return to Texas, making the return flight in easy stages.

BRIDEGROOM STRICKEN DURING WEDDING FETE

RENO, July 2. (AP)—Sudden attack of "appendicular colic" suffered by the bridegroom, broke up the festivities at the wedding party given by Howard Lee and his bride, the former Eugenia Bankhead Hoyt Butt, a few minutes after the wedding ceremony was performed last night by Judge Bartlett in the presence of twenty friends. Physicians who attended Lee and ordered him to bed after he collapsed at the home of Mrs. V. M. R. Agnew, formerly of New York, where the wedding took place, said today his condition is not serious and the honeymoon may not be delayed more than a day or two.

MEXICO MINES MAY CLOSE

MEXICO CITY, July 2. (AP)—Three towns, La Paz, Matehuala and Santa Maria, will be seriously affected if applications made by mines in San Luis Potosi to be permitted to shut down are granted. The falling price of silver is the cause of the applications. More than 4000 miners will be affected.

SAGE BOY BIOGRAPHER VIEWS LIFE

Treatise on Hoover Also Handy Guide to Answer of World Problems

NEW YORK, July 2. (Exclusive) The 11-year-old biographer of President Herbert Hoover, William J. Marsh, Jr., of New Milford, Ct., is giving his growing public an opportunity to become better acquainted with him.

He has brought his book to New York with him and on examination it proves to be more than a life of Herbert Hoover. It is, in fact, a ready guide book to most, if not all, of the problems of life and government.

The facts of the President's life prove to be handy pegs on which this knowing young man hangs his words of wisdom.

Would you like to know how to bring about world peace? Turn to Page 28 of "Our President, Herbert Hoover," by William J. Marsh, Jr. You will find: "Now wars are a thing of the past, people are more civilized, they have decided that it is peace we all want. There is no sense in having wars between countries."

If you want to know how to bring up your children, William will tell you: "A good mother don't spend her time at dances and parties; she spends her time teaching her boys to be good."

If you are given to social trifling, better take care. "Society is all right for lazy people, but persons who have brains can think of more important things to do."

And as for women who smoke, "Let me tell you, mothers," says William, pounding the lesson home, "If you didn't smoke so many cigarettes, it would be more to your credit."

DAM FUND APPROVAL DUE TODAY

Congress Expected to Take Final Action on First Appropriation

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, July 2. (Exclusive)—Congress is expected to give final approval tomorrow to the initial appropriation of $10,660,000 for Boulder Dam.

Senate and House conferees are to meet in the morning to iron out the last of the differences in the second deficiency bill, of which the Boulder Dam item is a part, with prospects that it will agree on a time for both branches to adopt the conference report before adjourning for the day. This will complete enactment of the measure and send it to the President for his signature.

ARIZONA COMMISSION SAYS SUIT INEVITABLE

PHOENIX (Ariz.) July 2. (AP)—The Arizona Colorado River Commission, meeting here today, decided enactment by Congress of the initial appropriation for construction of Boulder Dam left no alternative but for this State to bring suit to protect its asserted rights in the Colorado River.

Charles B. Ward, chairman of the Arizona river body, announced all matters connected with the suit will in the future be handled through K. Berry Peterson, Attorney-General.

ELECTRIC BULBS CHASE DISEASE

Ultra-Violet Rays Used in Cornell Experiments

Ordinary-Size House Lights Transmit Health

Prevention of Illness to Be Field for Study

ITHACA (N. Y.) July 2. (AP)—Ultra-violet light from ordinary-size house electric bulbs is curing disease at Cornell University.

This experiment, made public today, is the latest step in artificial sunlight, a practical forecast of return of the time when modern man may regain the constant ultra-violet environment under which the human race developed.

LIKE CAVE MEN

The cave man got his ultra-violet out in the open. The Cornell work indicates his descendants may get it from ordinary-size electric lights.

The Cornell experiment clarifies a prediction hazarded recently by a few advanced illuminating engineers that even in the extremely small amounts of ultra-violet known to be produced by ordinary tungsten filaments there is sufficient for health without risk of overexposure.

At Cornell Dr. George H. Maughan has been raising chickens under electric light bulbs, the glass of which does not transmit ultra-violet. Without exception these chickens failed to grow more than half size, were unable to stand long, became greatly deformed and finally died of rickets unless given special care.

LIGHT NEAR FEED

In adjoining pens were other chickens raised the same way in every detail except one. The single difference was one small electric light of glass that transmits ultra-violet. It was placed near their feed boxes so that the chickens spent considerable time near the seemingly feeble ray.

Without exception these chickens developed in full health. Dr. Maughan said the small light even may have irradiated the chicken feed with the precious ultra-violet.

More remarkable still was curing of chickens with rickets simply by keeping them under one of these small bulbs of the special glass. Severe rickets was cured by holding the legs in the perpendicular rays of one of these lamps having a reflector, the time required being only 20 minutes a day.

NEW FIELD OPEN

The big thing in ultra-violet, says Dr. Maughan, has scarcely been touched. That is its possibilities for prevention of disease. Thus far it has been used mostly after illness started.

He is measuring the effects on chickens and rats so that the calibrations thus obtained can be translated into terms of human health, particularly the protection of babies from rickets. He says the results indicate that when the small lights are perfected poultry raisers may save millions of dollars by keeping their chickens healthy in winter without expensive or even special equipment.

A more interesting fact is that the eggs from such hens contain more vitamin D and for that reason are better human food.

He operates the lights on both house currents and on special lighting systems that farmers use about their barns. Aside from the glass, these new lamps are made so that their filaments burn a little hotter than ordinary, and at present last about one-third as long.

UNIVERSITY SUSPENDS STUDENT HURT FLYING

ANN ARBOR (Mich.) July 2. (AP) University of Michigan officials have added discipline to injury for James D. Morton of Douglas, Wyo., who is the first student to be punished under the rule which prohibits operation of airplanes without permission.

Morton, a student flyer, failed to obtain permission to practice in his plane and the university first learned that he was flying when he fell into Devil's Lake, near Adrian, Mich., on May 31, and suffered fractures of several ribs and other injuries. He was suspended for the first semester of next year.

The antiairplane rule is an extension of the regulation which forbids student operation of motor vehicles. Those seeking pilot's licenses, however, may obtain permission to fly.

Omahan Named Kiwanis Chief

ORMSBY DENIES GRAFT CHARGES

Los Angeles Attorney Takes Stand in Own Behalf

OAKLAND, July 2. (Exclusive)—Taking the witness stand to defend himself against graft charges, Cromwell L. Ormsby, Los Angeles attorney, emphatically denied all assertions of soliciting, collecting or paying protection money for Chinese lotteries or illicit liquor operations. While testifying, however, Ormsby disclosed information termed "interesting," regarding the workings of liquor rings.

In response to questions he said it is the usual custom for an employee of a bootlegger who goes to jail for his employer to be paid $5 per day for each day he is in jail.

POSSESSION ARGUED ONE POINT IN LIQUOR LAWS

NEW YORK, July 2. (AP)—The contention that possession of liquor in itself is not unlawful was argued before a United States Commissioner here on behalf of a patron arrested in a night club raid. Frederick R. Coudert, Sr., attorney, appearing for Raymond Ackerman, who was arrested in a prohibition raid on the Hollywood Restaurant last April, pointed out that the United States Supreme Court recently held the purchase of intoxicating liquor is not unlawful and contended that possession without intention to sell, manufacture or transport, therefore, cannot be unlawful.

"To tell a man that he may lawfully purchase liquor, but that once having obtained the possession of it he is committing a crime by such possession," he said, "is to turn the law into one of those ridiculous farces which would have been so admirably exploited by Gilbert and Sullivan and to which Will Rogers makes such pertinent allusions.

"If it were true that the mere possession of liquor, without evidence that it was a step in the transportation, manufacture or sale, were unlawful, then the Volstead Act has transcended the limits of the Constitution and is pro anto unconstitutional."

Commissioner O'Neill ruled that other authorities have held possession of liquor to be prima facie evidence of intent to sell and held Ackerman in $500 bail for trial. Coudert said he is prepared to carry his argument to the United States Supreme Court, if necessary.

JOYFUL GERMAN FACTIONS FIGHT

Evacuation Festivities End in Facist-Red War

BERLIN, July 2. (AP)—Nine persons were injured today when several thousand Fascists and Communists engaged in a violent wind-up of evacuation festivities in Berlin and several Rhineland towns.

More than 100 arrests occurred during the disturbances. Police used their sticks freely. The capital was the scene of noisy demonstrations at dawn. Shouting "Germany, wake up!" large numbers of Fascists roamed the streets and gave battle to Communists wherever they met and recognized them.

Police broke up these roving bands, belaboring them severely and arresting forty persons.

RESOURCES OVER THIRTY-SEVEN MILLION DOLLARS

HECKE APPEALS TO VINEYARDIST

Individual Grower Urged to Sign Up Acreage

Only Week Left for Taking Federal Offer

Fitts at Fresno Sidetracks Campaign for Cause

SACRAMENTO, July 2. (AP)—With but seven days remaining in which to sign up necessary acreage to put into effect plans of the Federal Farm Board and the Grape Control Board for handling the California grape crop, G. H. Hecke, Director of Agriculture, today issued a plea to growers to sign contracts which will make Federal aid possible.

Eighty-five per cent of the State's 550,000 acres of grapes must be contracted to make the Federal plan effective. A sign-up campaign is being conducted throughout the State and will close the 9th inst.

UP TO GROWERS

"Are the growers going to safeguard their industry and their individual investments," asked Hecke, "or are they going to jeopardize the results of years of toil?

"America now trusts the growers to the tune of millions of dollars, invested by the Federal Farm Board in the grape and raisin situation. Uncle Sam has come to our assistance. He will help us if we give him the opportunity by helping ourselves.

WORSE TO COME

"The situation is bad enough now—we admit that, but what will happen after the 9th inst. if the 85 per cent of the more than 550,000 acres of grapes and raisins, necessary to make the contracts effective, is not signed up? What will be the state of the industry as a whole, faced with a surplus of between 300,000 and 400,000 tons?

"The plan presented to the growers by the Federal Farm Board is the best that can be devised by human ingenuity," Hecke concluded.

CAMPAIGN MACHINERY LOANED BY FITTS

FRESNO, July 2. (Exclusive)—Buron Fitts, District Attorney of Los Angeles and a candidate for the Republican gubernatorial nomination, has offered to forego his own political campaign in Fresno county and to turn his working organization over to the California grape-control campaign until the close of the latter's drive on the 9th inst.

The offer was made at grape-control headquarters by Harry A. Wishard, Fresno attorney and manager of the Fitts campaign in the San Joaquin Valley. Here for a brief conference with friends and advisers, Fitts gave orders to subordinate his own campaign to that of the grape grower.

CANADIANS ANGERED BY BORDER QUIZ

American Inspectors at Windsor, Ont., Question 2600 Bent on Picnic

WINDSOR (Ont.) July 2. (AP)—Indignation was expressed in border cities today at United States immigration officers who questioned 2600 local citizens as they were about to embark on two steamers yesterday for picnic grounds in the United States.

Between fifty and sixty persons were refused permission to make the trip.

Protests against the actions of the American inspectors, who conduct their work at the Windsor government dock by government permission, have been filed with the Dominion government at Ottawa by Col. S. M. Robinson, Member of Parliament, and with the United States Department of Immigration at Washington by C. F. Bellman, general manager of the steamship line operating boats between here and Tashmoo Park and Put-In-Bay, Mich.

Other protests will be filed by the Canadian Legion and the Sons of England Society, members of these organizations said.

Guards Rushed to Curb Strike Rioting in Spain

SAN SEBASTIAN (Spain) July 2. Civil guards were rushed today to the near-by towns of Renteria, Pasaged and Herrera, in which strikes paralyzed business and traffic.

The Herrera strikers seized a street car, ejected the crew and passengers and wrecked the car. Mounted guards charged into the demonstrators injuring several.

In the other towns the strikers confined themselves to walking the streets. With extra guards on hand no serious consequences are expected.

Plane and Mail Burn in Crash

CHICAGO, July 2. (AP)—The second section of the New York-Chicago air mail, with Pilot Robert P. Hopkins at the stick, crashed near Middlebury, Ind., at 5 a.m. today.

National Air Transport offices here learned the plane was flying low and probably struck communication wires, crashing and burning. Plane and 850 pounds of mail were destroyed, but the pilot escaped without injury.

NEWSPRINT ROW HITS AT CANADA

Washington Urged to Keep Eye on Combination

Price Increase May Drive Buyers to Alaska

Coercion Charged Against Two Premiers

WASHINGTON, July 2. (AP)—Asserting coercion by two Canadian Prime Ministers had been responsible for a $5-a-ton increase in the cost of newsprint paper, the Federal Trade Commission recommended to the Senate today development of Alaskan mills to offset a further impending price rise.

The commission report to the Senate on its newsprint paper investigation cited a contract between a group of newspapers and the International Paper Company. This contract included a price increase of about $5 a ton, and resulted from agreements between the group's representatives, the International Paper Company and Prime Ministers L. A. Taschereau of Quebec and G. Howard Ferguson of Ontario, the report said.

"The International Paper Company," the commission said, "was induced to agree to an increase in price of newsprint by threats of disciplinary action on the part of the Prime Ministers."

SELL 20 PER CENT

The commission found that although the International sells only about 20 per cent of the newsprint paper used in the United States, "other domestic manufacturers generally follow its lead in making newsprint prices."

Of the existing Canadian paper mill combine, the commission said if such a combination operated in the United States "it would be in violation of the antitrust laws, including the antitrust provisions of the Wilson Tariff Act."

Close observation of the Canadian combination was suggested to Congress "with a view to remedial action if any agency is found to exist, or is created within the United States for the enforcement of such activities as may be contrary to the antitrust laws."

ALASKAN SUPPLY CHEAPER

Quoting the 1921 price of $62 a ton for newsprint, the commission said the proposed Canadian increase would establish a price of $67 a ton, whereas Alaskan paper could be delivered to New Orleans through the Panama Canal for $58 and to Chicago for $64.60.

"It would seem," the report stated, "that Alaskan newsprint should compete with eastern United States and Canadian mills well up the Atlantic Coast," adding a suggestion that Alaskan power sites and timber lands be developed and that the government continue its experiments with the manufacture of paper from farm waste products.

Explaining no company now operating in the eastern portion of the United States has a sufficient proportion of the business to constitute a monopoly, the commission discussed "the possible monopoly or tendency toward monopoly" of the Crown-Zellerbach Corporation in Pacific States.

PROMOTION FOR AVIATOR ANNOUNCED

Kingsford-Smith Hears He's Wing Commander on Arrival at Chicago

CHICAGO, July 2. (AP)—Charles Kingsford-Smith and the three men with whom he recently flew across the Atlantic arrived in Chicago late today for a quiet reception, a brief radio broadcast and a good night's sleep.

Their plane, the Southern Cross, was met east of Chicago by an escort of army planes and guided to Sky Harbor, where Kingsford-Smith paid an aviator's respects to the Hunter brothers in their endurance plane, which has broken all records for sustained flight. Then it swung back a couple of miles south to Curtiss Field, where it was placed in a hangar for the night. Mechanics at once began inspecting and refueling it for the flight to the Pacific Coast tomorrow.

The flyers were escorted to their hotel by a committee in charge of the national air race, which hopes to bring the Southern Cross crew here for the tourneys next fall.

At a buffet luncheon at the hotel the flyer was informed the Australian government has brevetted him wing commander as a result of his trans-Atlantic flight a week ago. His rank had been squadron leader in the Australian air force.

He immediately cabled the Prime Minister of Australia his "deep appreciation" of the honor and recognition accorded him by his government. The rank of wing commander is the equivalent of the army rank of lieutenant-colonel.

Father Shoots Son in Quarrel

VANCOUVER (Wash.) July 2. (AP) Charles Beletski, 56 years of age, is in a hospital here today recovering from two bullet wounds inflicted during a quarrel by his 87-year-old father, Alex Beletski. The wounds are in his right breast and left shoulder.

The son told officers he had knocked his father down three times last night before the aged man shot him with a revolver. He blamed himself for the quarrel.

RANCHMAN SOUGHT AS WOMAN'S SLAYER

SACRAMENTO, July 2. (AP)—J. H. Baxter, Roseville ranch foreman, is being sought as the murderer of Mrs. Margaret Carrigan, 40 years of age, in the latter's apartment here today. Darline Carrigan, the victim's 17-year-old daughter, saw Baxter kill her mother, police authorities said, and narrowly escaped a similar fate. The authorities declare jealousy and unrequited love to be the motives for the act.

TWO PENNSYLVANIA BANKS CLOSE DOORS

CONNELLSVILLE (Pa.) July 2. (AP)—The Union National Bank of Connellsville failed to open today. The Title and Trust Company of Western Pennsylvania was taken over by the State Department of Banking yesterday.

On April 9 the Union National Bank had resources of $814,504, capital of $50,000 and $10,000 surplus.

AUTO CRASH INJURIES CAUSE CHILD'S DEATH

CASA GRANDE (Ariz.) July 2. (AP) Beverly Bone, 11 years of age, of Bellflower, Cal., is dead tonight, the result of injuries suffered in an automobile accident thirty-seven miles west of Casa Grande on the Gila Bend Road.

SMOOT AND HIS BRIDE ON HONEYMOON

Veteran Senator of Utah and Widow United at Salt Lake City Temple

SALT LAKE CITY, July 2. (AP)—Senator Reed Smoot of Utah and his bride, formerly Mrs. Alice Taylor Sheets, Salt Lake City church and society leader, are honeymooning at Provo, Utah, the Senator's home, for a few days before sailing from San Francisco for Honolulu on the 19th inst.

They were married here today in the Latter Day Saints Temple, the ceremony being performed by Heber J. Grant, president of that church, in the presence of a few intimate friends and church authorities. The nuptials in the temple required two hours.

Mrs. Sheets, a widow since 1918, wore a white crepe gown and coat, with accessories to match. She carried a bouquet of roses and lilies of the valley. Mr. Smoot wore plain street clothes. No reception was held after the ceremony.

Packers' Decree Quashing Urged

DENVER (Colo.) July 2. (AP)—Suspension of the packers' consent decree, which prohibits packer ownership of stockyards or packers engaging in retail distribution of meat, was advocated today by the National Live Stock Exchange in resolutions adopted and forwarded to the President and the United States Attorney-General.

Another resolution adopted in the closing session of the annual convention called upon poultry owners to engage in a vigorous campaign for the eradication of tuberculosis in poultry.

Texas Negro to Die for Attack

BEAUMONT (Tex.) July 2. (AP)—After eighteen minutes' deliberation a criminal District Court jury today sentenced Rainey Williams, 38 years of age, Negro, to death in the electric chair on a charge of criminally attacking Joyce Kellar, Negro woman, on the night of May 1.

WAGE STRIKE DISRUPTS FISHER BODY COMPANY

FLINT (Mich.) July 2. (AP) — A street demonstration and parade today revealed some employees of the Fisher Body Corporation had walked out yesterday in protest against a readjustment of wage rates. It was estimated 2000 persons were on the streets. One woman was arrested but subsequently released as other women in the crowd raised a vigorous protest.

Corporation officials said "not more than seventy-five men actually walked out" yesterday, but their absence broke the lines and prevented others from working. Between 3000 and 4000 persons have been employed in the plant.

PRISON CHAIR PLANT DESTROYED BY FIRE

FRANKFORT (Ky.) July 2. (AP)—The Frankfort chair factory, worked by convict labor, was practically destroyed here late today by fire that spread to the shirt factory and threatened the broom factory. More than 800 convicts working in the buildings left in orderly fashion, and reformatory officials said they had no reports of anyone being injured. The buildings are near the State reformatory and are surrounded by a wooden stockade.

HOOVER LIKELY TO TAKE HAND IN HUSTON AFFAIR

WASHINGTON, July 2. (AP)—Congressional Republicans believe President Hoover is preparing to take a hand in the controversy over the continuation of Claudius Huston as chairman of the Republican National Committee.

There is persistent gossip in the inner circles of the party that Mr. Hoover intends to confer with his party pilot before the meeting of the national committee officers called for next Monday by Huston.

Meanwhile, there is no intimation from Huston that he intends to resign. Despite some agitation against him, his friends are confident he has no immediate intention of resigning unless requested to do so.

The calling of the party conference on Monday by Huston has served to bring the agitation to a head and there were strong intimations tonight that definite action was in prospect.

Attractive Radio Programs Scheduled Today

The Times Forum, KHJ, at 1:30 p.m. Fred Hogue, editorial staff writer of The Times. Worldwide news at 12:30, 4:45 and 10 p.m.

BY JOHN S. DAGGETT

What can be expected of radio was briefly commented upon today by Columbia's ace announcer during a broadcast of the endurance flyers. "You will now hear from an army plane above the endurance flyers," said the announcer. A long silence ensued and the announcer then returned to advise the listeners-in that the army plane microphone had fallen out of the ship. Fortunately the announcer kept his balance.

When one contemplates the speed at which both radio and a microphone can travel through the air it can be plainly seen that a radio set need not be absolutely necessary to know that the flyers are 'still up in the air' if the heavens begin raining microphones and other radio paraphernalia.

ON YOUR DIAL TODAY

KHJ at 9 o'clock this morning and again at 3 this afternoon brings the Columbia system in further broadcasts of the endurance flyers if they are still in the air at those times. At 6:30 tonight Lindsay MacHarrie and Gene Byrnes promise to romp, sing and patter with gags and wide-open comedy through thirty minutes of a fast dance program that will make you smile and dance, too. At 7 tonight another Raymond Paige concert repertoire promising an excellent after-dinner period. Coasting in on a blare of Fourth of July music and fireworks, 8 finds the Merrymakers with plenty of patriotic and idiotic fervor. Belle Oliver will sing the "Woman in the Shoe" in Dutch dialect; Harry Hume brings a burlesque on a small-town grand opera, while the Three Sisters, singing trio, chortle "Here Comes Emily Brown." Aunty MacKasser gives her little children a break on how to make a Fourth of July birthday cake. Turn your dial for a barrage or two.

KFI at 6 o'clock includes a new song written by Irving Berlin especially for this hour. It will be announced and sung by Lewis James, tenor. Other features will be a half-hour of dance music and a review of the compositions of the French composer, Debussy. At 7:45 lovers of concert music will dial the Standard Symphony Hour, while both 8:45 and 9:30 find the North American Ensemble and the Packard Concert Orchestra, with guest soloists. A concert string ensemble at 10:30 will be heard under the baton of Hans Whippler.

CIRCUS PROGRAM

KECA at 5 o'clock tonight brings P. T. Barnum as the honor character dramatized in the Arco Birthday Party Program. Besides the playlet the musical program will include "I Went to the Animals Fair," "Circus Days," "Old Black Joe" and "Swanee River." At 5:30 a repertoire built of fascinating rhythms and captivating melodies of the South will come over the NBC, while at 10 William Kalani, Hawaiian baritone, will be heard in thirty minutes of Hawaiian composition.

KNX weaves plenty of smiles with plenty of good music tonight. At 6:30 the KNX Trio in excellent dinner music, then Prof. Schnitzel in ten minutes of impossible comment on current topics, followed by Jack Carter, the Boy from London and the Piano Twins in a melee of comedy patter and piano duets. At 8 Hiram and Simpson, a rube act, take their first evening time—they'll gather at "Yap's Crossing."

KFWB has two features this evening. At 7:30 p.m. Dr. Lee De Forest, "The Father of Radio," will discuss the miraculous growth of radio, tell of its "growing pains" and such. At 8 tonight Carmelita, Spanish soprano, and Saldana's Castilians in thirty minutes of tangos and nothing but—except charming vocal interpolations by Carmelita. At 8:30 Edward Murphey inaugurates a series of "brain tickling" detective yarns worth the dial of any Sherlock Holmes.

The Times Forum on KHJ at 1:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon pleased radioland. Ruth Pitts, lyric soprano, accompanied by Leigh Harline at the piano, sang three numbers that brought her back into the heart of the listeners-in, while George Kerr, with his mandolin, included both the "Lustspiel Overture" and "La Traviata" in an excellent repertoire. Not to be outdone, Manuel Dehesa, Spanish baritone, brought old Spain into the picture with "La Paloma" and "Cielita Linda."

FORMER BISHOP DENIES BOOTLEGGING CHARGE

NEW YORK, July 2. (AP)—Bishop Charles Mrsena of the Czecho-Slovakian old Catholic orthodox church in the United States, and nine co-defendants, including two corporations, pleaded not guilty today to charges of bootlegging sacramental liquors. The case was put on the trial calendar for the 7th inst. Bail was fixed for the former bishop at $5000, and for the others at from $1500 to $2500. The corporate defendants are the B. R. B. Trucking Company and the Italian American Vineyard Company.

SENATE BANK QUIZ WILL START IN FALL

WASHINGTON, July 2. (AP)—Senate leaders said today investigation of the stock market and national banking system will not be started until fall. Senator Glass, Democrat, Virginia, heads the committee which was ordered several weeks ago to study the banking situation. He said he will proceed on the original program to begin the hearings next fall.

TELECHRONOMETERS ORDERED REMOVED

OLYMPIA (Wash.) July 2. (AP)—The telechronometer, a measuring device placing telephone conversations on a time basis to determine subscribers' rates, was ordered removed from Everett today by the Department of Public Works. The order said the system is inefficient and unsuitable for use there.

The telechronometers, installed eight years ago, have been the subject of numerous litigations, in which city officials, backed by about half the telephone subscribers, attempted to force the West Coast Telephone Company to discard the machines.

THE EVERGREEN PLAYGROUND

The greatest Inland Sea
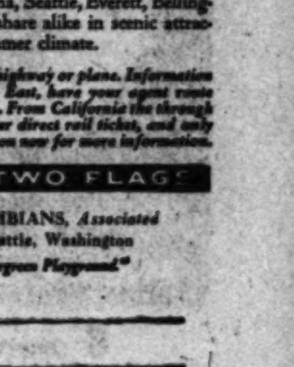
in all the world ◆ ◆ ◆

WHEN Capt. George Vancouver, the British explorer, discovered the inland salt seas of Puget Sound and British Columbia in 1792, he wrote in his journal: "... to describe the beauties of this region, will, on some future occasion, be a very grateful task of the pen of a skilful panegyrist. The serenity of the climate, the innumerable pleasing landscapes, and the abundant fertility that unassisted nature puts forth, requires only to be enriched by the industry of man, with villages, mansions, cottages, and other buildings, to render it the most lovely country that can be imagined."

Here the vacationist will find over 2,000 miles of wooded shore line with countless bays and beaches for happy picnic days and everliving Christmas trees right down to the water's edge. No occasion, however, to be satisfied with just shore-gazing on these blue waters for here you have frequent and fast auto and passenger ferries to all points of interest and highway connections; threading their way through wooded islands, past sandy spits to new vacation adventures and scenic spots.



Here you will find evergreen golf courses fanned by gentle breezes, fragrant with the tang of the sea, bathing beaches of golden sand, safe from tidal wave or breakers—by keeping along the shore it is possible to go for days in outboard driven row-boat or paddled canoe.

The inland salt waters of "The Evergreen Playground" are dotted with beautiful islands where comfortable boats thread their way between deep blue channels no wider than a river and then again across straits of blue that open up vistas of surpassing loveliness comparable only to the South Sea Islands.

And always salt water fishing in safe, protected seas with "boats, board and tackle" for hire on the favored fishing grounds.

Seven cities are planning to make your vacation in "The Evergreen Playground" a delightful one. Visit Longview, Tacoma, Seattle, Everett, Bellingham, Vancouver, B. C. and Victoria, B. C. All share alike in scenic attractions, unusual accommodations and perfect summer climate.

Come North this summer by rail, sail, paved highway or plane. Information from your local ticket office or auto club. If going East, have your agent route you one way via Puget Sound and British Columbia. From California the through rate by steamer here and on East is the same as your direct rail ticket, and only slightly higher via all-rail Northern lines. Mail coupon now for more information.

FOOTHILL FIRE UNDER CONTROL

Flames Sweep Region About Black Mountain Slope

Force of 100 Men Battle Blaze All Night

Line Around Burning Area Now Being Held

FRESNO, July 2.—After burning over more than 10,000 acres of brush and grazing land in the Sierra foothills around Auberry, forty miles from here, fire which started yesterday was brought under control this afternoon by a force of more than 100 men. They were recruited by State Fire Warden E. A. Joy and rangers from the Northfork station of the United States Forest Service, and were fighting this afternoon to maintain a line they had thrown around the burning area.

The men were working along the south slope of Black Mountain in an effort to prevent the spread of the flames before an afternoon wind. An all-night fight to hold the fire on the mountainside proved unavailing, but today when the wind died down they succeeded in establishing a line.

Origin of the fire has not been determined, but A. K. Wofford, head of the forces from the forest service, said that it could not be attributed to motorists, as it started far enough away from the road to obviate this possibility.

Little damage has been done by the fire other than to brush land and watershed area. A few shacks have been burned, but the fire has not yet reached any ranches, Wofford said.

Another fire that threatened late today to invade the grain fields of the Priest Valley area was reported from Coalinga. The information received in the oil town was that the fire had started at the head of Warthan Canyon and that men were needed to keep it from eating its way back into the grain fields.

While during its early progress the fire was being carried away from Priest Valley, it was feared that a shift in the wind would reverse its course. A large force of men was being recruited in Coalinga to fight the blaze, which is in brush and grazing land.

FIRE NEAR TEJON RANCH AREA NIPPED IN BUD

BAKERSFIELD, July 2.—Caught by a flying squad of fire fighters from this city and the Tejon ranch before it had covered five acres, fire which yesterday swept through brush of the Tejon ranch district and threatened timber lands of the higher slopes, is today completely extinguished.

Leaving immediately on receipt of news of the fire at local headquarters, Ranger Harold Bowhay of the county fire patrol, with a group of local men, joined a party of eight Tejon ranch workers at the scene of the conflagration at 11 a.m. and by evening the flames had been completely controlled. The fire squad arrived just in time, it is reported. The flames were still in the brush country when checked, but had they been allowed to penetrate to the timber growing just across the ridge from where the fire started east of White Oak Lodge, one of the worst fires in the history of Kern might have resulted, it was declared.

TREASURY LETS NEW CONTRACTS

Public Works for Half-Year Total $32,480,000

Additional $85,735,500 to be Soon Under Way

Aggregate Expected to Reach $158,000,000

WASHINGTON, July 2. (AP)—Speeding up President Hoover's program for expanding public building construction to relieve unemployment, the Treasury has awarded contracts for $32,480,000 of new government construction since January 1 and expects to have another $85,735,500 of construction under way before the end of the year.

The announcement of the progress of the building program was made at the Treasury tonight in a statement which said in the last six months contracts for thirty-nine new projects had been awarded at a cost of $28,000,000 in twenty-six States, the District of Columbia and Hawaii.

In addition to the new contracts, the Treasury has let 3800 others for repair, remodeling, equipment and miscellaneous projects costing $4,480,000. Thirty-six projects costing $40,000,000 were under way last January 1, bringing the total of the government's present building activities to $72,480,000.

The expanded program contemplated that $92,000,000 worth of government construction would be started during the present year as the government's contribution to relieve business depression and unemployment.

At the present rate at which Treasury plans are being carried forward, that figure will be exceeded by about $26,000,000 and a total of $158,000,000 of government construction will be under way or completed when the year closes.

Repeated breaking of electric light globes at the Southern Pacific station resulted in a bit of sleuthing, capture of the boys and surrender of their slingshots.

Explaining that the board had reached the conclusion that the London treaty "does not jeopardize adequate defense," the letter expressed hope that it will be "ratified and made effective at an early date."

RED REVEALS REVOLT PLOT

Ex-Cheka Chieftain Tells of Moves in America

Three Notorious Leaders in Charge of Activities

Unlimited Funds Available for Propaganda

[Copyright, 1930, by the Chicago Tribune.]

PARIS, July 2. (Exclusive)—The three most notorious "executioners" of the Cheka are directing the activities of the Communist party in America and plotting to bring about a Red revolution as soon as conditions become favorable, according to Georges Agabekoff, who until a week ago was the head of the Cheka activities in the Near East and India.

Having fallen in disfavor with his chiefs, Agabekoff decided to leave while leaving was good, and arrived in Paris yesterday to throw himself on the protection of the French police.

The highlight of an interview today was his revelations concerning the influence of the Cheka on the Communist party in America which tends to back up sensational charges recently made by former Police Commissioner Whalen of New York. According to Agabekoff, the three well-known Chekists are keeping a close eye on the leaders of the administration of the party.

"The three agents have unlimited checking accounts and spend tremendous sums annually on propaganda work. Where all the money goes no one knows. Undoubtedly a large part goes personally to certain American Communist leaders. The Chekists do not hesitate to use intimidation when bribery fails," he said.

When asked the names of the three Chekists Agabekoff whistled and answered that "nobody wants to die in the middle of a beautiful summer in Paris."

Mônsieur Albert de Leon, celebrated Parisian cellarer, had never taken a drink of water until, at his daughter's Hollywood home, he drank a tumbler full of Arrowhead. He was so captivated with this juvenile water that he immediately made up for 54 waterless years. He says his forbear, Ponce, did not come far enough West.

Aloysius de VeLop, classical marathon dancer, danced for 17 days and nights with a glass of Arrowhead Spring Water balanced on the palm of his hand. At the end of that time the water was still juvenile.

Efficiency expert says that a check on water consumed in offices of poor, tired business men reveals that the ones who drink juvenile Arrowhead are 250% less tired and not nearly so thirsty.

If all the caps removed from Arrowhead demijohns during the month of June were placed one on the other, the pile would be 3 times as high as the Washington Monument and much easier to take down.

Canary bird, owned by Mrs. Yoe Bush of Yoebushville, could hardly sing a note. She began giving the bird Arrowhead juvenile water and now it sings the words and music to "Waters of the Minnetonka."

BUT, SERIOUSLY SPEAKING there are some unusual facts about Arrowhead Spring Water that you will believe from the moment you drink it! You will find that it is different and decidedly better in taste. You will note that it is more refreshing, more invigorating, too—because it is juvenile. Arrowhead acquires these juvenile qualities in the depths of the earth where it is naturally formed from oxidized hydrogen—the purest form of drinking water. As it seeps up through virgin granite, the minerals vital to normal health are acquired. One demijohn will show you the difference and give you the reasons why more than 500,000 people prefer Arrowhead

This famous drinking water is delivered everywhere in Southern California. Five gallons—50c—in metropolitan area. For service phone WESTMORE 5231, California Consolidated Water Company.

JUVENILE drinking water is one of the freshest kinds of spring waters known. Procured from Arrowhead Springs, it comes from profound depths and therefore is not exposed to contamination as is surface water. It is primarily composed of oxidized hydrogen in its natural state. Percolating upward through granitic and mineralized masses, Arrowhead Spring Water dissolves satisfactory amounts of the natural salts required for normal health. Being Juvenile this water is fresh, pure, healthful and better tasting.

Crown Willamette Reports $3,557,406 Profit

Fiscal Year's Income Equal to $1.84 a Share

Investment in Timber Lands and Plants Higher

Consolidated net profits of the Crown Willamette Paper Company and wholly owned subsidiaries with Pacific Mills, Ltd., a subsidiary, for the fiscal year ended April 30, last, amounted to $3,557,406 after all charges, equal after minority interest in Pacific Mills, and dividends on Crown Willamette preferred stock to $1.84 a share on the 1,000,000 shares of common stock which is owned entirely by Crown Zellerbach Corporation.

Earnings compare with $3,687,308 earned the preceding fiscal year which did not include profits of Pacific Mills, equal to $2.01 a common share on the same stock outstanding.

SURPLUS BOOSTED

After payment of $1,646,000 in preferred dividends and $1,000,000 in common dividends, earned surplus was increased $837,077. Capital and surplus at the close of the period amounted to $42,607,850. Earned surplus at the end of the previous fiscal year stood at $7,224,156.

Net operating profits before fixed charges aggregated $8,548,951 against $6,790,531, not including that of Pacific Mills for the preceding fiscal year. The net profits after all charges of Pacific Mills for the year ended April 30, 1929, amounted to $556,230.

"During the year approximately $6,000,000 was added to our investments in timberlands and plants, consisting principally of additions to the Camas and Ocean Falls plants," Louis Bloch, president, stated. The major part of this work has been completed.

DEBT REDUCED

Crown Willamette bonds aggregating $638,500 and Pacific Mills bonds of $230,300 were redeemed and canceled during the year and $204,000 was applied on account of deferred payments on timberland purchases. Approximately 224,000,000 feet of timber has been cut and 531,000,000 feet acquired, increasing the timber holdings approximately 307,000,000 feet.

"The company's earnings have been well maintained notwithstanding disturbed operating conditions at Camas and Ocean Falls mills during the construction work and the very unsatisfactory situation in the paper industry," Mr. Bloch continued.

Current assets of $10,155,295 were 2.59 times current liabilities of $3,927,281 at the close of the period.

Trade Status in Local Area Told

While business for the month just closed has been far below June figures for the past five years, manufacturers, wholesales and retailers are readjusting their businesses and through the cutting down of overhead and the curtailment of production will no doubt show better earnings for the last half of the year than in the first, the weekly summary of the Bradstreet Company on local conditions stated yesterday.

Buying is still being restricted to immediate needs but a number of wholesale houses report collections showed a slight improvement, indicating that the retail trade is doing a little more business and paying off indebtedness, the summary stated. If this condition continues for sixty days retailers' inventories would be run down and general buying would improve, according to the report.

ADDITION TO NEON LISTING APPROVED

Governors of the Los Angeles Stock Exchange yesterday approved the application of Claude Neon Electrical Products Corporation, Ltd., for the listing of 7885 additional shares of no par value common stock, effective for immediate trading. The listing of additional shares is a result of the 3 per cent stock dividend paid to stockholders the 1st inst. This brings the total number of shares of the company to 280,335, of which 270,717 shares are outstanding.

UTILITY PAYS USUAL DIVIDEND IN STOCK

Directors of Consolidated Public Service Company declared yesterday the regular quarterly dividend of 2 per cent in stock payable the 5th inst., increasing the number of shares outstanding to 238,261 shares of no par capital stock. The stock is on an annual basis of 50 cents in cash and 4 per cent in stock, the cash and stock payments alternating quarterly. The company is the new holding unit of Home Service, United Linen and Consolidated Hotels, Inc.

UNION DIVIDEND ACTION DUE

Street Expects Continuance of Stock Extra; Board May Elect New President on Monday

BY EARLE E. CROWE

Slight improvement in Union Oil quotations in the last few days is explained on the street by the assumption that directors will continue the 1 per cent stock dividend at Monday's meeting of the board.

No question has been raised about the regular quarterly cash payment of 50 cents a share due for declaration at this time, but some doubt has been expressed about the stock dividend. The management has never made an official statement on the stock dividend policy except to say that stock distributions would be continued so long as conditions in the industry justified.

MAY NAME PRESIDENT

Considerable interest also centers in the probability that the successor to the late W. L. Stewart will be chosen at Monday's meeting. The identity of the new president of the Union Oil Company is naturally a topic of speculation in the oil industry and the stock market, but nothing definite has been reported.

Should the Union directors confirm the expectation on the street by declaring the 1 per cent in stock in addition to the regular quarterly of 50 cents the annual return on the stock at current prices would run higher than on any other seasoned oil company. At $40 the payment of the stock and cash dividend would offer an annual return of 9 per cent.

In December the Union Oil Company initiated the practice of distributing a stock dividend of 1 per cent quarterly and has continued the distribution in the two succeeding quarters. The last distribution was made in a period when conditions in the gasoline business could hardly be called satisfactory and there has been no improvement in the quarter just ended.

Crude oil conditions, however, are materially improved and there is no indication of a relapse at this time. The gasoline market is far from healthy, but it is generally believed that the turn in the tide is due almost any day. Together the two sides of the picture may be regarded as moderately encouraging for the industry as a whole.

EARNINGS LOWER

Earnings for the second quarter will hardly compare favorably with the first quarter. The gasoline war was only in effect in part of the first quarter, but has continued throughout the entire second quarter and on a lower scale of prices.

First-quarter earnings were approximately $2,600,000 after all charges, including depreciation depletion and taxes, equal to 61 cents a share on 4,264,067 shares. This amount compares with $2,600,000, or 66 cents a share, in the first quarter of 1929, computed on the basis of 3,914,882 shares.

If the expected recovery in gasoline prices takes place in the third quarter, usually the weak period in gasoline consumption, this company as well as other California refiners and marketers should report a much brighter story to stockholders in the statements for the three months ended September 30.

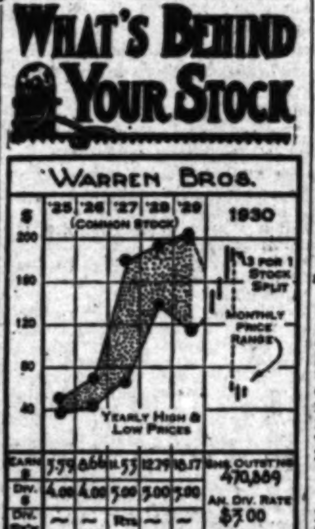
Bank Rate Cut at Boston and Philadelphia

WASHINGTON, July 2. (AP)—The Federal Reserve Board announced today the Federal Reserve Bank of Philadelphia had established a rediscount rate of 3½ per cent and the Federal Reserve Bank of Boston a rediscount rate of 3 per cent effective tomorrow.

The Philadelphia rate was reduced from 4 per cent and the Boston rate from 3½ per cent. The rates are effective on all classes of paper of all maturities.

ST. LOUIS, July 2. (Exclusive)—The Federal Reserve Bank here made no announcement today regarding its rediscount rate of 4 per cent.

Reduction of the Federal Reserve Bank rate at Philadelphia to 3½ per cent places this district on the same rate as that now prevailing at Cleveland and Chicago. All other districts are on a 4 per cent basis except New York, which recently was established at 2½ per cent and Boston, which was cut yesterday to 3 per cent.



The company ranks today as the largest road-building unit in the construction industry. In connection with its highway construction business a patented bituminous paving "Warrenite Bitulithic," is manufactured in plants at Boston and Detroit. This product enjoys a wide use because of its many superior qualities. Last year a finance company subsidiary was formed to facilitate the handling of credit arrangements in connection with the many contracts under way in all parts of the Western Hemisphere. It is expected that business will be stimulated considerably through more efficient handling of credit problems.

In line with the gain in its foreign business last year the company's net income was reported as 39 per cent above that for the previous year, per-share figures amounting to $18.17 in 1929, $12.79 in 1928 and $11.53 in 1927. According to recent reports from company officials, earnings for the first five months of 1930 are exceeding those for the similar period of last year. Under a plan approved by the stockholders April 8 the first and second preferred stocks are now being deposited for exchange into a new $3 cumulative convertible preferred stock.

Southern Sugar Put in Control of Receivers

NEW YORK, July 2.—B. G. Dahlberg and P. G. Bishop have been appointed receivers for Southern Sugar Company. A petition was filed today by the Wier Kilby Corporation in the Circuit Court of Hendry county, Florida.

The Southern Sugar Company, in a letter to stockholders, states that tangible assets as of May 31 were approximately $20,000,000, as compared with total liabilities, including long-term indebtedness, but excluding stock of about $4,500,000, leaving a stock equity of $15,500,000.

To finance current obligations and operations of grinding, which begin in November and which will require about $1,500,000, it had been proposed to issue and sell a series of bonds, but present demoralized general business and financial conditions existing throughout the country have interfered with and delayed this program, it was explained.

"Our properties are in good physical condition. The cane stand is excellent and prospects are for a full grinding this fall of from 650,000 to 700,000 tons of cane," said company officials.

Bay City Curb Issues Survey

SAN FRANCISCO, July 2. (Exclusive)—During the six months' period ending June 30, last, 2,787,827 shares of stock were traded on the Curb Exchange with a market value of $39,392,708 and the par value of bonds traded aggregated $1,333,500.

Seventeen issues were admitted during the period, with an outstanding total of 30,918,915 shares, and thirty-six issues were removed, three of which were graduated to the stock exchange, establishing, in the opinion of curb executives, the efficacy of the curb organization as a proving ground for western securities. The present list contains 228 issues, aggregating 202,496,944 shares with a market value of $7,820,036,097, based on closing prices June 30.

PROFITS OF MADISON SQUARE GARDEN SINK

NEW YORK, July 2.—Madison Square Garden in its pamphlet issued today showed consolidated net earnings for its fiscal year ended May 31 of $411,345 after all charges, equal to $1.26 a share on 324,860 capital shares, against $492,347, or $1.51 a share in the previous year. These figures do not include the company's investment in the Boston Madison Square Garden, which started operations in November, 1928, and which reported net loss of $16,175 for the fiscal year just closed.

BANK TOTALS OFF SLIGHTLY

Deposits of Los Angeles Clearinghouse Members Compare Irregularly With Last Year

Deposits of twelve State and national banks in Los Angeles, members of the Los Angeles Clearinghouse Association, amounted to $1,311,932,591.80 as of June 30, according to figures supplied the clearinghouse yesterday in response to the call for condition by the State Banking Commissioner and Comptroller of Currency.

This total compares with the report of fourteen member banks on the same date last year, showing deposits aggregating $1,349,331,424, and represents a decrease of $37,398,832.20, or less than 3 per cent.

The Pan American, in process of dissolution, and the Pacific National, merged with the Bank of America of California and with Bank of Italy, are the two not reported to the clearinghouse this year. The figures include those of the Bank of Italy for its Los Angeles city branches only and total deposits of all the others which maintain their head office in this city.

Combined deposits of the same twelve banks on December 31, last, were reported at $1,362,307,988.18, usually the peak period of the year.

Individually the statements show a decidedly mixed array of increases and decreases in the volume of deposits when compared with last year's totals. Some of the smaller institutions scored large proportionate gains, Yokohama Specie being a notable example, having run its deposits up from $921,414 last year to $2,442,781.91 as of June 30, to record a gain of more than $1,500,000, or 150 per cent.

Bank of Italy recorded the largest increase with deposits in its forty-five Los Angeles branches amounting to $142,275,644.36, a gain over last year of more than $9,500,000, or 7 per cent. Farmers' and Merchants', ranking second in point of volume increase, registered a much greater proportionate gain by advancing its total deposits by more than $7,000,000, or 13 per cent.

Seaboard National deposits jumped about $1,700,000, or 26 per cent, to $8,451,189.04, and National Bank of Commerce added some $660,000 to bring its deposits up to $5,334,288.03, or a gain of 14 per cent.

Other banks to show an improvement in the totals compared with last year are California Bank Union Bank and Trust Company and German-American Savings Bank.

Comparative deposits on June 30 for the two years follow:

President Sees Time as Ripe to Enter Market

Expressing its confidence in the attractiveness of the stock market at current prices, the American Capital Corporation of Los Angeles yesterday announced the offering of subscription rights to stockholders in order to provide new capital for the purchase of securities.

Units of common shares consisting of one share of Class A common and one share of Class B common will be offered to stockholders of record the 7th inst., in the proportion of one unit for each five shares of A or B common owned. The units will be offered at $31 a unit, and the rights will be nontransferable. After the 21st inst., the rights will be void.

HELD ALOOF

"Last August and September," Henry S. McKee, president of the investment trust, states in his letter to stockholders, "when so many investment trusts and trading corporations were being formed through offerings to the public, we did not come into the capital market because we did not see attractive investment opportunities in the stock market and did not know how long it would be before a more attractive price level would prevail. Some investment trusts made offerings to shareholders at that time on the theory that investors would not subscribe new capital at a time when business is depressed.

"Now conditions are reversed, we find many attractive investment opportunities. We believe that through our research organization we have more intelligent information regarding the progress of corporations than is generally available and the adequacy of this information and its currentness encourages us to expand our investments now."

EARNINGS TOLD

Mr. McKee also discloses in his letter to stockholders the earnings of the American Capital Corporation for the five months ended May 31, last. Net income applicable to the common stock of $268,535.73, is equivalent to $2.68 a share on the Class A common stock. Surplus as of May 31 amounted to $1,761,907.31, compared with $1,583,370.56 on January 1, last.

As of June 26, last, the investment position of the trust as set forth by Mr. McKee, was as follows:

EASE IN MONEY SPREADING

Rate Cut by Philadelphia and Boston Reserve Banks Viewed as Harbinger of Business Revival

BY JOHN F. SINCLAIR

[Copyright, 1930, by the North American Newspaper Alliance]

NEW YORK, July 2.—The reduction yesterday of the rediscount rates of the Boston and Philadelphia Federal Reserve banks to 3 per cent and 3½ per cent, respectively, leaves seven Federal Reserve banks still on the 4 per cent basis—San Francisco, Kansas City, St. Louis, Atlanta, Minneapolis, Richmond and Dallas—and three on a 3½ per cent basis—Chicago, Cleveland and Philadelphia. One is on a 3 per cent basis, Boston, and one, New York, on a 2½ per cent basis.

Cheap money is percolating back through the channels of industry. It must ultimately have its effect on business—a salutary one at that.

Every indication points to a rising bond market in the near future.

"If some one came in here and asked you how to invest $10,000,000 within a week, what would you recommend?" I asked an important official of the United States Treasury Department.

"Bonds—some United States government bonds, some State bonds and some public utility and railroad bonds," was the reply.

Idle money—huge gobs of it lying around right now waiting for an opportunity—is going to be forced into the purchase of bonds in the next few months, until the good cheap ones now available are absorbed.

Six months should pretty well clean the decks of the bond dealers.

Fred T. Ley, New York builder, says that building methods are 25 per cent more efficient now than they were five years ago. These methods have developed to a remarkable extent in a way unknown even a decade ago. Labor, too, shares in the good results because it produces more and works harder than ever.

"Subcontracts are made now on a closer and more economic basis than ever before," said Mr. Ley. "Materials, too, are down with new common brick selling at approximately $13 a thousand. Materials can be purchased so economically that it is no longer worth while to use old brick in new constructions."

Mr. Ley sees a continuation of the amazing growth of the Grand Central Zone in New York in the next ten years, much as it has been during the last decade.

With mortgage money again coming into the field, in increasing amounts, the construction industry is preparing for a business revival.

Louis Guenther, New York financial editor, after a visit to the Orient, thinks the return of Japan to a gold basis was accomplished in too short a time. An economic depression of major importance resulted. The business structure could not stand the strain. It's one thing to take the gold basis on an inflationary joy ride, which every warring nation in the world did during the war, but it's quite another thing to restore that same gold standard after the debauch.

Nations, like England, have been at it for ten years now and still are wrestling with the task, with depression, unemployment and burdensome taxation as part of the annual cost.

Asked about the practice of Japanese employers in giving bonuses in lieu of higher wages, Mr. Guenther said:

"The practice resorted to by Japanese industries of paying out bonuses to their labor in lieu of higher wages was successful so long as it was possible to pay these bonuses. But when the bonuses ceased naturally trouble began, and today Japan has a real problem in this respect. Labor has become accustomed to the bonus plan and it came to consider the bonus as part of its regular wages."

Rio Grande Oil Stockholders in Sharp Increase

Holders of capital stock in the Rio Grande Oil Company have more than quadrupled in number during the past year, according to a compilation issued yesterday by the company, which discloses that stockholders reside in every State of the Union with one exception, as well as in Alaska, Canada, Mexico, the Panama Canal Zone and Ireland.

Stockholders now on the books of the company number 6100. This compares with approximately 1400 a year ago and represents an increase of 4700, or 335 per cent. The only State not represented on the stock books of the company is Georgia.

The majority of the stockholders, or more than 65 per cent of the total number, reside in California, while the next largest group is in New York State, where 767 stockholders, or more than 12 per cent, are domiciled. Pennsylvania has 216, Massachusetts 141 and Texas 134.

Building-Loan Units to Boost Capital Stock

Permission to issue and offer guarantee capital stock for sale has been granted to ten California building-loan associations during the past four weeks by Commissioner Charles A. Whitmore, according to a report released by the California Building-Loan League yesterday.

A new association was licensed by the commissioner, June 30, last, the Oceanic Building-Loan Association of Long Beach. Paid-in capital amounts to $82,560. Lewis P. Lane is president; Paul B. Steintorf, vice-president, and Clark Booher, secretary.

Building-loan associations just authorized to issue additional shares of guarantee capital stock, include Fidelity Savings and Loan, Los Angeles; Mutual of Pasadena; Bear State, Los Angeles; Fresno Guarantee, Fresno; Torrance Mutual, Torrance; Guaranty, San Jose; Federal, Los Angeles; Oceanic, Long Beach; Marine, San Pedro, and Reserve, San Jose.

This liberal, tax-free yield, with exceptional security is offered you by our municipal improvement bond certificates which represent actual ownership of carefully selected California municipal improvement bonds.

These bonds are a direct lien on specific property and rank prior to all present or future mortgages or other indebtedness. Furthermore, they represent a very small percentage of the value of the property, which is usually worth from 10 to 20 times the amount of this lien. A comparison of this ratio with that offered by first mortgages establishes immediately the greater security back of improvement bonds.

Here is an investment unaffected by stock market crashes and declining corporation earnings. Millions of dollars in these bonds are held by banks, insurance companies and large and small private investors.

As the oldest municipal improvement bond house in California, we invite your inquiry regarding these securities. Full details will be gladly furnished on request without obligation. Simply send name and address below.

Are Large Stock "Melons" Ahead For Standard Oil?

FOLLOWING the accumulation of a huge $1,500,000,000 surplus in 1921, 14 of the 23 leading Standard Oil companies declared stock dividends of 50% to 900% in 1922.

Combined surplus of these 23 companies today stands at more than $1,730,000,000, indicating likelihood of tremendous stock dividends in the next few years.

TRUSTEE STANDARD OILSHARES

Series "B", a fixed investment trust composed of the stocks of all these companies, presents an opportunity to participate in the stock dividends and other profits of the Standard Oil group.

Average yield on this trust for the past 5 years, assuming its existence, would have been 14% on today's market price. For complete information, use coupon.

NEW YORK BOND PRICES

NEW YORK, July 2. (AP)—A higher price level was reached by a wide list of investment bonds in a firm market today. Trading, however, was dull, and the volume dropped more than $1,000,000 from yesterday.

In some instances impressive improvement was effected by bonds in both the domestic and foreign list as reinvestment demand was felt. Latin-American issues were especially strong among foreign bonds.

Only a few first-grade rails were very active and higher. Chicago and Eastern Illinois 5s soared 4 points.

Atchison general 4s, a leading savings bank issue, duplicated their high of the year, and then sagged ½ point lower than yesterday.

Utilities maintained a firm trend. American Telephone 5 of 65 equalled its high price of the year. Chicago Railways 5s advanced 1½ points to a new high as a merger of traction lines was approved.

Wide changes occurred among the less stable class of industrials. Manati sugar 7½s dropped 9½ points. Pan-American Petroleum 6s lost three points to find a new year's bottom.

Various issues of Bolivian, Chilean, Colombian and Argentine governments rallied sharply to lead the advance of the foreign group.

The turnover in United States government issues was small but the upward trend was maintained and Liberty 4th 4¼s and Treasury 3⅜ of 40-43 sold at the highest prices of the year.

The quotations represent sales of bonds (in thousands of dollars) and the high, low and closing prices in order given. To expedite transmission, the close is omitted when the same as the low, and both low and close when same as high.

Tom Reed Gold in New Ore Vein

Tom Reed Gold Mines Company, having extended a crosscut at the 1100-foot level of its Oatman, Ariz., property for a distance of 820 feet from the main shaft, has struck its principal gold ore vein now being worked at the 950-foot level, thereby proving an additional depth to the vein of about 200 feet, Oscar Howard, general manager, announced yesterday.

Operators are continuing to drift eastward through the vein to determine its length. First samples at the 1100-foot level assayed $39.80 the ton. The same vein worked at the 950-foot level has yielded $250,000 in bullion since operations began last November, and is continuing to be worked, according to Mr. Howard, who also stated that the company is in a strong financial position with about $60,000 cash on hand and no debts of any nature. Stock of the company listed on the Los Angeles Curb Exchange turned suddenly active last Monday at 65 cents a share and closed yesterday at 80 cents.

Copper Hit by Fresh Setback

NEW YORK, July 2. (AP)—Some customs smelters today offered copper for domestic delivery at 11 1-2 cents, delivered, one-half of a cent below the level in effect about a fortnight ago.

It was explained in the trade buying on both domestic and foreign account had been quiet and the reduction was made to move accumulated stock. All of the producers and some of the custom smelters, however, held at the 12-cent price. The price of export copper remained unchanged at 12.30 cents, c.i.f. European base ports.

On Eating your Cake ... and Having it too.

Most people know the value of allowing their savings interest to compound to increase their original fund, but few realize the speed at which their investment fund may grow when capital appreciation is added to income yield.

An investment of $1,000 in MASSACHUSETTS INVESTORS TRUST, in July, 1924, through compounding of capital, has risen in value to approximately double its original amount. In addition, stock and cash dividends of approximately $425.00 have been withdrawn. Those investors have "eaten their cake, yet have it, too."

Back of each certificate of MASSACHUSETTS INVESTORS TRUST are the combined resources, earning power and long dividend records of approximately 140 of the outstanding corporations of the country—which in turn own or control well over 1,000 of America's leading industries. LOS ANGELES EXCHANGE

Stock Market Checks Downward Trend and Closes Slightly Higher in Dull Session

Although final prices were only fractionally higher at the close of the Los Angeles Stock Exchange yesterday moderate firmness throughout the entire session indicated an end to Tuesday's decline and served to brighten somewhat an uneasy trading sentiment. The trend, however, was inconclusive since the volume of dealings contracted sharply and clearly illustrated that traders were not disposed to take a position preceding the extended holiday week-end.

Market value of the day's operations dropped to about half that of the preceding session, which was itself below the normal average for the past month, and only the more active stocks participated in the dealings.

Southern California Edison, Transamerica, Standard of California and Union Oil led the activity and closed at the highest prices for the session to record net advances of from 3-8 to 3-4 of a point. Standard of California crossed 60 to end up 3-4 at 60 1-4 and Edison, with Transamerica, gained 5-8 to finish at 56 3-4 and 30 7-8, respectively. Both Union and Union Associates firmed up 3-8 to 40 3-8 and 39 5-8, respectively.

While other oil stocks were traded in, a relatively light manner, Rio Grande succeeded in adding another 3-8 to close at 17 7-8 and Pacific Western, 1-4 to 14 3-4. Richfield held steady to 16, while Macmillan dipped ½ to 15.

Security-First National Bank played a part in the minor upswing with a gain of 7-8 to 103 7-8, a new top for the current trend. Pickwick Corporation continued its downward course initiated a few days ago and hit another new bottom at 4.55, off 45 cents. There were no other changes of consequence.

Sales totaled 13,240 shares, valued at $362,358; previous day, 19,226 shares, valued at $754,421.

LOS ANGELES CURB

Quotations fluctuated in a decidedly irregular manner on the Los Angeles Curb Exchange yesterday as, common with operations on the parent board, the volume of dealings fell to negligible levels. With the exception of Claude Neon of Delaware preferred, an inactive stock which dropped 1 7-8 to 19, price changes were fractional.

In the major group, Arkansas Gas, Crystalite Products and Southern California Gas preferred recorded an improvement while Intercoast, Universal Oil, Detroit Aircraft and Cord eased lower. Detroit Aircraft, hit a new low at 5 3-8.

Bandini Petroleum continued the chief attraction in the penny list but reacted sharply with a drop of 80 cents to 3.65, recovering later to 4.00. Tom Reed continued active and advanced 4 cents to 80 cents on the basis of favorable field developments.

Sales totaled 17,922 shares valued at $62,236; previous day, 43,069 shares valued at $96,773.

SAN FRANCISCO

SAN FRANCISCO, July 2. (AP)—Pre-holiday quietude settled over the San Francisco Stock Exchange today. Stock prices were somewhat more encouraging than yesterday. Sales added 27,192 shares, running barely under $1,000,000 market value.

Oils improved slightly on the general market strength, in spite of concern by eastern stockholders over the gasoline price war in California. The gains were only fractional.

The utilities were irregular. With two exceptions the final sales were only fractionally removed from yesterday's. Pacific Lighting held a gain of 1½, but Pacific Telephone slumped, then recovered somewhat, to show a net loss of a point.

No important changes were recorded in the industrial, investment or insurance groups. Transamerica quieted considerably in the morning trading, but turnover stepped up in the afternoon and made up more than one-third of the entire sales total of the exchange, going somewhat over 10,000.

Transamerica officials denied reports that selling in recent weeks had come from any particular source. They attributed recent weakness of the stock entirely to the general market reaction.

WOOL MARKET

BOSTON, July 2. (AP)—The wool market is rather dull. Members of the wool trade are looking for London to decline at the opening next week, but they feel that moderate decline from the level of closing at the last series will only reflect the easing in values that has taken place in foreign primary markets. Top makers and manufacturers are continuing to buy domestic wools to cover current orders at steady prices as compared with last week.

Wheat Futures Point Up After Early Setback

CHICAGO, July 2. (AP)—Disturbed by a reported tremendous shortage in this season's French wheat crops as compared with last year, the wheat market here went suddenly upgrade today. Cables were received indicating a yield of only 237,000,000 bushels for 1930, showing 64,000,000 bushels reduction from the 1929 total and standing out sharply against a five-year average of 280,000,000 bushels. Active purchasing of wheat future deliveries here was also stimulated by relative scantiness of primary receipts today in the United States, and by persistent advices farmers were refusing to sell as freely as in general has been the rule at harvest.

More than overcoming early setbacks, the Chicago wheat market closed nervous at almost the day's top level, ½@1c per bushel higher than yesterday's finish. Corn closed ⅝@1⅛c advance, oats a shade to ½c up and provisions varying from 15c decline to a rise of 5c.

Late bulges in wheat values were in decided contrast with a sagging tendency displayed earlier. Aside from anxiety aroused over the crop outlook in France, a possibility of further unexpected developments during the triple holiday period which starts on Friday was also a factor in bringing about the late quick reversal of the course of the market.

Contributing impetus to the late upward swing of wheat values was unlocked for strength displayed by the corn market as a result of prospective meager receipts of corn until the wheat harvest is ended. On the other hand, monthly unofficial crop estimates issued here today made a notable bearish exhibit, and were largely responsible for depressing the wheat market early in the day. The estimates indicated about 10,000,000 bushels more wheat for the United States than was unofficially forecast a month ago, and pointed to likelihood of 77,000,000 bushels more wheat in Canada than last year.

In the corn market, free selling failed to break prices early when wheat values were on the downgrade. Oats touched new low price records for the season, but afterward advanced with corn and wheat.

July 3, 1930

This man earns $75 a week
This man's income is $75,000 a year

Each finds the same advantages in this safe, profitable July investment

IS it possible that an investment that is ideal for the man with a $75,000 income is also the investment for the man with $75.00 a week?

Is it possible that such an investment program is even available to a man of moderate means?

Ten years ago perhaps it wasn't. Today it is.

Good, safe bonds can be bought in denominations as low as $500. They should form the backlog of every investment program. They are safe. They provide a regular income. And today they can be bought to yield as high as 6¼%. And Super-Corporations of America Trust Shares form a complete and comprehensive common stock program.

They are attractive to the millionaire because it is exactly the way he, himself, invests in common stocks and yet they rid him of all bothersome details. And because Super-Corporations of America Trust Shares are available for investment of sums as small as $100, they open this method of investing to practically every man in the country.

Super-Corporations of America Trust Shares represent ownership in 30 of the largest, strongest and most successful corporations in America. They represent an interest in the nation as a whole.

In addition to ready marketability, safety, wide diversification and convenience, the trust shares offer attractive possibilities of profit through appreciation in market value over a period of years.

Our intensely interesting new booklet, "The Road to Wealth," tells the entire story. It is absolutely free and places you under no obligation whatsoever. Send for your copy . . . today.

BUSINESS OPPORTUNITIES OF ALL SORTS OFFERED TODAY

6% Interest Today
Equals 7% back in 1926

AS A RESULT of the steady decline in commodity prices, a dollar today...according to the Irving Fisher index...will purchase what $1.16 did in 1926. From the standpoint of the investor, this means that the income from a 6% bond today is equivalent in buying power to the interest return from a 7% bond four years ago.

Coupled with this decline in commodity prices goes a drop in the call money rate to 1½%... the lowest figure in 13 years. Both are dependable indications of a prolonged period of easy money with rising bond prices and declining yields.

The far-sighted investor today is placing his funds in long-term, non-callable securities which give him a liberal and dependable fixed income over a period of years regardless of fluctuating business conditions.

Selected California municipal improvement bonds are exactly adapted to such an investment program. Principal and interest are payable from direct ad valorem taxes collected with and as a part of other City and County taxes. The bonds mature in 4 to 35 years and are non-callable. Best of all they yield a full 5% to 6% income, completely exempt from Federal Income Tax and California Personal Property Tax.

Investigate California municipal improvement bonds for your July funds. As specialists in this field, we will gladly furnish you a list of current offerings together with full information regarding these securities without obligation. The coupon below is for your convenience.

NEW YORK CURB STOCKS

NEW YORK, July 2. (AP)—Professional activity in a few pool favorites barely kept trading alive in today's curb market. Most traders were disinclined to undertake anything marketwise until after the triple holiday starting Friday. Total sales were 442,000 shares, the lowest for a full session in two years.

Prices were generally steady to firm. Electric Bond and Share was again an active feature. It was bid up 3 points, again crossing 80, but lost about half its gain. United Gas new rose fractionally. Missouri Kansas Pipe Line rose about 3 points, to 25½, then slipped back a point. It reached 36⅞ in its rise of a few weeks ago.

A strong spot in industrials was Hazeltine, which shot up 6 points, getting about 30. The radio group was dull. Among the foreign issues Marconi Wireless dropped more than 2 points to the low of the year on declaration of smaller dividend. The industrial and specialty group was quiescent. Deere rallied a point and Technicolor eased. Knott Corporation dropped 3 points to new 1930 low.

The investment trust and investment and holding company group was steady to firm. Transamerica and Goldman Sachs gained fractionally.

LOS ANGELES MARKET

CATTLE—Fresh receipts consisted mainly of six loads of Mexican type grass steers while holdovers of 200 were mostly low grade killing classes. Trade was moderately active and very little stock was unsold at the noon hour. Prices showed little change, quality and weighing condition considered.

Two loads of 936 to 1028-pound grass steers made 8.35@8.40, with four loads of 910 to 929-pound weights at 8.25. A few odd head of steers ranged from 6.50@7.50, including a load of holdover 790-pound Mexicans at 7.15.

Best cows offered were dairy types selling at 7.25@7.40 with one 1360-pound animal at 8.00. Bulk of the stock graded common to medium at 5.50@7.00 with low cutters and cutters at 2.00@5.25. A few bulls made 5.25@5.50 with cutter kinds at 4.50.

CALVES—Offerings of calves and vealers were rather plentiful but trade was fairly active and generally steady. A few bunches of selected light vealers made 12.50@13.00, with some good kinds at 12.25. A load of 252-pound California calves scored 11.00, while a load of 380-pound Arizonas brought 8.50. Small lots ranged from 8.00@10.00 with culls down to 7.00 and below.

HOGS—A load of 178-pound Nebraska butchers was bought to arrive at 10.00. A few small lots of 167 to 198-pound local fed butchers brought 10.10 and the trade seemed to think that this price would be the extreme limit on load lots of desirable butchers, or about steady with Tuesday's late 10.10 top. A few 318 to 408-pound packing sows scored 7.60@8.00.

SHEEP—Four decks of not overly fat but good quality California lambs sold early at 9.00 straight, averaging 75 pounds. This price was considered steady to weak with a possibility that choice lambs of similar weight might sell up to 9.50. Medium to choice ewes are quoted at 2.50@3.50.

Agreement Met on Double Tax

WASHINGTON, June 2. (AP)—The conclusion of satisfactory agreements with Great Britain and France on the troublesome double taxation problem was disclosed today at the Treasury.

E. C. Alvord, who headed the American delegation to the recent international double-taxation conference, revealed this in denying reports the purposes of the present European visit by Undersecretary Mills was to discuss that problem with French officials. The reports also were denied at the White House.

Three Delano Homes Robbed

DELANO, July 2.—Burglars operating here last night ransacked three homes and escaped with approximately $100 in cash, Sheriff Cas Walser reported today following investigation. That the men were professionals and not local talent was indicated by the absence of fingerprints or any other clew.

All three homes were located less than a block apart. They were those of Dr. John A. Copeland, E. H. Ramsay and Cletus Dyar.

CITY COUNCIL PLANS TO SAVE TOWN MONEY

SAN FERNANDO, July 2.—Work of topping the city water reservoir with a corrugated iron roof has been completed at a cost of $3274, or $500 less than had been estimated, according to Harry E. Waite, local water superintendent. The work was done under the supervision of the new City Council which recently was elected on an economy platform. When the estimate cost for the work was announced not long ago, the City Council went out to look over the situation. "Too much money," one of the Councilmen said. Waite was then called in and told to do a first-class job, but $500 less than the estimate price. Mayor Maclay today said the job was the best piece of city work done here in a long time.

FUNERAL FOR PIONEER

Mrs. Alice Dunham, the widow, and Rufus Dunham, a son, survive. Dunham was a native of Fairhaven, Mass., coming to California forty-two years ago.

NEW PASSENGER CARRIER IN PORT

German Steamer Vancouver Makes First Bow

Combination Craft Last of Seven Entering Run

Steel Notably Absent from Manifest of Vessel

BY WAYNE B. CAVE

Another new foreign passenger carrier, the German steamer Vancouver, just out of European yards, made her debut here yesterday, bringing her capacity of fifty-two passengers and several thousand tons of continental freight. Capt. H. Carstens, commodore, commands her.

She is the last of seven new liners recently entering the Pacific-European run under plans of the Hamburg American Line. By the line's recent merger with North German Lloyd, however, the latter gains control of the Vancouver, which yesterday docked at Williams, Dimond & Co. terminals.

The Vancouver is slightly larger than her predecessors, being 500 feet in length, and on her maiden trip across the Atlantic averaged sixteen knots an hour. In her refrigeration holds she brought to Los Angeles 16,500 bunches of Panama bananas, and discharged 1500 tons of European general freight.

For the first time steel was conspicuously absent. This was declared due to the new United States tariff, which also affects various manufactures originating up the Rhine and even up the Elbe River to the Balkans, such as shoes.

Among the score disembarking were Richard Henderson, Hollywood comedian, returning with his family from a visit to his former London home. Despite England's law requiring theaters to show more English than foreign films, 95 per cent are American, he said. England lacks directors and mechanics to attain American perfection, he explained. Henderson recently appeared in a film with John Barrymore, and will fly back to New York today to begin a new six months' contract with Paramount.

NEW REFRIGERATION VENTURE UP AT PORT

Entry of the sharp freezing industry to carry over excess catches of fresh market fish in prime condition and help stabilize prices, is seen in the application of the Union Ice Company to the State Railroad Commission for a storage plant.

The structure would comprise 40,000 feet, and would be erected on Fries street, Mormon Island, Wilmington. The company already has 14,000 square feet of refrigerated storage, but its installation of sharp freezing is a departure.

That the local industry is preparing to enter the fish filleting field, so popular on the East Coast, is seen in the freezing proposal. Supporting the application were representatives of the San Pedro Chamber of Commerce, Gilbert Van Camp and C. M. Small of Van Camp organizations, and Otto Weisgich of American Fisheries. There was no opposition.

Plans and specifications are to be ordered at once for the first of four new ships for the China run of American Hawaiian's O. & O. service, according to word from Roger D. Lapham, president. The new construction is in accordance with the government mail contracts recently awarded the China section of the Oceanic & Oriental Line.

Visits here early this week of three San Francisco executives of Matson Navigation Company, which revived old rumors of that line's passenger entry in Los Angeles trade, was merely in the interest of the line's freight service to Australia with the O. & O. section, according to J. B. Banning, local representative. The visitors were Hugh Gallager, operating manager; Capt. F. M. Edwards, assistant manager of operations, and F. A. Bailey, vice-president and secretary.

El Salvador, Panama Mail intercoastal liner, was due from New York and Central America at midnight, last night, with more than 100 passengers and cargo. She will pass quarantine and proceed to her Wilmington terminal at sunrise. Passengers include Richard T. Harris, New York stock broker; Dr. and Mrs. W. R. Malony, Jr., of Los Angeles, who drove to New York; Lieut.-Col. C. A. Hotchkiss, en route to Portland after attending the Army Tank School at Fort George G. Meade, Maryland, and George Chaffney, retired engineer of San Diego.

More than 700 passengers are aboard the Panama Pacific electric liner Virginia, due from New York via San Diego the 5th inst. The heavy travel is heralded as a summer vacation migration, many being teachers in eastern schools. Also aboard are W. H. Pouch, president of Concrete Tool Company, New York; C. S. Pouch, secretary of Pouch Terminal, Inc.; C. H. Hyde, president of West Coast Grocery Company, Tacoma, and Charles T. Murphy, publicity manager for the New York Curb Exchange.

Burt Edwards, port manager yesterday opened bids on creosoted piles and timber for use in building a loading dock for Union Oil Company's bunkering barge fleet at Berth 149, Wilmington. Five bids ranged from $9000 to $15,000.

OIL NEWS

BY HOWARD KEGLEY

Two interesting wildcat tests in Ventura county are being closely watched by oil scouts. One is Sexton No. 1 of the Prairie Oil and Gas Company, and the other is the Chanslor-Canfield Midway Oil Company's Hobson No. A-2.

Sexton No. 1 is on the Sexton ranch, east of the Ventura-avenue field. It is searching for an extension of that field. Yesterday, it was drilling below 5980 feet in oil sand and shale, a formation that has been fairly continuous for the last 300 feet. The last string of casing was set to 4300 feet and another string will soon be run.

The Chanslor-Canfield Midway Oil Company's Hobson A-2, two miles southeast of the Seacliff field, is searching for an extension of that area. It has been swabbing for two or three days and gas pressure has been building up on one casing while showings of oil have increased. Bottom of the hole is at 7479 feet.

To Land Casing

The Richfield Oil Company's Coffin No. 1 in the Potrero townlot area now is the deepest test there and is thought to have a fair chance to develop production. With bottom of the hole at 6256 feet, nine-inch casing will be landed to 6000 feet and a production test will be made in about ten days.

With the exception of the St. Patracia Oil Company's Connolley No. 1, southeast of the Potrero townlot area, Richfield's test has been the deepest for that area. The Connolley No. 1 went to 8005 feet and suspended and has since been abandoned. The derrick was recently moved to a new site in the townlot area where several wells will be drilled.

Proves Acreage

At least forty acres were proven through the recent completion of the Standard Oil Company's Bastanchury No. 1 due east of Coyote Hills. This project was drilled to extend Coyote Hills and it came in from a depth of 5851 feet. On the pump it is putting out 400 barrels of 32.6 deg. gravity oil per day.

Standard's Bastanchury No. 1 is about two and one-half miles east of the Emery No. 43-A at Coyote Hills which developed a still deeper producing sand. Because of its possibilities at this time and because of the State-wide curtailment program, Standard has shut it in. Since then Emery No. 46 has been completed and four other projects may be brought in soon, two on the Emery lease and several others on the Murphy-Coyote lease.

On the Pump

A little production is being obtained from the Terra Bella Oil Company's No. 1 near Terra Bella. This project came in a few weeks ago from a depth of 918 feet and with installation of a pump has been yielding thirty-five barrels of low gravity oil per day.

Six miles south of Terra Bella, the Ducor Oil Company's No. 1 is making progress with the drill below 3100 feet. This test is located on a 200-acre lease.

Starts Swabbing

The Shell Oil Company today is swabbing for water shut-off test in Porter-Day No. 1 wildcat, six miles southeast of Bakersfield. Showings of oil sand penetrated a few feet above bottom at 4965 feet are thought to justify a production test. Casing is set to 4890 feet.

Drilling Permits

Of the twenty-one drilling permits issued last week by the State Mining Bureau, four were for the Seacliff field where the General Petroleum Corporation recently got good production in Ferguson No. 2. Activities have been started there by the Richfield Oil Company and the Elwood Exploration Company.

At Seacliff, drilling permits were granted to F. T. Fuller for Tideland Permit No. 84-1; J. H. Raney's Tideland Permit No. 85-1; J. W. Maddrill's Tideland Permit No. 86-1 and D. M. Eckstrom's Tideland Permit No. 87-1.

Following are the other permits: The Elmer Company's No. 3 at Venice; Richfield Oil Company's Runnells No. 1, and Lyon & Bassett's No. 1 at Potrero; R. L. Haley & J. P. Corbett's No. 1, Walter T. Ball's No. 1 and Armadillo Oil Company's No. 1 at Signal Hill; Edwin A. McKanna's No. 1 at Inglewood; Union Oil Company's Naranjal No. 15 at Brea-Olinda; Barnsdall-Rio Grande combination's Tideland Permit No. 88-3 and Elwood Exploration Company's Tideland Permit No. 90-8 at Elwood; Richfield Oil Company's Belridge No. 1 in North Belridge district; Standard Oil Company's No. 113 and Hugh B. Evans's No. 10 in Midway district; Dr. J. J. Ritchie's No. 1 in Kern county; Ohio Oil Company's No. 36 in Belridge district; Chanslor-Canfield Midway Oil Company's No. 35 at Kern River; Standard Oil Company's No. 47 at Kettleman Hills.

Into Oil Sand

Field reports state that McMahon & McDonald's Kirst No. 1 wildcat located on a forty-acre lease near the intersection of One Hundred and Eighteenth street and Normandie avenue penetrated forty feet of oil sand and now is drilling below 4200 feet. The test is near Athens.

Every loan by a building and loan association keeps labor at work, and saves some vacant lot owner his former interest and tax loss on his unused lot. Through 37 years of growth to three State records that has been the pride of the MUTUAL Building and Loan Association OF POMONA.

WHAT OTHER TYPE OF LOAN CAN COMPETE . . in eliminating 36 methods of shrinking the borrower's dollar . . during his construction period . . when everything is going out and his income has not started from his new investment?

$15,000,000 resources and 37 years of experience are at your service, economically, in the 10th floor offices of the MUTUAL Building and Loan Association OF POMONA. We believe in economy ourselves, too.

You do Southern California a favor when you send a vacant lot owner to a building and loan association. Perhaps you'll send him to US. We try to deserve your friendship.

SALT LAKE CITY, July 2.
United opposition by the State

Federal government, said it wo mean the destruction of the g

Gov. Christianson and Gov. Ba

The fires were kept blazing. Abdul Mourak left his blankets a dozen times to pace restlessly back and forth between the tethered horses and the crackling fires. The girl could see his great frame silhouetted against the lurid glare of the flames and she guessed from his quick, nervous movements that the man was afraid. The roaring of the lions rose in sudden fury until the earth trembled to the hideous chorus. The horses shrilled their neighs of terror as they lay back upon their halter ropes in their mad endeavors to break loose.

If the lion had not been wounded, the boma and the flames might have turned him back, but now the pain and the rage wiped caution from his mind and with a loud and angry roar he topped the barrier with an easy leap and was among the horses. What had been pandemonium before became now an indescribable tumult of hideous sound. Men leaped from their blankets and with guns ready ran toward the picket line, and then from the jungle beyond the boma a dozen lions, emboldened by the example of their fellow, charged upon the camp.

DYNAMITE GOES OFF IN HANDS

Workman Seriously Hurt After Miscalculation in Firing Blast

VISALIA, July 2.—M. F. Woodard of the Ivanhoe district is in the Kaweah Hospital here with hands and face badly lacerated as result of a dynamite explosion while working at the site for a new packing-house. It is said his injuries would have been more serious had he not been so close to the explosive.

Parents Seek Runaway Boy

BAKERSFIELD, July 2.—Time was when the runaway youth tied his belongings in a red bandana handkerchief, hooked them on a stick and trudged down the road, at best hoping for a stray raft and a wandering river to help him on his way, but Tom Keays, 17-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Keays, 1911 California avenue, set out in the latest mode, with a new Ford, yellow wheels and everything, according to a complaint filed at police headquarters by his parents.

The youth is believed to have left for Los Angeles in company with another local boy. He is about 5 feet 6 inches in height, weighs 135 pounds, and has dark-brown hair.

GASOLINE DRINK FATAL

Baby Drinks from Cup of Cleaning Fluid That Her Brother Was Using to Clean Bicycle

PORTERVILLE, July 2.—Lela Maxine Helvey, 2-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Helvey of the Doyle Colony, at the Southeastern limits of this city, died almost instantly last night when she drank gasoline, mistaking it for water.

An older brother was cleaning his bicycle with gasoline and watching irrigation water at the same time. He put down the cupful of gasoline and went to examine the irrigation ditches, only to return and discover the baby dying.

Funeral services will be conducted from the Nazarene Church tomorrow morning, followed by interment in Plano Cemetery. Besides her parents, the child leaves eight brothers and sisters.

NOTICIAS MUNDIALES DE ULTIMA HORA

NOTAS TELEGRAFICAS

Se Despachan Guardias para Sofocar Motines de Huelguistas

SAN SEBASTIAN (España) Julio 2.—Con toda premura se despacharon hoy guardias civiles a las poblaciones vecinas, Renteria, Pasaje y Herrera, donde las huelgas tienen paralizados los negocios y el tráfico.

Los huelguistas de Herrera se apoderaron de un tranvia, echaron a los empleados y a los viajeros, y descarrilaron el vehiculo. Los guardias montados cargaron contra los manifestantes e hirieron a varios.

En las otras poblaciones los huelguistas se han limitado a desfilar por las calles. Teniendo a la mano guardias de refuerzo, no son de esperarse consecuencias graves.

Aviones en Misión Diplomática

OTTAWA (Ontario), Julio 2.—Cargados con $35,000 en billetes, dos aeroplanos han puesto hoy la proa hacia Ontario Septentrional, para ultimar las negociaciones de tratados con las tribus indigenas.

Se invertirá el dinero en pagar su tierra a los miembros de aquellas tribus que ya tienen celebrado un tratado con el gobierno provincial, de acuerdo con el cual, éste tomó algunos terrenos de los indios. También se gastará una parte en concertar convenios con los indios de Trout Lake, de Caimex Lake, de Severn y de Winisk. El vuelo de esos aviones será de 2500 millas, que cubrirán en treinta y cinco dias.

Un Donativo de Capone, que Causa Graves Disputas en un Club

MIAMI (Florida), Julio 2.—Debido a que su club se negó a devolver un donativo de $2500 hecho por Al Capone, capitán de gente maleante de Chicago, han dimitido el presidente y varios miembros de la directiva del Miami Civic Tourist Club.

Clyde A. Epperson, el presidente dimitente, dijo que el donativo había sido solicitado. El paso dado por los aludidos socios vino después de que se discutió por más de una semana si había de aceptarse o no el regalo.

En Defensa de la Posesión de Licor

NUEVA YORK, Julio 2.—La declaración de que, en sí misma, no es delito la posesión de licor, sirvió aquí de argumento ante un delegado federal, en favor de un parroquiano arrestado durante un "raid" en un cabaret. El abogado Frederick R. Coudert, Sr., defensor de Raymond Oakerman, que es el cliente detenido en Abril último en el restaurante de Hollywood, hizo ver que hace poco sostuvo la Suprema Corte Federal que no era ilícita la compra de licor embriagante, y que, por lo tanto, no puede ser legal la posesión, si no media el propósito de vender, fabricar o transportar.

"Decirle a una persona que puede lícitamente comprar licor; pero que, una vez éste en su poder, se le puede acusar de delito por el simple hecho de esa posesión, es hacer de la ley una farsa ridícula explotable por Gilbert y Sullivan, y a la que aludirá con su natural gracejo Will Rogers." Tal dijo el defensor, y luego agregó: "Si fuera cierto que la mera posesión de licor, sin prueba de que es un paso para su transporte, fabricación o venta, constituye un delito, entonces la ley de Volstead ha rebasado los limites de la Constitución, y es, por lo tanto, inconstitucional."

El delegado O'Neill alegó que otras autoridades han considerado la posesión de licor como prueba prima facie del propósito de vender, y le señaló a Ackerman $500 de fianza para salir mientras comparece en juicio. Coudert dijo estar dispuesto a llevar su defensa hasta la Suprema Corte de los Estados Unidos, si necesario fuere.

NOTAS LOCALES

El Director del "Cuenco de Hollywood" Desmiente que Vaya a Dimitir

El doctor Alfred Hertz, popular director del Cuenco de Hollywood, seguirá indefinidamente en tal puesto, según se supo ayer a ciencia cierta. No tienen, pues, fundamento los rumores que corrieron de que iba a renunciar.

Hertz dará principio el próximo martes a la novena temporada de las "Sinfonías a la Luz de las Estrellas". Actuará como director durante la primera semana de conciertos, y regresará aquí el año próximo, según se sirvió manifestar. Este es su octavo año como director del Cuenco.

Después de haber dirigido la Orquesta Sinfónica de San Francisco por quince años, Hertz se separó hace poco de ese puesto. Esa renuncia fue la que soltó las lenguas, y se empezó a decir que iba ya a abandonar la música profesional, y a irse a radicar en Europa. Al finalizar la temporada, irá a Europa por trigésim segunda vez; pero solamente de visita. Tal ha anunciado el hombre de la batuta.

Tan luego como hubo aprendido a escribir en esa forma, se separó del bufete y se fue a trabajar a un periódico, en el que escribió novelas tan buenas, que el público pagaba con gusto mucho dinero por leerlas. Al cabo de unos cuantos años era famoso Carlos Dickens (As soon as he had learned to write in this way, he left the lawyer's office and went to work on a newspaper. He wrote good stories—so very good, that people were glad to pay much money for them. In a few years Charles Dickens was famous).

No hay niño ni niña que no haya oído hablar de Dickens; muchos han leído ya en sus libros la historia de Oliver Twist, el hambriento chiquillo del hospicio, de la pequeña Nell y su abuelo, o de David Copperfield, quien, según dicen, era el propio Dickens (Every boy and girl has heard of Dickens; many have already read in his books about the hungry little poor-farm boy, Oliver Twist, or Little Nell and her grandfather, or David Copperfield, who, people say, was Dickens himself).

IDENTITY OF SUICIDE SOUGHT

Man Hurls Himself to Death in Front of Train

Southern Pacific Engineer Sees Him Too Late

Coroner Sets Inquest for Travers Fatality

VISALIA, July 2.—Coroner J. M. Hadley is seeking to establish identity of a man about 35 years of age who jumped from behind a tool shed at Traver, yesterday and hurled himself to death in front of the northbound Southern Pacific train No. 51. Apparently it was deliberate suicide, according to Joe MacComas, engineer, who saw him too late to avoid the accident.

The body was badly mutilated and bore no marks which might aid in his identification, according to Hadley, except three gold teeth in the upper jaw, one of which was knocked out.

The man was of stocky build, five feet nine inches tall and weighed about 170 pounds. His eyes were blue, hair medium light. He wore rough clothing and was apparently hitch hiking as he had soap, a safety razor outfit and other articles in his pockets. An extra shirt, coat and overcoat were carried in his roll.

An inquest will be conducted by Hadley tomorrow afternoon in this city.

Decline Shown in Death Rate of Tuberculosis

BUTTE (Mont.) July 2. (AP)—Tuberculosis will have ceased to be an epidemic disease by 1940, declared Dr. Allen K. Krause of the Desert Sanatorium of Arizona in a talk on pulmonary diseases here today before the annual convention of the Pacific Northwest Medical Association.

"We have had a drop in our tuberculosis death rate of from 240 to eighty since 1900," said Dr. Krause. "The support given by the public to fighting the disease," he continued, "is mainly responsible for this result. This showing is better yet in the case of children."

Veto Rumored for Harbor Bill

WASHINGTON, July 2. (AP)—Gossip that President Hoover might be planning to veto the rivers and harbors bill, carrying more than $120,000,000 for waterway development, found circulation today in the capital.

The President, however, gave no indication of what disposition he is contemplating for the measure. A final decision is expected from him tomorrow.

IMMORTAL NURSE TO BE PAID HONOR

Florence Nightingale's Death Anniversary Will be Signally Observed

Representing the Florence Nightingale Institute of Honorables, Miss Clara Jones, R.N., will entrain for the East tomorrow en route to England, where, August 13, next, she will place a wreath on the grave of Florence Nightingale in observance of the twentieth anniversary of the immortal war nurse's death. The grave is in the village churchyard at East Wellow, Hampshire.

Built on a base of chemically treated magnolia leaves, the wreath contains fifty-five silver leaves emblematic of America's forty-eight States and seven overseas possessions, and one red and one white rose, symbolizing, respectively, the District of Columbia and the nurses of the country. A gold-lettered ribbon bears a quotation from Longfellow's "A Lady With a Lamp," and the names of the academy of regents of the institute, as follows: Perry W. Weidner, president; Lucien N. Brunswig, Georgia Bryton, Ford A. Carpenter, Rufus B. Von KleinSmid, George H. Kress, Rev. Stewart P. McLennan, Orra E. Monnette, Edward J. Montague and D. W. Pontius.

Youth Killed in Fall While Seeking Work

Death yesterday returned a negative answer to the application for a job of a young man believed to be Art Ellis.

Ellis, if that's his name, made his application at 1632 East Sixth street, where a building is in course of construction.

"I'd like to see the boss," he told a workman anxiously. "Where can I find him?"

"Up there," replied the workman, pointing to a ladder leading to an upper floor.

The anxious seeker for employment started up the ladder, and when about twenty feet in the air lost his footing, and crashed on his head to the ground.

He was dead when picked up.

SANHUBER FATE DECIDED TODAY

Sentence Due This Morning in Oesterreich Case

Penalty May be Escaped on Legal Technicality

Defense Holds Manslaughter Has Been Outlawed

Regarded as having a good chance to escape the penalty of his conviction through a legal technicality, Otto Sanhuber, convicted Tuesday of manslaughter in connection with the murder eight years ago of Fred Oesterreich, is scheduled to appear in Superior Judge Hardy's court this morning.

When Sanhuber confronts the court his attorneys, Earl Wakeman and Orville Rogers, according to plans announced yesterday, will ask for an arrest of judgment on the ground that the three-year statute of limitations on a manslaughter offense has run in the Oesterreich case.

FREEDOM POSSIBLE

If the court rules with the defense the decision will be tantamount to setting the verdict aside and Sanhuber will be freed.

It was pointed out that on a straight charge of manslaughter a defendant must be tried within three years of the date on which the asserted offense took place. Sanhuber was indicted for murder, an offense that is never outlawed, but under the California criminal code the jury had a right to bring in a verdict of first-degree or second-degree murder or manslaughter.

DELAY POSSIBLE

While Judge Hardy tentatively set this morning as time for pronouncing judgment on the conviction, the matter may go over until next Monday if the defense attorneys do not wish to waive the privilege granted in the criminal code which specifies that a convicted man cannot be sentenced before two days have elapsed after the verdict is brought in.

While Sanhuber was fighting to gain his liberty, Attorneys Le Compte Davis and Jerry Geisler, representing Mrs. Walburga Oesterreich, widow of the murdered man and herself indicted in connection with his death, appeared in Judge Hardy's court yesterday morning and gained a continuance of her trial from next Wednesday to August 4. Mrs. Oesterreich was jointly indicted with Sanhuber but was granted a separate trial on motion of her attorneys.

PATENTED PAVING WINS IN COUNCIL

Renewal of License Voted Despite Charges Brought Against Its Use

Despite an impassioned oration by Councilman Williams in which he pleaded against the use of any type of patented paving in any street projects, the City Council yesterday voted to renew the license agreement with the Southern California Roads Company covering the use of Warrenite-bitulithic paving by the city in such projects as it may be specified for. The license agreement had been approved first by the Board of Public Works.

Williams did not direct his fire specifically against the Warrenite-bitulithic paving, but against patented paving in general. He said the excess cost of patented paving has not been justified by the results obtained.

"During the past year," he said, "the city spent $350,000 to resurface a patent-paving job not over five years old. Nevertheless, in the years 1927, 1928 and 1929, the assessment payers of Los Angeles were taxed $622,790.42 on patented paving over and above what it would have cost them to install unpatented paving of equal durability."

The vote in the Council on the renewal of the license agreement was 11 to 2, only Williams and Lewis being recorded in the negative.

Three public performances of old English, French and German plays are to be given this summer by students of the University of Southern California in the Touchstone Theater on the old campus. "Tartouffe," by Moliere, August 2, and "Mina Von Barnhelm," by Lessing, directed by Mary Bernice Buchanan Taylor, August 6.

PORT JOB TO BE SPEEDED

Breakwater Extension Can be Advanced by Year Through Fund Arrangement

A possible means of advancing by a year the beginning of work on the breakwater extension was suggested to the City Council yesterday in a resolution introduced by Councilman Henning. The Council adopted the resolution unanimously and thus passed the suggestion on to the Harbor Commission.

In the resolution it was pointed out that, while Congress has approved the rivers and harbors bill which contains the $7,000,000 item for the construction of the breakwater extension, the funds, in the ordinary course of Federal procedure, can not be made available until next July 1. Therefore, not even the work of preparing the plans and specifications can be begun until that time. This work in itself is expected to take from nine months to a year and, therefore, as the matter now stands, actual construction work will not be started for about two years.

It is the suggestion of Councilman Henning's resolution that the city advance the comparatively small sum of money required for drawing up the plans and specifications and then be reimbursed by the Federal government when the Federal appropriation is officially made.

The City Council approved the idea and has requested the Harbor Commission to take up the matter with the proper Federal officials and see if an agreement to that effect cannot be reached and thus enable the preliminary work on the project to be begun at once.

HIS HAND SHOT; SO'S VACATION

Roomer Cleans Revolver to Celebrate Fourth—Bang; He's in Hospital

The first official injury of the 1930 Fourth of July season was recorded yesterday when Frank Campbell, 32 years of age, a seaman, was treated at St. Vincent's Hospital for a revolver wound in his left hand, received, he told police, when he was cleaning his gun late Tuesday night in his room at 832 South Westlake street, preparatory to celebrating Independence Day.

A police squad headed by Detective Captain Edwards, Lieutenants Farstvedt and Filkas of the Georgia-street police station were yesterday engaged for several hours in attempting to solve a supposed murder mystery when Campbell's landlady, Mrs. M. Sullivan reported spattered blood and signs of a struggle in his room early yesterday morning. The corpus delicti was found, however, late in the afternoon in the hospital with hand and vacation plans both shot.

REMAINS OF STAR SAVED BY FRIENDS

Earle R. Williams's Body Placed in Permanent Crypt After Three Years

After lying for more than three years in a temporary receiving vault during a part of which time no funds were provided for its care, the body of Earle R. Williams, once idol of stage and film fans, has recently been provided with a permanent resting-place.

A little group of friends heard of the body's plight and with flowers, and hearts full of remembrance, got together and had the body placed in a permanent crypt in Forest Lawn Memorial Park at their expense. Its place now is among the last resting-places of some of the theater's greatest, saved, as one of the group expressed it, "probably from the potter's field."

Williams, a Sacramento boy who won fame on the stage under such as Belasco and then on the film, first in the old Vitagraph days, died here in April, 1927. He left a fortune that Probate Court records indicated was worth more than $250,000.

While she was yet in mourning, his widow testified in a recent court case involving her, she began to lose the fortune through relationship with a man to whom she was attracted. It dwindled away, she testified, even to the point where she sold her jewels to help him. For two years she made provision for her husband's body in temporary quarters and then was unable longer to do so. Williams's brother in San Francisco continued the provision when Mrs. Milton Cohen and Mrs. Tod Browning heard of the situation.

"A lot of his friends helped us and Mrs. Williams, too, did what she could," Mrs. Cohen said, "and we did only what we thought we should do for one who had been so good a friend to us all."

LEVIES CONFIRMED

Assessments were confirmed by the City Council yesterday for the improvement of One Hundred and Twelfth street between Avalon Boulevard and Figueroa street, Pico Boulevard between Crenshaw and Robertson Boulevards, a sidewalk installation, and La Brea avenue between Hollywood Boulevard and Sunset Boulevard. The Council also confirmed the assessments for the lighting of La Brea avenue between Franklin and Fountain avenues.

BOY YEARNS FOR RIDE ON RAILS

Youthful Air Veteran Seeks Innovation

Warren Hamilton and Father, Walter A. Hamilton

While countless American youngsters are debating how they are to get an airplane ride this summer 11-year-old Warren Hamilton is wondering how he is going to get out of taking a whole vacation by air and incidentally ride on a train for the first time.

For Warren, son of Walter A. Hamilton, vice-president of Aero Corporation of California, has done all his traveling by plane—for the last five years has gone with his flying father on air vacations and been up in between times with a total of more than 300 flying hours to his credit, which in miles would take him nearly twice around the world.

Certainly, he's going to be an aviator and spends most of his time at Standard Flying School, but he wants a train to carry him on a vacation for a change.

Change Ordered in Police Duties

Inauguration of a new plan under which Detective Inspectors Davidson and Longuevan will be in charge of all homicidal and robbery investigations, respectively, was announced yesterday by Chief of Detectives Taylor. The plan will be effective beginning today, Taylor said.

Both Davidson and Longuevan, who are experienced in all branches of criminal investigation, will have headquarters at Central Station, but will co-operate with police in every division.

COUNCIL SETS HEARING ON STREET PROJECTS

The City Council voted yesterday to hold a hearing on the 23rd inst. to determine whether bonds in the amount of $61,135.31 should be issued and sold to obtain the money required to pay for the land condemned for the opening, widening and laying out of West Boulevard between Sixtieth street and Florence avenue and portions of several adjoining streets. This proceeding is being carried out under the Acquisition and Improvement Act of 1927, otherwise known as the Mattoon Act.

SOLOMON'S RULE WORKS IN REVERSE ON WRITER

Jacques Duval

Had it not been that his father forbade him to write, Jacques Duval confessed yesterday, he would not now occupy a leading position among French playwrights nor would his book have been the July selection of the Literary Guild of America. Incidentally, the book chosen by the guild is Duval's first attempt at writing a novel.

Duval is in Hollywood to write for talking pictures and to supervise French productions at Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer. In an interview yesterday, when it became known that he had received the guild award for July, Duval told how he got started as a playwright.

It seems his father was so possessed of the thought that Jacques would never be a writer that he went so far as to tell Duval he would double any money he made from his writings.

"Poor father would be broke today if I had held him to his promise," Duval said yesterday. "Merely because he forbid me, I set out determined to make a name for myself as a playwright. I have had more or less success."

"Wooden Soldiers" is his first attempt at a novel.

"I wanted to satisfy myself that I really could write," he said. "I thought writing a novel would suit better my lazy mood, but I discovered it more difficult than writing a play."

His book is an ironic, though hi-

PRESIDENT OF PLANNING BOARD QUITS

Donald M. Baker Says Pressure of Business Has Made Step Necessary

Donald M. Baker, consulting engineer who has been a member of the City Planning Commission for three years and has been its president for the past year, submitted his resignation yesterday to Mayor Porter to take effect August 1. Pressure of private business affairs was given as the reason for his step.

No request for his resignation had been made by the Mayor, Baker said, and Mayor Porter not only confirmed that statement but added that in accepting the resignation he regrets extremely that Baker feels it necessary to give up his commissionership.

"During the past year while I have been serving as president," Baker's letter of resignation says, "the work of the commission has taken from two to three days a week of my time. I feel, however, that good results have been accomplished in a more efficient and productive functioning of the commission. However, the time given has been a great sacrifice to my own personal affairs.

"As a consulting engineer in private practice, my connection with the Planning Commission has also prevented me from accepting work of an engineering nature, which has come to me. I do not feel that I can continue to make this financial sacrifice any longer, and therefore hand you my resignation, to become effective August 1, 1930."

Inquest Today in Train Death

Inquest into the death of Margarito Ferrer, 43 years of age, ranch hand of Cudahy, whose body was found yesterday morning between the tracks of the Union Pacific system right of way opposite his home, will be conducted today at 2 p.m. at the Allerdyce Funeral Chapel, Bell.

Ferrer, according to Deputy Sheriff Morrel, apparently was killed by a southbound freight train between 1 a.m. and 2 a.m. yesterday morning. His body was found by a section foreman.

CITY'S BIRTHDAY FETE PROPOSED

County Offers Co-operation in Sesquicentennial

Month's Fiesta Advocated by Supervisor Graves

Century-and-Half's Progress Worthy of Celebration

Los Angeles county will co-operate with the city in plans for a sesquicentennial next year to observe the 150th anniversary of Los Angeles' founding.

This was the announcement yesterday of Sidney T. Graves, chairman of the Board of Supervisors, who declared he will appoint a committee to confer with city officials on plans for a celebration that will focus the eyes of the entire world on the growth and importance of Los Angeles.

Relative to the county's part in the program Supervisor Graves last night said:

MARKED BY FEW

"Few people in Los Angeles, let alone the rest of the nation, realize that the city is nearing its 150th birthday. To me, a resident for forty-five years, who has watched and marveled at the tremendous growth of the city of which I am so proud, this is, indeed, a signficant occasion.

"As a County Supervisor whose district, the Third, lies almost wholly within the city limits, I feel that I may with propriety advance my suggestions, although I believe that city officials should dominate in the execution.

"My first step would be the formation of a joint committee from the Board of Supervisors and the City Council to arrange for a proper observance of this anniversary.

BEST OBSERVANCE

"This committee, I feel, should call a meeting of representatives of the various civic groups, the Chamber of Commerce, welfare and promotion bodies, women's clubs, railroad and steamship lines, hotel operators and others to determine the kind of celebration which will bring most favorable notice to the city.

"My own idea concerns a marine show that will focus the eyes of the world on Los Angeles Harbor, to be followed by an aircraft meet that will demonstrate what the skyways mean to the future of our city.

"For a birthday celebration of such magnitude the city should declare a festival period of at least thirty days, during which time could be presented a series of magnificent pageants portraying the four centuries of Southern California progress since the days of Balboa.

WORLD'S TALENT HERE

"Los Angeles is the world's greatest concentration point for showmanship talent, due to the motion-picture industry. With such talent available we shall be able to put on a celebration that will bring hundreds of thousands of visitors to the city, a fitting forerunner of the Olympic Games in 1932, which will again put Los Angeles in the world's spotlight."

Supervisor Graves further declared he had discussed the plan with many of his friends and had received a most favorable reaction. Some of them had suggested that during the celebration the city be en fete in Spanish festival colors and that the citizens be encouraged to don the costumes of old Spanish days.

Weldon Canyon Road to Relieve Holiday Traffic

In order to relieve traffic congestion on San Fernando Road over the holiday and week-end, the California Highway Commission has arranged to open the new Weldon Canyon road to traffic beginning at 5 o'clock this evening. It will be closed again at 7:30 a.m. Monday until the shoulders of the road have been completed, work that will require some weeks.

This new highway leaves San Fernando Road at Tunnel Station at a point where San Fernando Road crosses the Southern Pacific tracks south of Newhall Tunnel. It rejoins the old road about eight and one-half miles north at a point just south of the Santa Clara River bridge north of Saugus. Motorists destined to Mojave and the Owens Valley should use the Newhall Tunnel route instead of the new road.

TRI-STATE PICNIC SCHEDULED

Former residents of New Mexico, Arizona and Nevada will join forces the 18th inst., at a picnic-reunion in Bixby Park, Long Beach. Judge M. C. Spicer, Edgar T. Fee and Hugh L. Dickson are announced as the speakers.

TRIO NAMED IN FRAUD QUIZ

Three Brokers First to be Named by Grand Jury in Investigation of Activities Here

J. J. Costello, W. W. Costello and Frank Creasey, officials of the Commonwealth Securities Company, Los Angeles stock brokerage firm, were indicted by the county grand jury yesterday on charges of grand theft. Although the indictment was secret, the names of the defendants were released by Capt. J. B. Fox, chief of Sheriff Traeger's fugitive detail, after Creasey had surrendered and obtained his release under $5000 bond.

The other two defendants have communicated with Capt. Fox and announced that they will surrender as soon as they complete arrangements for their bonds.

The indictment charges the three defendants with defrauding investors of approximately $28,000 which investigators assert was intrusted to them to purchase certain stocks. Instead, it is charged, the money was misappropriated and used for other speculative ventures.

The indictment is the first to be returned in the grand jury inquiry into asserted bucketshop conditions in Los Angeles.

The investigation thus far has involved seven brokerage firms, whose licenses have been suspended by the State Corporation Commissioner. Statements of scores of investors who have appeared at the District Attorney's office are being prepared and other evidence is being assembled for presentation to the grand jury when it resumes the investigation next week.

According to Dep. Dist.-Atty.

The Lancer

by Harry Carr

So many people ask me how to spend a motoring vacation in California that I am thinking of buying a sombrero and a Navajo bracelet and setting up as a guide.

The truth is the most interesting trip is the oldest trip. Camino Real—from mission to mission.

This is true even if you are not especially interested in missions. They happen to be in interesting places.

RAMONA'S COUNTRY

I would drive to San Diego by the back-door route, stopping at Riverside, up through the Ramona country to Temecula, then to Pala, where there is an interesting Indian reservation; through Warner's Ranch and the Hot Springs; through the old battlefield of San Pasqual, thence to San Diego.

THE FIRST WHITE FOOT

There is a lot to see in San Diego—historic and otherwise. I would not miss Ballast Point, where Cabrillo landed—the first white man to set foot on California—or the two places where Father Serra established missions.

FOUR MISSIONS

San Luis Rey, San Juan Capistrano, San Gabriel are all colorful and are in interesting places.

The next is San Fernando and on through to San Buenaventura Mission.

THROUGH SAN MARCOS

After seeing the wonderful old Santa Barbara Mission turn up through San Marcos Pass instead of following the Coast Road. This brings you to Santa Ynez. This is set in the middle of a town called Solvang, which is more Danish than Copenhagen.

BEAUTIFUL RUINS

From Santa Ynez cut across the valley to Lompoc, where the ruins of Purisima stand crumbling in the sun. This old mission is a wreck, but beautiful. Lompoc is interesting in that most of the commercial mustard in the world is grown there.

A LOVELY LAGOON

San Luis Obispo Mission has been made over, but has a lot of interesting stuff, and near it is Morro Rock, one of the loveliest spots in California. There is a little lagoon harbor like Balboa. This is interesting country—one of the stamping grounds of Tiburcio Vasqez, the bandit whose lookout rock can still be seen.

OFF TOURIST TRAILS

About thirty-five miles north of El Paso de Robles turn off to Jolon. This is a quaint old California stage town. The little-known Mission San Antonio de Padua is generally agreed to be the most beautiful of all. Its setting is just about the same as in the old days. Civilization hasn't crowded in yet. Vasquez used to hide out at the old inn at Jolon.

SAN JUAN BAUTISTA

Below Salinas are the ruins of Soledad—paradise for painters. Only a few walls remain, but the mystery and charm are considerable.

North of Salinas, the other side of San Juan grade, is the best of them all—San Juan Bautista. The mission stands on a square around which is an old California town absolutely untouched. The hotel is older than the mission. The old home of Gen. Castro is

Police Conclude Blackmail Letter Crank's Work

Death Threat Investigation Barren of Results

Guard Maintained at Home of Theater Man

Belief that a death note received by Alexander Pantages, retired theater owner, might be the work of a crank instead of a Black Hand gang was expressed yesterday by detectives who have been assigned to investigate the case. The note demanded $10,000 under threat of death to Pantages, his wife and two daughters.

Pantages received the letter on Saturday, June 28, he told police, but the matter was not made public at that time in order to give investigators an opportunity to apprehend the sender.

The postmark showed the missive was mailed at the Palms postoffice at 9 a.m. on June 27 and was received by Pantages on the following day. It was typewritten on ordinary manuscript paper and police point out that its wording betrays a low grade of intelligence on the part of the writer. It was signed, "The Committee of Six."

FOLLOWS ORDERS

The letter demanded that Pantages indicate his compliance with the proposal by inserting a classified ad in an afternoon paper. This was done, the millionaire said, and in the meantime police and detectives were notified.

The text of the letter follows:

"This is from some people who know you years ago—it is a demand—perhaps you can guess who it is—we do not care. We demand three things of you—the first is money. If you do not come across we strike at Carmen and then we take Lois—after you have suffered will come your time. If you want to gamble the life of your wife and daughters and not pay us, go ahead, but you will regret it.

NO MARKED MONEY

"Collect $10,000 in $100 bills. Do not try marked bills as we know marked money. We will collect it later in quite a safe way. Your first step will be to put an ad in the paper under lost and found—this is the ad: 'Lost billfold containing money, papers and Elks' lodge card. Liberal reward. Phone TRinity 6321.' This will let us know you are ready to do business. Have this ad in Monday at the latest. We will carry out our threat—don't go wrong on that—Don't be a fool and risk your family's life. Yours isn't worth anything and your family's won't be worth a plugged nickel if you think you can get away without coughing up.

(Signed)

"THE COMMITTEE OF SIX."

Pantages told police he had no idea who had sent the letter. His home is being kept under surveillance, police officials said.

CASE FOR LAW'S TEETH, BY GUM!

Wife's Exhibit Fills Court With Indignation as He Rasps Out Decree

That the California divorce law has teeth was proved by Mrs. Eva P. O'Connell in Superior Judge Westover's court, where yesterday she was granted a legal separation from John J. O'Connell.

Mrs. O'Connell came into the courtroom in a toothless condition, explaining that her husband had knocked her molars out.

"But the law has teeth in cases like yours, madam, and you'll get the relief of a divorce," remarked the court as he signed the decree.

Army Aviator Testifies in Air Death Action

Aerial mishaps were described yesterday in Superior Judge Keetch's court, where Mrs. Ethel May Di Fiore's suit for $50,000 damages is on trial. She is suing the Mutual Aircraft Company, which employed her husband, Dominic Di Fiore, as pilot at the time he crashed to death near Bakersfield on August 11, 1928.

Lieut. Ed F. M. Deeds, an army flyer, testified for Mrs. Di Fiore. He asserted that the aircraft corporation had been negligent in conditioning Di Fiore's plane and advanced the theory that a defective wing crumpled in midair.

Mrs. Di Fiore narrated her version of her husband's death, asserting that the wing was defective and that it buckled under ordinary air strain. She denied the assertions of stunting.

Robert J. Sullivan is attorney for Mrs. Di Fiore, and Hubert T. Morrow represents the aircraft corporation.

CENTENARIAN HERE GETS HOOVER'S BEST WISHES

"Dear Mrs. Sheetz:

"I send you most cordial congratulations upon your 100th birthday which marks a notable milestone in a life of high usefulness and valuable public service. I do pray that every blessing may be yours.

"Yours, faithfully

(Signed)

"HERBERT HOOVER."

That message from the nation's Chief Executive is one of the many presents received yesterday by Mrs. M. M. Sheetz, who today will celebrate the 100th birthday anniversary of her birth at the home of her daughter, Mrs. R. S. Lewis, 2136 West Thirty-first street.

Alert in body and keen of mind, Mrs. Sheetz spent the day yesterday reading The Times and conversing with friends on topics of local and national interest.

"Prohibition? Of course it's a good thing," said Mrs. Sheetz. "Talk about taking away a person's individual rights! That's ridiculous. No one has and never did have a right to do wrong."

Especially interested in youth and education, Mrs. Sheetz declared that the criticism of moral laxity in modern youth is unfounded.

"Certainly young folks of today make mistakes, but the human race, including both sexes and all ages, have made mistakes since time immemorial," said Mrs. Sheetz. "Old Socrates, about 400 B. C., complained that the children of his day were incorrigible, much worse than the children of preceding generations, but Socrates was a cynic—and it seems he has a host of descendants."

Mrs. Sheetz, who is a Christian Scientist, said that Jesus laid down the simplest and at the same time the most profound doctrines ever taught.

"To work for others and to forget one's-self and one's petty troubles is the surest, most scientific way to happiness," said the philosophic centenarian.

She was born in Tioga county, Pennsylvania, and is a descendant of Gen. Elder Bradford, who came over in the Mayflower and later became Governor of Massachusetts.

Mrs. M. M. Sheetz

She spent her girlhood in New York, later residing in Minnesota, Idaho and Illinois.

Before coming to Los Angeles, nine years ago, she had lived for forty years at Canyon City, Colo., in which city she was a member of the school board and prominent in civic and political affairs.

Mrs. Sheetz who, according to her own words, "was, is and will be a Republican," attended the famous Lincoln-Douglas debate at Freeport and was present at the inauguration of Lincoln. She has seven grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

WIFE SUES FORMER CULVER CITY MAYOR

Clarence V. Loop, former Mayor of Culver City, yesterday was sued for divorce by Mrs. Pearl E. Loop, who asks for a community share of $50,000 worth of property. Mrs. Loop asks custody of her 16-year-old daughter, and "appropriate" alimony, and an injunction to prevent her husband leaving the State with $1700 she says he recently received from the sale of his insurance agency. The couple was married in 1905, and separated yesterday.

SOLOMON'S ALL WRONG ON CHILD

larious picture of the stupidities of the recent war. It is a story about a soldier who never got to the front.

Duval, 37 years of age, is a rather shy man. It is difficult to get him to talk about himself. He would rather talk about the beauties of Southern California or of New York, or of interesting things of Paris and France. His explanation is that when "one talks about one's self one is apt to make blunders or say stupid things."

He hates honors, as well, he confided, for honors mean speeches and troubles. He dislikes speeches but doesn't mind troubles, so much, when they're of his own making.

Like all Frenchmen, he said, there is a triangle in his life, but it has no feminine twist. His triangle is Paris, New York and Los Angeles, and on these three interesting locales he now intends to spend all his time.

In ten years Duval has written fourteen outstanding stage successes, the most notable of which was "Her Cardboard Lover." His new play "Etienne," reaches Broadway this fall. He now is engaged in writing a play as well as a novel outside his studio duties.

Duval arrived a month ago with his family and has taken a house in Hollywood, to remain until early fall. He plans also to write for the screen.

THREE INDICTED IN FRAUDS QUIZ

Hammon, in charge of grand jury matters, the inquiry concerns a total loss of approximately $1,000,000 which Los Angeles investors assert was taken from them fraudulently in deals with certain stock brokers.

Much of this money actually has been traced into the hands of brokers, who failed to invest it as directed, but used it in their own speculations, according to D. H. Clark, chief of the District Attorney's complaint department, who aided Hammon in preparing the case.

the most perfect piece of pre-gringo architecture now standing. The town and the mission are both perfect peaches.

This mission gives a better idea than any of the others of the whole establishment as it was—the kitchens, wine cellars, olive mills, etc.

I don't get so much kick out of the missions farther north. I always swing across from San Juan to Santa Cruz and Monterey.

All along the line there are good hotels—many of them quaint and old. The roads are perfect and the drive easy. And in every mission town there are other things to see—wonders of nature like the Pinnacles National Monument and history six feet deep. It can be made in two or three days, but two weeks would be better. Take a history with you.

TRAEGER MAKES FIRST MAJOR CAMPAIGN TALK

Launching the first major move of his campaign for re-election as Sheriff, William I. Traeger addressed an estimated gathering of 1200 diners at the Biltmore yesterday noon. The Sheriff outlined his policies, touching on the honor camp system inaugurated by him, a proposed industrial home for women and the growth of the Sheriff's office during his incumbency. He pointed out that the personnel during this period has increased from less than 100 to more than 900 and that the office polices county territory with a population of approximately 500,000 persons.

PLEA FOR YOUNG SCORED BY BUSH

Anti-Saloon League Action Called Unrepresentative

Membership Not Consulted by Board Politicians

Links Body With Governor's Wringing-Wet Support

Indorsement of Gov. Young's candidacy for re-election by the State board of the California Anti-Saloon League in Los Angeles Tuesday was yesterday described in a statement issued by George S. Bush, Southern California chairman of the Fitts-for-Governor campaign, as unrepresentative of the dry forces of California and as the action of individuals already associated with Young's re-election fight.

"Those voting the indorsement are for the most part actively identified with the Governor's re-election campaign," the statement says. "Some of them are members of his campaign committee. Others, including Marshall Stimson, chairman of the Young-for-Governor organization in Southern California, are officially connected with the Young administration.

"The indorsement was not authorized by the league's membership. The members of the league cannot be 'delivered' to any candidate by a couple of dozen Young sympathizers, campaign workers, and State officials who happen at the time to be sitting as members of the organization's executive board.

"The action taken by Gov. Young's close political associates and official subordinates is an open confession of his political weakness and of the lengths to which they are willing to go to bolster up his candidacy.

"PURELY POLITICAL"

"The purely political character of the action is all the more apparent by reason of the fact that Gov. Young's chief newspaper support in his campaign at this time is doing all in its power through editorials, cartoons and otherwise to destroy prohibition and to defeat the very objects of the Anti-Saloon League and kindred bodies.

"Under such circumstances the indorsement is unimportant so far as it may have a bearing on the bulk of the votes of the dry forces of California in the approaching election for Governor.

"A far more representative expression of the sentiment of dry sympathizers occurred in Los Angeles last week when, during a convention of the Los Angeles City Federation of the Women's Christian Temperance Union, a resolution was overwhelmingly approved recommending the election of Dist.-Atty. Fitts as the successor to Young.

"This recommendation was made in open meeting without solicitation or political manipulation."

WILL STICK TO ISSUE

"Those working for the election of Fitts will not be drawn into any controversy on this matter, but will continue to address themselves to 'the only issues pertinent to the contest—excessive cost of State government, inadequate service by State departments and the general and specific reasons for making a change in the administration of State affairs."

The State board of the Anti-Saloon League, meeting in secret session throughout the day Tuesday, voted its indorsement of Young after what was described as one of the stormiest sessions in its existence. The exact phrasing of the indorsement did not become public until yesterday and revealed the fact that the dry committeemen, despite their political and official connection with the Young-for-Governor campaign, consider Dist.-Atty. Fitts in every way entitled to the league's approval. Only the fact that Young is the incumbent, according to the resolution, induced the action in his behalf.

TEXT OF RESOLUTION

The text of the resolution follows:

"It has been the custom of the Anti-Saloon League and of the organized dry forces generally when there was danger of division of the dry vote in an important election, as against wet candidates, to make an indorsement usually of the incumbent if otherwise acceptable.

"From the standpoint of the forces represented in the Anti-Saloon League, the campaign for Governor has developed two major candidates. They are Gov. Young and Dist.-Atty. Fitts.

"Both Gov. Young and Dist.-Atty. Fitts have notable achievements to their credit. Gov. Young's record in twenty years of State service shows a determined and consistent stand for all moral and humanitarian measures. He stumped the State for the Wright Act. He is a fine exponent of efficiency and hard work in public service. The re-election of Gov. Young will be a guarantee of the continuance of this good record strengthened by experience and prestige in the highest office of the State.

"EITHER QUALIFIED"

"Buron Fitts served the State as Lieutenant-Governor during one session of the Legislature. He resigned from this position to be elected District Attorney of Los Angeles county and his dramatic battles with entrenched evil in that county will not soon be forgotten. Under his District Attorneyship corruption is being driven to cover.

"Either of these two men qualifies for the Governorship. Each is personally clean and politically trustworthy. But we cannot elect both and a vote divided between them might result in the defeat of both and placing in the Governorship one who is not qualified for that high office. It, therefore, is no disparagement of Mr. Fitts that, since the moral forces must unite or meet defeat, we strongly urge union of the moral forces in support of Gov. Young.

"The fact that the election of one candidate necessarily involves the defeat of the other will not deprive California of the services of Dist.-Atty. Fitts. The State seriously needs Gov. Young's steady hand at the helm and Los Angeles county as seriously needs Dist.-Atty. Fitts to finish the difficult job he has so well begun.

"We, therefore, urge the united support in the Republican primary of Gov. Young."

LIBRARIES TO CLOSE

PATERNITY AT ISSUE IN WILL SUIT

Woman Claims Share in $190,000 Lenk Estate as Illegitimate Child

Part of a $190,000 estate is sought by Mrs. Martha Louise Graeser, whose attorneys yesterday argued before Superior Judge Anderson on a motion to determine their client's heirship. Mrs. Graeser is a claimant to participation in the estate of John C. Lenk, who died in Honolulu on April 14, 1929. Judge Anderson took the matter under submission.

Mrs. Graeser asserts that she is an illegitimate daughter of Lenk and that he legally adopted her. Lenk's will has a clause reading: "I intentionally and purposely omit providing for Louise Graf, my adopted daughter." Graf was Mrs. Graeser's maiden name.

She contends that the widow, Mrs. Sarah B. Lenk, used undue influence to induce Lenk to disinherit her. Mrs. Graeser asserts that Lenk acknowledged paternity in a document signed in 1904.

Lenk's will leaves an estate yielding an income of $6000 a year, to the widow and two sons, Frank C. and John A. Lenk.

Brooding Widow Takes Own Life

Mrs. Laura McMonigle, 56 years of age, reputedly wealthy widow of 2015 West Forty-first Place, ended her life yesterday by inhaling gas, according to a police report. She is believed to have been mentally unbalanced from brooding over the recent death of her husband.

The body was discovered by a child of the family with which Mrs. McMonigle boarded.

Hard Pimples on Face Burned Terribly. Healed by Cuticura.

"On account of eating too many sweets my face broke out so badly that I was embarrassed to go out on the street. The pimples were hard and red and burned terribly. The trouble lasted about four months. I tried other remedies but they did not seem to do any good. I sent for a free sample of Cuticura Soap and Ointment and it helped me. STEAMSHIP LINE HEAD ARRESTED

Theft of $136,000 Charged to Frank C. Hill

Indictment Voted Secretly by Grand Jury

California Eastern Company Funds Involved

Frank C. Hill, president of the California Eastern Steamship Company, was arrested yesterday by Deputy Sheriffs Willey and Pennywitt in his office at 419 South Hill street on a warrant issued under a grand jury indictment charging him with the theft of approximately $136,000 of his firm's funds.

Hill was booked in the County Jail in lieu of $25,000 bond recommended by the grand jury.

The indictment against the steamship executive was brought secretly by the grand jury Tuesday after hearing the testimony of numerous witnesses concerning his asserted manipulations.

For some time grand jury and District Attorney's investigators have been checking records of the firm, it was disclosed, following complaints by a group of minority stockholders in the firm.

The inquiry revealed that Hill had transferred money into a bank account held under the name of Frank A. Hill in sums varying from $2000 to $25,000, according to Percy Hammon, deputy District Attorney in charge of grand jury matters. The indictment charges fourteen specific counts of theft.

The California Eastern Steamship Company offices are at 453 South Spring street.

Hill is scheduled to appear before Superior Judge Wood today for arraignment on the charges, at which time he will be given an opportunity to furnish bond. At the time of arraignment, Judge Wood will fix the date of his plea.

In the County Jail Hill denied misappropriating the funds, stating that he had invested the money in the interests of his company and that instead of being defrauded of their investments, the stockholders probably will realize a profit.

All-Year Club Congratulated on Prize Award

Many congratulatory messages from various parts of the nation have been received by officials of the All-Year Club, Southern California's national tourist advertising organization, since the organization was awarded for the third consecutive year the championship for the most effective and result-getting community advertising campaign in Western United States and Hawaii, according to an announcement yesterday.

The award was made at the annual advertising competition held as a feature of the recent convention of the Pacific Advertising Clubs Association in Spokane.

Competition included advertisers from Canada to Mexico and from Colorado to Hawaii. The prize-winning exhibit proved that Southern California's climate and scenery are being successfully presented on a dignified and sound merchandising basis and in a manner which has attracted international attention.

Ousted Police Officer Given Back His Post

A. V. Kanatsher, dismissed from the police department more than a year ago for nonpayment of a repair bill on his automobile, yesterday was ordered restored to duty by the Police Commission following an opinion by Deputy City Attorney Kitzmiller that he had been illegally removed because there was no rule removing officers for debt when action was taken against Kanatsher.

Under the circumstances Kanatsher is entitled to full pay during the time he has been off the department but he agreed to accept six months' pay in lieu thereof.

Ever since his removal Kanatsher, who has a wife and two children, has been seeking restoration to the department, but he failed to get any action until his attorney, Paul Taylor, informed the commission that Kanatsher was a member of the famous Escadrille during the World War.

Schoen's Death Believed Due to Poison Potion

The death of Davis A. Schoen, 60 years of age, on June 30, first believed to have been due to natural causes, yesterday was listed as suicidal, when post-mortem examination revealed traces of cyanide in the stomach.

Schoen was found dead in a room at the Elks' Club a few hours after he had registered there at 10:30 a.m., June 30. The body was discovered by Secretary Ferguson of the club and police were notified. Since there were no outward indications of suicide, the police attributed his death to a sudden stroke.

Inquiry disclosed that Schoen, who was president of the Star Shoe Company, according to his son-in-law and business partner, M. H. Stepdt, recently had been greatly depressed.

ELECTROCUTED MAN'S SISTER SOUGHT HERE

The Times yesterday was asked in a telegram from W. L. A. Drews of the Dayton Power and Light Company, Dayton, O., to aid in locating in Los Angeles a Margaret Stewart, sister of William Baker, an employee who was electrocuted accidentally in the eastern city. According to the wire Baker's identification card stated his sister lives at 4605 Eagledale avenue, Los Angeles. At that address no one was found who knew either Baker or Margaret Stewart.

WILD RUMOR SAYS EATON WILL RESIGN

Story Brings Denial from Engineer and Flood of Applicants for Job

Circulation of unfounded rumors to the effect that E. C. Eaton, chief engineer of the county flood control district, is to resign or be removed from his post yesterday brought a flood of letters to the Board of Supervisors, and a few calls in person from engineers seeking the position.

Where the story originated no one around the Hall of Records seemed to know, least of all Eaton himself and the board members.

"It is all news to me," Engineer Eaton declared. "I certainly have no intention of resigning at this time in the midst of our comprehensive plan for carrying on with the flood-control project for San Gabriel Dam."

Members of the Board of Supervisors who could be seen late yesterday also were surprised and puzzled to know where the rumor of the engineer's removal came from, and what inspired it.

SWAIN NEAR DEATH FROM FIGHT BLOW

Rivals for Girl's Love Battle it Out in Front of Her Home

A fistic duel, assertedly fought for the love of Miss Marion Woodward, 23 years of age, 239 South Fremont street, by E. E. Vinson and Jack Brandt, may cause the death of Vinson, it was announced by police surgeons yesterday after he was treated at the Georgia-street Receiving Hospital. Vinson is now at the General Hospital, where it is reported he is suffering from a possible basal skull fracture.

The asserted battle was staged in front of Miss Woodward's home early yesterday morning when the two rivals met face to face and Brandt is said to have challenged Vinson to "fight it out, here and now."

Brandt, whose address is 635 West Fourth street, was arrested yesterday and booked on suspicion of assault with a deadly weapon.

Sewage of City Yields Pure Water

Water recovered from the Los Angeles sewage system was sampled and approved—at least tentatively—in a practical demonstration before the Board of Water and Power Commissioners yesterday.

Chief Water Engineer Van Norman brought to the board meeting a gallon bottle of the water recovered at the experimental city sewage plant. He offered a drink to President Haynes of the board. Mr. Haynes politely waived the privilege and suggested that the reporters present be honored.

A reporter offered to drink a whole glass of the water if Haynes would drink even a little. Amid bantering challenges from fellow board members, Haynes drank about an inch of water poured out for him while the reporter swallowed a glassful. It was good water. Van Norman will demonstrate the plant to the board in the near future inasmuch as the process is likely to become a great factor in the future water supply of the city.

Witnesses Tell of Seeing Man Mistreat Dogs

Statements made by several children that Chester Johnson of 412 North Orlando street poured ammonia over the heads of two dogs were corroborated by other witnesses yesterday in Municipal Judge Wood's court, where Johnson is on trial for cruelty to animals.

Stanley Wilson of 754 North Alfred street said he saw Johnson catch a small terrier and pour ammonia over its head. Other neighbors followed Wilson on the witness stand. Judge Wood refused to allow one of the dogs said to have been mistreated by Johnson to be introduced as evidence.

Johnson's defense was started yesterday with Florence M. Brown, said to be a relative, as the first witness. She said the dogs scratched up his flower beds, ate goldfish and annoyed the Johnsons greatly. Other defense witnesses will be called today.

PLAY WILL BE GIVEN IN WESTWOOD HILLS

The newly organized community group of Westwood Hills Players will present their first major production, "Clarence," by Booth Tarkington, on Saturday evening, the 9th inst., and Friday evening, the 25th inst., in the Selby-avenue school auditorium at 8 o'clock. The same cast will also appear in this production at the summer conference at Pacific Palisades. Direction of the play is in the hands of Loran Dews, who is connected with the Hollywood Playcrafters. Dudley Gordon appears in the title role. Other members of the cast are Marie Littlefield, Guila Marshall, Jeanne Austen, Helen Clarke, Ruth Bryan, Cyrus Hampton, Carleton Evans, Dr. Gerald Bryan and Oscar Bryan.

MINNEAPOLIS PARTY DELVING INTO RUINS

Excavations in the Mimbres Valley, New Mexico, have been started by an expedition from the Minneapolis Institute of Art, headed by Dr. Albert E. Jenks of the University of Minnesota's anthropological department, according to word received by Bruce Bryan, Hollywood archeologist. The site being unearthed is known as the Galaz ruin, where in 1927 an expedition from the Southwest Museum here found a buried pueblo in which reposed many pieces of ancient Mimbres pottery.

BERMAN TELLS BRIBERY STORY

Buying Up of Julian Jurors Related in Detail

Fiction of Realty Purchase Insisted on by One

State Expects to Rest With Today's Testimony

A story of corruption and bribery involving members of the first Julian jury in 1928 was told to another jury of nine women and three men in Superior Judge Wilson's court yesterday when Jacob Berman, appearing as the principal witness against Louis Krause, on trial on bribery conspiracy charges, testified. Berman occupied the witness stand the greater part of the day.

On direct examination by Dep. Dist.-Atty. Jones the former business associate of S. C. Lewis in the Julian Petroleum Corporation told the jury of having paid John Groves, a member of the Julian jury, $5000 in cash for his vote of not guilty.

CLOAKED BRIBE

Berman then explained in detail how through Louis Krause, acting as a real estate agent, he had purchased a house for $16,000 from Frank Grider, another member of the jury.

In the Grider deal Berman declared that all the dickering with Grider was done through Krause and that he never saw Grider except in the courtroom. Krause, according to Berman, told him that Grider refused to accept any money for his vote but insisted that his house be purchased for $16,000.

DEFENSE SCORES

On cross-examination by Attorneys S. S. Hahn, W. O. Graf and W. C. Hamilton, Berman admitted that he did not know what Krause had told Grider and did not know whether the juror knew that his vote was being represented as sold by Krause. He also stated that, as far as he knew, Grider never did have knowledge that he was purchasing the house.

Today at least ten other prosecution witnesses will take the stand, according to Jones, to complete the State case against Krause. At the close of the session today, court will adjourn until next Monday morning, when the State is expected to rest and the defense to open with the first of some dozen witnesses.

BERMAN 'BROKE' ACCEPTS PUBLIC DEFENDER'S AID

Jacob Berman, classed as a millionaire before the Julian Petroleum Corporation collapse, is now unable to obtain sufficient funds to pay attorney's fees during his approaching trial and must accept the services of a public defender, it was revealed in Superior Judge Schauer's court yesterday.

Upon Berman's request Judge Schauer ordered Frederic H. Vercoe, public defender, to take charge of Berman's defense and he prepared for trial Monday. At the same time the court declined to free Otto Christensen, Berman's attorney of record, from the case completely. He instructed Christensen to aid the public defender in preparing the case and to offer any necessary aid during the trial.

After issuance of the order, Franklin Padan, chief deputy public defender, conferred with representatives of the District Attorney's office and announced that his office will announce today who is to defend Berman.

Berman is scheduled to go to trial charged with forgery of stock certificates and embezzlement of funds from the original Julian Petroleum Corporation.

December Set Hospital Record for Last Year

A new high mark for emergency cases treated at Georgia-street Receiving Hospital was established in December, 1929, it was revealed yesterday by the annual report of Charles H. Whitehead, chief nurse, for the fiscal year ending June 30.

The report indicated that 2730 cases were treated during the closing month of the year, most of which were due to traffic accidents. The second greatest number of cases were treated in March of this year, since which time, due to a vigorous police crusade against drunken and reckless driving, the average has again declined.

A grand total of 44,096 patients were treated during the year, the report stated, and 214 major surgical operations were performed.

Summer Session Men to Speak

Dr. O. W. E. Cook of the department of political science of the University of Southern California, Dr. Ernest L. Bogart and Dr. Merlin Hunter, the latter visiting professors at Southern California in the twenty-fifth annual summer session from the University of Illinois, are to participate in the program of the summer meeting of the American Academy of Political and Social Science, Pacific Southwest Center, to be held at the University of California at Los Angeles next Tuesday and Wednesday.

On Wednesday a luncheon conference will be held at the Beverly Hills Hotel at noon, and at night in the Los Angeles Public Library a session will be held in the lecture room.

PANTAGES NOTE BELIEVED HOAX

Guard Maintained at Home of Theater Man

Belief that a death note received by Alexander Pantages, retired theater owner, might be the work of a crank instead of a Black Hand gang was expressed yesterday by detectives who have been assigned to investigate the case. The note demanded $10,000 under threat of death to Pantages, his wife and two daughters.

Pantages received the letter on Saturday, June 28, he told police, but the matter was not made public at that time in order to give investigators an opportunity to apprehend the sender.

The postmark showed the missive was mailed at the Palms postoffice at 9 a.m. on June 27 and was received by Pantages on the following day. It was typewritten on ordinary manuscript paper and police point out that its wording betrays a low grade of intelligence on the part of the writer. It was signed, "The Committee of Six."

FOLLOWS ORDERS

The letter demanded that Pantages indicate his compliance with the proposal by inserting a classified ad in an afternoon paper. This was done, the millionaire said, and in the meantime police and detectives were notified.

The text of the letter follows:

"This is from some people who knew you years ago—it is a demand—perhaps you can guess who it is—we do not care. We demand three things of you—the first is money. If you do not come across we strike at Carmen and then we take Lois—after you have suffered will come your time. If you want to gamble the life of your wife and daughters and not pay us, go ahead, but you will regret it.

NO MARKED MONEY

"Collect $10,000 in $100 bills. Do not try marked bills as we know marked money. We will collect it later in quite a safe way. Your first step will be to put an ad in the paper under lost and found—this is the ad: 'Lost, billfold containing money, papers and Elks' lodge card. Liberal reward. Phone TRinity 6321.' This will let us know you are ready to do business. Have this ad in Monday at the latest. We will carry out our threat—don't go wrong on that—Don't be a fool and risk your family's life. Yours isn't worth anything and your family's won't be worth a plugged nickel if you think you can get away without coughing up.

[Signed]

"THE COMMITTEE OF SIX."

Pantages told police he had no idea who had sent the letter. His home is being kept under surveillance, police officials said.

CASE FOR LAW'S TEETH, BY GUM!

Wife's Exhibit Fills Court With Indignation as He Raps Out Decree

That the California divorce law has teeth was proved by Mrs. Eva P. O'Connell in Superior Judge Westover's court, where yesterday she was granted a legal separation from John J. O'Connell.

Mrs. O'Connell came into the courtroom in a toothless condition, explaining that her husband had knocked her molars out.

"But the law has teeth in cases like yours, madam, and you'll get the relief of a divorce," remarked the court as he signed the decree.

Army Aviator Testifies in Air Death Action

Aerial mishaps were described yesterday in Superior Judge Keetch's court, where Mrs. Ethel May Di Fiore's suit for $50,000 damages is on trial. She is suing the Mutual Aircraft Company, which employed her husband, Dominic Di Fiore, as pilot at the time he crashed to death near Bakersfield on August 11, 1928.

Lieut. Ed F. M. Deeds, an army flyer, testified for Mrs. Di Fiore. He asserted that the aircraft corporation had been negligent in conditioning Di Fiore's plane and advanced the theory that a defective wing crumpled in midair.

Mrs. Di Fiore narrated her version of her husband's death, asserting that the wing was defective and that it buckled under ordinary air strain. She denied the assertions of stunting.

Robert J. Sullivan is attorney for Mrs. Di Fiore, and Hubert T. Morrow represents the aircraft corporation.

CENTENARIAN HERE GETS HOOVER'S BEST WISHES

"Dear Mrs. Sheetz:

"I send you most cordial congratulations upon your 100th birthday which marks a notable milestone in a life of high usefulness and valuable public service. I do pray that every blessing may be yours.

"Yours, faithfully

"HERBERT HOOVER."

That message from the nation's Chief Executive is one of the many presents received yesterday by Mrs. M. M. Sheetz, who today will celebrate the 100th birthday anniversary of her birth at the home of her daughter, Mrs. R. S. Lewis, 2136 West Thirty-first street.

Alert in body and keen of mind, Mrs. Sheetz spent the day yesterday reading The Times and conversing with friends on topics of local and national interest.

"Prohibition? Of course it's a good thing," said Mrs. Sheetz. "Talk about taking away a person's individual rights! That's ridiculous. No one has and never did have a right to do wrong."

Especially interested in youth and education, Mrs. Sheetz declared that the criticism of moral laxity in modern youth is unfounded.

"Certainly young folks of today make mistakes, but the human race, including both sexes and all ages, have made mistakes since time immemorial," said Mrs. Sheetz. "Old Socrates, about 400 B. C., complained that the children of his day were incorrigible, much worse than the children of preceding generations, but Socrates was a cynic—and it seems he has a host of descendants."

Mrs. Sheetz, who is a Christian Scientist, said that Jesus laid down the simplest and at the same time the most profound doctrines ever taught.

"To work for others and to forget one's-self and one's petty troubles is the surest, most scientific way to happiness," said the philosophic centenarian.

She was born in Tioga county, Pennsylvania, and is a descendant of Gen. Elder Bradford, who came over in the Mayflower and later became Governor of Massachusetts.

Mrs. M. M. Sheetz

She spent her girlhood in New York, later residing in Minnesota, Idaho and Illinois.

Before coming to Los Angeles, nine years ago, she had lived for forty years at Canyon City, Colo., in which city she was a member of the school board and prominent in civic and political affairs.

Mrs. Sheetz who, according to her own words, "was, is and will be a Republican," attended the famous Lincoln-Douglas debate at Freeport and was present at the inauguration of Lincoln. She has seven grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

WIFE SUES FORMER CULVER CITY MAYOR

Clarence V. Loop, former Mayor of Culver City, yesterday was sued for divorce by Mrs. Pearl E. Loop, who asks for a community share of $50,000 worth of property. Mrs. Loop asks custody of her 16-year-old daughter, and "appropriate" alimony, and an injunction to prevent her husband leaving the State with $1700 she says he recently received from the sale of his insurance agency. The couple was married in 1905, and separated yesterday.

larious picture of the stupidities of the recent war. It is a story about a soldier who never got to the front.

Duval, 37 years of age, is a rather shy man. It is difficult to get him to talk about himself. He would rather talk about the beauties of Southern California or of New York, or of interesting things of Paris and France. His explanation is that when "one talks about one's self one is apt to make blunders or say stupid things."

He hates honors, as well, he confided, for honors mean speeches and troubles. He dislikes speeches but doesn't mind troubles, so much, when they're of his own making.

Like all Frenchmen, he said, there is a triangle in his life, but it has no feminine twist. His triangle is Paris, New York and Los Angeles, and on these three interesting locales he now intends to spend all his time.

In ten years Duval has written fourteen outstanding stage successes, the most notable of which was "Her Cardboard Lover." His new play "Etienne," reaches Broadway this fall. He now is engaged in writing a play as well as a novel outside his studio duties.

Duval arrived a month ago with his family and has taken a house in Hollywood, to remain until early fall. He plans also to write for the screen.

THREE INDICTED IN FRAUDS QUIZ

Hammon, in charge of grand jury matters, the inquiry concerns a total loss of approximately $1,000,000 which Los Angeles investors assert was taken from them fraudulently in deals with certain stock brokers.

Much of this money actually has been traced into the hands of brokers, who failed to invest it as directed, but used it in their own speculations, according to D. H. Clark, chief of the District Attorney's complaint department, who aided Hammon in preparing the case.

the most perfect piece of pre-gringo architecture now standing. The town and the mission are both perfect peaches.

This mission gives a better idea than any of the others of the whole establishment as it was—the kitchens, wine cellars, olive mills, etc.

I don't get so much kick out of the missions farther north. I always swing across from San Juan to Santa Cruz and Monterey.

All along the line there are good hotels—many of them quaint and old. The roads are perfect and the drive easy. And in every mission town there are other things to see—wonders of nature like the Pinnacles National Monument and history six feet deep. It can be made in two or three days, but two weeks would be better. Take a history with you.

TRAEGER MAKES FIRST MAJOR CAMPAIGN TALK

Launching the first major move of his campaign for re-election as Sheriff, William I. Traeger addressed an estimated gathering of 1200 diners at the Biltmore yesterday noon. The Sheriff outlined his policies, touching on the honor camp system inaugurated by him, a proposed industrial home for women and the growth of the Sheriff's office during his incumbency. He pointed out that the personnel during this period has increased from less than 100 to more than 900 and that the office polices county territory with a population of approximately 500,000 persons.

PLEA FOR YOUNG SCORED BY BUSH

Anti-Saloon League Action Called Unrepresentative

Membership Not Consulted by Board Politicians

Links Body With Governor's Wringing-Wet Support

Indorsement of Gov. Young's candidacy for re-election by the State board of the California Anti-Saloon League in Los Angeles Tuesday was yesterday described in a statement issued by George S. Bush, Southern California chairman of the Fitts-for-Governor campaign, as unrepresentative of the dry forces of California and as the action of individuals already associated with Young's re-election fight.

"Those voting the indorsement are for the most part actively identified with the Governor's re-election campaign," the statement says. "Some of them are members of his campaign committee. Others, including Marshall Stimson, chairman of the Young-for-Governor organization in Southern California, are officially connected with the Young administration.

"The indorsement was not authorized by the league's membership. The members of the league cannot be 'delivered' to any candidate by a couple of dozen Young sympathizers, campaign workers, and State officials who happen at the time to be sitting as members of the organization's executive board.

"The action taken by Gov. Young's close political associates and official subordinates is an open confession of his political weakness and of the lengths to which they are willing to go to bolster up his candidacy.

"PURELY POLITICAL"

"The purely political character of the action is all the more apparent by reason of the fact that Gov. Young's chief newspaper support in his campaign at this time is doing all in its power through editorials, cartoons and otherwise to destroy prohibition and to defeat the very objects of the Anti-Saloon League and kindred bodies.

"Under such circumstances the indorsement is unimportant so far as it may have a bearing on the bulk of the votes of the dry forces of California in the approaching election for Governor.

"A far more representative expression of the sentiment of dry sympathizers occurred in Los Angeles last week when, during a convention of the Los Angeles City Federation of the Women's Christian Temperance Union, a resolution was overwhelmingly approved recommending the election of Dist.-Atty. Fitts as the successor to Young.

"This recommendation was made in open meeting without solicitation or political manipulation."

WILL STICK TO ISSUE

"Those working for the election of Fitts will not be drawn into any controversy on this matter, but will continue to address themselves to the only issues pertinent to the contest—excessive cost of State government, inadequate service by State departments and the general and specific reasons for making a change in the administration of State affairs."

The State board of the Anti-Saloon League, meeting in secret session throughout the day Tuesday, voted its indorsement of Young after what was described as one of the stormiest sessions in its existence. The exact phrasing of the indorsement did not become public until yesterday and revealed the fact that the dry committeemen, despite their political and official connection with the Young-for-Governor campaign, consider Dist.-Atty. Fitts in every way entitled to the league's approval. Only the fact that Young is the incumbent, according to the resolution, induced the action in his behalf.

TEXT OF RESOLUTION

The text of the resolution follows:

"It has been the custom of the Anti-Saloon League and of the organized dry forces generally when there was danger of division of the dry vote in an important election, as against wet candidates, to make an indorsement usually of the incumbent if otherwise acceptable.

"From the standpoint of the forces represented in the Anti-Saloon League, the campaign for Governor has developed two major candidates. They are Gov. Young and Dist.-Atty. Fitts.

"Both Gov. Young and Dist.-Atty. Fitts have notable achievements to their credit. Gov. Young's record in twenty years of State service shows a determined and consistent stand for all moral and humanitarian measures. He stumped the State for the Wright Act. He is a fine exponent of efficiency and hard work in public service. The re-election of Gov. Young will be a guarantee of the continuance of this good record strengthened by experience and prestige in the highest office of the State.

"EITHER QUALIFIED"

"Buron Fitts served the State as Lieutenant-Governor during one session of the Legislature. He resigned from this position to be elected District Attorney of Los Angeles county and his dramatic battles with entrenched evil in that county will not soon be forgotten. Under his District Attorneyship corruption is being driven to cover.

"Either of these two men-qualifies for the Governorship. Each is personally clean and politically trustworthy. But we cannot elect both and a vote divided between them might result in the defeat of both and placing in the Governorship one who is not qualified for that high office. It, therefore, is no disparagement of Mr. Fitts that, since the moral forces must unite or meet defeat, we strongly urge union of the moral forces in support of Gov. Young.

"The fact that the election of one candidate necessarily involves the defeat of the other will not deprive California of the services of Dist.-Atty. Fitts. The State seriously needs Gov. Young's steady hand at the helm and Los Angeles county as seriously needs Dist.-Atty. Fitts to finish the difficult job he has so well begun.

"We, therefore, urge the united support in the Republican primary of Gov. Young."

LIBRARIES TO CLOSE

Fourth of July will be observed tomorrow by the public libraries throughout the city, it is announced by Everett R. Perry, librarian. All are to remain closed during the day.

PATERNITY AT ISSUE IN WILL SUIT

Woman Claims Share in $190,000 Lenk Estate as Illegitimate Child

Part of a $190,000 estate is sought by Mrs. Martha Louise Graeser, whose attorneys yesterday argued before Superior Judge Anderson on a motion to determine their client's heirship. Mrs. Graeser is a claimant to participation in the estate of John C. Lenk, who died in Honolulu on April 14, 1929. Judge Anderson took the matter under submission.

Mrs. Graeser asserts that she is an illegitimate daughter of Lenk and that he legally adopted her. Lenk's will has a clause reading: "I intentionally and purposely omit providing for Louise Graf, my adopted daughter." Graf was Mrs. Graeser's maiden name.

She contends that the widow, Mrs. Sarah B. Lenk, used undue influence to induce Lenk to disinherit her. Mrs. Graeser asserts that Lenk acknowledged paternity in a document signed in 1904.

Lenk's will leaves an estate yielding an income of $6000 a year, to the widow and two sons, Frank C. and John A. Lenk.

Brooding Widow Takes Own Life

Mrs. Laura McMonigle, 56 years of age, reputedly wealthy widow of 2015 West Forty-first Place, ended her life yesterday by inhaling gas, according to a police report. She is believed to have been mentally unbalanced from brooding over the recent death of her husband.

The body was discovered by a child of the family with which Mrs. McMonigle boarded.

Hard Pimples on Face Burned Terribly. Healed by Cuticura.

"On account of eating too many sweets my face broke out so badly that I was embarrassed to go out on the street. The pimples were hard and red and burned terribly. The trouble lasted about four months. I tried other remedies but they did not seem to do any good. I sent for a free sample of Cuticura Soap and Ointment and it helped me. I purchased more and after using two cakes of Cuticura Soap and one box of Cuticura Ointment I was completely healed." (Signed) Miss Florence Voth, 4195 Eaton St., Denver, Colo., April 8, 1930.

STEAMSHIP LINE HEAD ARRESTED

Theft of $136,000 Charged to Frank C. Hill

Indictment Voted Secretly by Grand Jury

California Eastern Company Funds Involved

Frank C. Hill, president of the California Eastern Steamship Company, was arrested yesterday by Deputy Sheriffs Willey and Pennywitt in his office at 419 South Hill street on a warrant issued under a grand jury indictment charging him with the theft of approximately $136,000 of his firm's funds.

Hill was booked in the County Jail in lieu of $25,000 bond recommended by the grand jury.

The indictment against the steamship executive was brought secretly by the grand jury Tuesday after hearing the testimony of numerous witnesses concerning his asserted manipulations.

For some time grand jury and District Attorney's investigators have been checking records of the firm, it was disclosed, following complaints by a group of minority stockholders in the firm.

The inquiry revealed that Hill had transferred money into a bank account held under the name of Frank A. Hill in sums varying from $2000 to $25,000, according to Percy Hammon, deputy District Attorney in charge of grand jury matters. The indictment charges fourteen specific counts of theft.

The California Eastern Steamship Company offices are at 453 South Spring street.

Hill is scheduled to appear before Superior Judge Wood today for arraignment on the charges, at which time he will be given an opportunity to furnish bond. At the time of arraignment, Judge Wood will fix the date of his plea.

In the County Jail Hill denied misappropriating the funds, stating that he had invested the money in the interests of his company and that instead of being defrauded of their investments, the stockholders probably will realize a profit.

All-Year Club Congratulated on Prize Award

Many congratulatory messages from various parts of the nation have been received by officials of the All-Year Club, Southern California's national tourist advertising organization, since the organization was awarded for the third consecutive year the championship for the most effective and result-getting community advertising campaign in Western United States and Hawaii, according to an announcement yesterday.

The award was made at the annual advertising competition held as a feature of the recent convention of the Pacific Advertising Clubs Association in Spokane.

Competition included advertisers from Canada to Mexico and from Colorado to Hawaii. The prize-winning exhibit proved that Southern California's climate and scenery are being successfully presented on a dignified and sound merchandising basis and in a manner which has attracted international attention.

Ousted Police Officer Given Back His Post

A. V. Kanatsher, dismissed from the police department more than a year ago for nonpayment of a repair bill on his automobile, yesterday was ordered restored to duty by the Police Commission following an opinion by Deputy City Attorney Kitzmiller that he had been illegally removed because there was no rule removing officers for debt when action was taken against Kanatsher.

Under the circumstances Kanatsher is entitled to full pay during the time he has been off the department but he agreed to accept six months' pay in lieu thereof.

Ever since his removal Kanatsher, who has a wife and two children, has been seeking restoration to the department, but he failed to get any action until his attorney, Paul Taylor, informed the commission that Kanatsher was a member of the famous Escadrille during the World War.

Schoen's Death Believed Due to Poison Potion

The death of Davis A. Schoen, 60 years of age, on June 30, first believed to have been due to natural causes, yesterday was listed as suicidal, when post-mortem examination revealed traces of cyanide in the stomach.

Schoen was found dead in a room at the Elks' Club a few hours after he had registered there at 10:30 a.m., June 30. The body was discovered by Secretary Ferguson of the club and police were notified. Since there were no outward indications of suicide, the police attributed his death to a sudden stroke.

Inquiry disclosed that Schoen, who was president of the Star Shoe Company, according to his son-in-law and business partner, M. H. Stepdt, recently had been greatly depressed.

ELECTROCUTED MAN'S SISTER SOUGHT HERE

The Times yesterday was asked in a telegram from W. L. A. Drews of the Dayton Power and Light Company, Dayton, O., to aid in locating in Los Angeles a Margaret Stewart, sister of William Baker, an employee who was electrocuted accidentally in the eastern city. According to the wire Baker's identification card stated his sister lives at 4605 Eagledale avenue, Los Angeles. At that address no one was found who knew either Baker or Margaret Stewart.

WILD RUMOR SAYS EATON WILL RESIGN

Story Brings Denial from Engineer and Flood of Applicants for Job

Circulation of unfounded rumors to the effect that E. C. Eaton, chief engineer of the county flood control district, is to resign or be removed from his post yesterday brought a flood of letters to the Board of Supervisors, and a few calls in person from engineers seeking the position.

Where the story originated no one around the Hall of Records seemed to know, least of all Eaton himself and the board members.

"It is all news to me," Engineer Eaton declared. "I certainly have no intention of resigning at this time in the midst of our comprehensive plan for carrying on with the flood-control project for San Gabriel Dam."

Members of the Board of Supervisors who could be seen late yesterday also were surprised and puzzled to know where the rumor of the engineer's removal came from, and what inspired it.

SWAIN NEAR DEATH FROM FIGHT BLOW

Rivals for Girl's Love Battle it Out in Front of Her Home

A fistic duel, assertedly fought for the love of Miss Marion Woodward, 23 years of age, 239 South Fremont street, by E. E. Vinson and Jack Brandt, may cause the death of Vinson, it was announced by police surgeons yesterday after he was treated at the Georgia-street Receiving Hospital. Vinson is now at the General Hospital, where it is reported he is suffering from a possible basal skull fracture.

The asserted battle was staged in front of Miss Woodward's home early yesterday morning when the two rivals met face to face and Brandt is said to have challenged Vinson to "fight it out, here and now."

Brandt, whose address is 635 West Fourth street, was arrested yesterday and booked on suspicion of assault with a deadly weapon.

Sewage of City Yields Pure Water

Water recovered from the Los Angeles sewage system was sampled and approved—at least tentatively—in a practical demonstration before the Board of Water and Power Commissioners yesterday.

Chief Water Engineer Van Norman brought to the board meeting a gallon bottle of the water recovered at the experimental city sewage plant. He offered a drink to President Haynes of the board. Mr. Haynes politely waived the privilege and suggested that the reporters present be honored.

A reporter offered to drink a whole glass of the water if Haynes would drink even a little. Amid bantering challenges from fellow board members, Haynes drank about an inch of water poured out for him while the reporter swallowed a glassful. It was good water. Van Norman will demonstrate the plant to the board in the near future inasmuch as the process is likely to become a great factor in the future water supply of the city.

Witnesses Tell of Seeing Man Mistreat Dogs

Statements made by several children that Chester Johnson of 412 North Orlando street poured ammonia over the heads of two dogs were corroborated by other witnesses yesterday in Municipal Judge Wood's court, where Johnson is on trial for cruelty to animals.

Stanley Wilson of 754 North Alfred street said he saw Johnson catch a small terrier and pour ammonia over its head. Other neighbors followed Wilson on the witness stand. Judge Wood refused to allow one of the dogs said to have been mistreated by Johnson to be introduced as evidence.

Johnson's defense was started yesterday with Florence M. Brown, said to be a relative, as the first witness. She said the dogs scratched up his flower beds, ate goldfish and annoyed the Johnsons greatly. Other defense witnesses will be called today.

The same cast will also appear in this production at the summer conference at Pacific Palisades. Direction of the play is in the hands of Loran Dews, who is connected with the Hollywood Playcrafters. Dudley Gordon appears in the title role. Other members of the cast are Marie Littlefield, Guila Marshall, Jeanne Austen, Helen Clarke, Ruth Bryan, Cyrus Hampton, Carleton Evans, Dr. Gerald Bryan and Oscar Bryan.

MINNEAPOLIS PARTY DELVING INTO RUINS

Excavations in the Mimbres Valley, New Mexico, have been started by an expedition from the Minneapolis Institute of Art, headed by Dr. Albert E. Jenks of the University of Minnesota's anthropological department, according to word received by Bruce Bryan, Hollywood archeologist. The site being unearthed is known as the Galaz ruin, where in 1927 an expedition from the Southwest Museum here found a buried pueblo in which reposed many pieces of ancient Mimbres pottery.

BERMAN TELLS BRIBERY STORY

Fiction of Realty Purchase Insisted on by One

State Expects to Rest With Today's Testimony

A story of corruption and bribery involving members of the first Julian jury in 1928 was told to another jury of nine women and three men in Superior Judge Wilson's court yesterday when Jacob Berman, appearing as the principal witness against Louis Krause, on trial on bribery conspiracy charges, testified. Berman occupied the witness stand the greater part of the day.

On direct examination by Dep. Dist.-Atty. Jones the former business associate of S. C. Lewis in the Julian Petroleum Corporation told the jury of having paid John Groves, a member of the Julian jury, $5000 in cash for his vote of not guilty.

CLOAKED BRIBE

Berman then explained in detail how through Louis Krause, acting as a real estate agent, he had purchased a house for $16,000 from Frank Grider, another member of the jury.

In the Grider deal Berman declared that all the dickering with Grider was done through Krause and that he never say Grider except in the courtroom. Krause, according to Berman, told him that Grider refused to accept any money for his vote but insisted that his house be purchased for $16,000.

DEFENSE SCORES

On cross-examination by Attorneys S. S. Hahn, W. O. Graf and W. C. Hamilton, Berman admitted that he did not know what Krause had told Grider and did not know whether the juror knew that his vote was being represented as sold by Krause. He also stated that, as far as he knew, Grider never did have knowledge that he was purchasing the house.

Today at least ten other prosecution witnesses will take the stand, according to Jones, to complete the State case against Krause. At the close of the session today, court will adjourn until next Monday morning, when the State is expected to rest and the defense to open with the first of some dozen witnesses.

BERMAN 'BROKE' ACCEPTS PUBLIC DEFENDER'S AID

Jacob Berman, classed as a millionaire before the Julian Petroleum Corporation collapse, is now unable to obtain sufficient funds to pay attorney's fees during his approaching trial and must accept the services of a public defender, it was revealed in Superior Judge Schauer's court yesterday.

Upon Berman's request Judge Schauer ordered Frederic H. Vercoe, public defender, to take charge of Berman's defense and he prepared for trial Monday. At the same time the court declined to free Otto Christensen, Berman's attorney of record, from the case completely. He instructed Christensen to aid the public defender in preparing the case and to offer any necessary aid during the trial.

After issuance of the order, Franklin Padan, chief deputy public defender, conferred with representatives of the District Attorney's office and announced that his office will announce today who is to defend Berman.

Berman is scheduled to go to trial charged with forgery of stock certificates and embezzlement of funds from the original Julian Petroleum Corporation.

December Set Hospital Record for Last Year

A new high mark for emergency cases treated at Georgia-street Receiving Hospital was established in December, 1929, it was revealed yesterday by the annual report of Charles H. Whitehead, chief nurse, for the fiscal year ending June 30.

The report indicated that 2700 cases were treated during the closing month of the year, most of which were due to traffic accidents. The second greatest number of cases were treated in March of this year, since which time, due to a vigorous police crusade against drunken and reckless driving, the average has again declined.

A grand total of 44,096 patients were treated during the year, the report stated, and 214 major surgical operations were performed.

Today's Bible Text

Ye are no more strangers and foreigners, but fellow citizens with the saints, and of the household of God; And are built upon the foundation of the Apostles and prophets, Jesus Christ himself being the chief corner stone. — Eph. ii:19, 20.

METROPOLITAN AREA

The "metropolitan area" is that new method by which many of our sister cities are lifting their faces.

SPORTING NEWS

The French tennis champion and the best woman golfer in that country have just been married. He courted her on the court and they linked on the links. It remains to be seen whether golf or tennis is to be the official game in the home.

HORACE

Horace Greeley said, "Go West, young man; go West." Then everybody began to take him seriously. Los Angeles grew so fast that it ran the census takers ragged. We venture to say that some of those easterners wish Horace had confined himself to local color in his New York Tribune editorials.

DIAL

Congressmen resent dial telephones. They are peeved at having to do the work of telephone girls. Others of us do not enjoy the pesky things, either. But the dials are still on duty. Wonder what words Congressmen use on such occasions! And it would be interesting to know whom they get to do their dialing on the radio.

AMONG THE CRIPPLES

In order to take care of the business two new receiving hospitals have been opened in Los Angeles and at the rate our motorists are running down their prey a few more may be necessary. The Georgia-street hospital has reported as high as ninety cases a day to be blamed upon the automobile. What this country needs is more hospitals or fewer speed demons.

PLACING THE BLAME

The ex-Kaiser tells a famous correspondent that he wants to be tried before an international court-martial to determine the responsibility for the World War. Nothing like this is likely to happen, but it would be rough if a court should dower the former ruler with the death penalty. However, the Kaiser still blames Russia for precipitating the conflict. He says he has the documents to prove it. Russia has disappeared and is in no position to make answer.

LONG SERVICE

The Crane Company has one employee who has been with them sixty years without losing a day from illness. For forty-five years he has been collecting bills for the company and he refuses to quit although a comfortable pension awaits him. He has accumulated considerable stock in the concern and is nicely fixed in a financial way, but he is stuck on his job and will not let go. Any man who can enjoy collecting bills over a period of nearly half a century must be an optimist.

SANTA ISABEL

There is a movement in Spain for the beatification of Queen Isabella. The sponsors would call her Santa Isabel de Castilla. Isabella was a devoted Catholic and did much to promote the welfare and authority of the church which she and Ferdinand held down the throne of Spain. Incidentally she was a prime factor in putting a new world on the map. But for her generous backing Columbus would never have been able to make his great voyage of discovery. That should be good for a saintship.

TOO MANY GUNS

Congressman Browne of Wisconsin is pressing a bill which forbids the movement of machine guns and other heavy artillery in interstate commerce. The government may not be able to stop the sale of lethal weapons, but the officials might get a check on their passage from State to State. Maybe they could locate the source of the Chicago supply. The trouble with this country is that there are too many guns in circulation. What we want is a famine in domestic artillery. Disarmament should begin in the American home.

THE CHICAGO INVASION

Arrest here of half a dozen asserted gangsters, said to have been planning organization of a wholesale beer racket in Los Angeles, will serve at least to open the eyes of Pacific Coast citizens to the imminence of danger. These arrests do not end that danger, though they probably will put an end to any extensive local activity by this particular group. The frank admission by one of the men arrested that he was employed to come here to operate an illicit brewery is apparently borne out by plans in his possession for its construction.

Had any such plans been consummated, Los Angeles would inevitably have been introduced to large-scale racketeering with all its Chicago trimmings, gun battles in the streets, murder, extortion, corruption of officers and corruption of politics. These things are still possibilities. In all likelihood, there are other Chicago gangsters here. The recent activity of Cook county authorities, caused by the murder of Alfred Lingle, has scattered gangsters in all directions, not all of whom will return to Chicago if they find fertile fields for activity elsewhere.

Many of these refugees from the Chicago storm will form alliances where they can with local criminal gangs and in all probability Chicago methods will be introduced into scores of places where they have hitherto been unknown. Nor, since the theory of American and English law is that a man is not punished for what he is, but for what he does, can the police interfere until such plans are put into operation.

Frank Foster, asserted by Chicago officers to be connected with the George "Bugs" Moran gang and to have once had possession of the pistol with which Lingle was slain, is one of the men captured here and is declared by the admitted brew master to be boss of the organization that was being formed. Foster is to be returned to Chicago, having been indicted on a charge that he slew Lingle. For the peace of mind of the Los Angeles police, it will be as well if he stays there.

Los Angeles has been well advertised by the present Police Commission as a place where no policeman's job is protected. The commission, as it demonstrated when the campaign against former Chief Davis was under way, seems to have an almost psychopathic desire to believe the worst about officers of the department and will listen to the most absurd and impossible charges against them. This creates a situation of which the underworld is prompt to take advantage, and it would be surprising if Chicago gangsters had not moved in here prior to the Lingle killing. The chances are they are already at work.

In fact, there were reports as long ago as last fall that eastern mobsmen were on their way here to organize various racketeering activities. Did they come and what are they doing? It is not a comforting thought, but the situation must be faced.

This Chicago mob undeniably came here, unknown to the Los Angeles police and would have still been undisturbed, posing as tourists, if they had not been traced by Chicago investigators. This is no discredit to the Los Angeles police, who are not, of course, mind-readers and cannot possibly keep all visitors to the city under surveillance. How many others like them also came?

Police have reports that at least sixteen of the Moran gang are in this vicinity. The police department will need the utmost co-operation of all good citizens if it is to cope with the danger to life and to property inherent in the presence of human wolves such as these gangsters. Particularly does it need the support and confidence of the Police Commission, together with assurances of stability in the high command.

The present police chief is serving with a temporary appointment, and his predecessor was ousted, despite an excellent record in dealing with crime, under circumstances which must make Chief Steckel hesitant about going ahead. Uncertainty about who's who and what's what, necessarily destructive of department morale, has been a chronic condition in Los Angeles for years. It ought to be ended, but the present commission is doing nothing to end it; in fact, it has taken many steps to intensify it.

To ward off the Chicago invasion, Los Angeles needs to be fully prepared, ready to wage battle against crime on all fronts at once. Fortunately it is not too late to get such preparations under way. Neither, on the other hand, is it too early, for the arrests of Tuesday show that preparation is vitally needed.

DRIVE ON NANKING FAILS

Back and forth surges the dark tide of battle in China. Now and again during the last fortnight the rebels have smashed the Nationalist defenses in their effort to sweep southward to Nanking and overthrow the government of President Chiang Kai-shek. But during the more recent engagements they have made little or no progress. At present the god of war seems to be smiling upon Chiang. A Shanghai cable says that, unable to consolidate former gains, the rebels have been forced to retire in Honan before a withering Nationalist machine-gun fire.

Convinced, however, that they have weakened the Nationalist positions, the northerners are preparing for more determined onslaughts. The war has been on a large scale of late, nearly 500,000 troops being engaged. In a recent fight the Nationalists took 30,000 prisoners and considerable amounts of ammunition. As they are better provided with bombing planes than the rebels, they have a distinct advantage in the air and evidently are making good use of it.

For the most part American sympathies are with the Nationalist government, as it is against the Communism and banditry that have so infested and imperiled China for years. Chiang Kai-shek may not be a model leader, but he seems to be a man of more stamina and integrity than any of the rebel chieftains. Gen. Leng Yu-hsiang is said to have offered to cease fighting him if he were paid $3,000,000, but Chiang flatly refused.

As such things go in China, Feng's proposal was not a surprising one, but it is a mark of Chiang's confidence in ultimate victory that he refused to buy off his chief foeman.

The LEE SIDE O' L.A.

BY Lee Shippey

OUR friend, Joe Longfeather, has just steamed into our office, all het up with a big idea. Joe is a Shoshone Indian who has done various and sundry things around Hollywood for some years and is especially known as a piano player and program master. There's always a lot of pep about what he does, but we never saw him so excited before. He thinks he has the biggest, stirringest idea for a motion-picture show, which will thrill, educate and inspire, that ever was. He and Mrs. Frances Hawes Stansberry have worked out the plot, which is a sort of modernized story of the prodigal son with an inspiring ending. But, of course, all sorts of exciting things will be shown before that. The story is called "The Two Books," and Joe says it is going to interest all the world, but especially Christian Scientists.

THE BIRTH OF—AN IDEA!

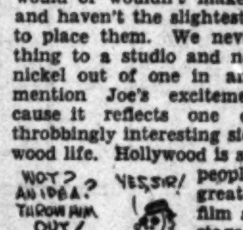
Dreamers of Dreams

Now don't all you folks who think you have wonderful ideas for talkies come running to us with them, for we don't know anything about what would or wouldn't make good shows and haven't the slightest idea of how to place them. We never sold anything to a studio and never made a nickel out of one in any way. We mention Joe's excitement only because it reflects one of the most throbbingly interesting sides of Hollywood life. Hollywood is simply full of people who have great ideas for film spectacles or stage spectacles. People come here all the way from Europe and India and Japan and Africa to try to interest producers in their ideas. Not long ago there were two people at one Hollywood hotel, one of whom was said to be a princess, who had ideas they thought would almost make the world over if they could only get some producer to take them up. And maybe they would. The tragic part is that some of these folks have spent years working on things into which they have put the very best of their brains and hearts, and can't even get a hearing when they get here.



WOT? AN IDEA? THROW HIM OUT!
YESSIR!

It's in Our Atmosphere, Too

And it isn't only people who come from far places. There are dozens who have caught their inspiration from closer contact with the producing world. There is, for instance, Frank Wilt, who has a shop at 1125 Manzanita. Wilt is the author of a stupendous spectacle called "Song of Egypt," which, capable critics tell us, stands a good chance of making him famous—if it is only produced. Wilt has put in years of research and patient toil and a famous composer is said to be eager to write the score for it—as soon as a little more backing can be assured. Several important people have become much interested. But the expense would be heavy and they hesitate about signing on the dotted line.

Wilt and Longfeather are only two of hundreds. They see visions and some of them really have great ideas.

Experience Breeds Timidity

The bugaboo of every story department in Hollywood, as of every big magazine anywhere, is the plagiarist. Peter Kyne once told us that when he sent his first great story, "The Three Godfathers," to the Saturday Evening Post, he was in a fever of anxiety because no word came from the publishers. Finally he learned that they had telegraphed their representative in San Francisco to find out who Peter B. Kyne was. They couldn't believe that such a good story had come from some one of whom they never had heard.

PLAGIARIST

All sorts of people who think they can write or dramatize read stories in magazines or current books or translations, steal the stories and submit them to studios as their own. The result is that if you send an unsolicited manuscript to any studio it is likely to be returned to you unread. More than that, it is likely to come back to you by registered mail, with a return card which you must sign for the studio's protection. It is doubtful whether any big studio's readers could read all the stories submitted.

Alas! More Specialists

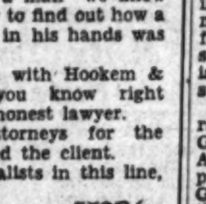
It used to be only doctors who called in specialists. Now lawyers are doing the same thing.

The other day a man we know called up his lawyer to find out how a matter he had put in his hands was progressing.

"I'll get in touch with Hookem & Holden and let you know right away," replied the honest lawyer.

"Are they the attorneys for the other side?" inquired the client.

"No, they're specialists in this line, so I called them in as associate counsel. You know, the family lawyer is passing out just as the family doctor is. We now have investigation specialists, law specialists and hot-air specialists who can make a lot out of nothing before a jury."



AW, NOW, LISTEN!
STOP! SMALL CONSULT WITH A SPECIALIST!

THE WATCH ON THE RHINE

Since Tuesday, the first of July, the watch on the Rhine is again kept by Germany instead of by France. Since the signing of the Versailles Treaty the French for ten and a half years have occupied German soil from the bridgehead of Coblenz to the bridgeheads of Mainz and Kohl, retiring in zones first from the Ruhr and at last from all German territory west of the Rhine. France's military occupation of the Rhineland is officially at an end and the last distressing chapter in the history of the World War comes to a thankful close.

That this freeing of Germany was brought about four and a half years before the time fixed by the Versailles Treaty reflects creditably on the evident intention of Germany to meet her financial obligations, and on the statesmanship of Owen D. Young in drawing up a workmanlike plan for the settlement of the vexatious reparations question.

Germany's contention that legally and morally she had lived up to the terms of the treaty was upheld after the subject had been thoroughly threshed over in conversations by Briand and Stresemann in 1926 and the Young plan was the happy outcome of the efforts of both countries to find a way out. The American army of occupation withdrew early in 1923. Last November the British and Belgian troops were called away. After that only the major forces of France remained, their presence being more of an irritation to Germany than a help to the Allies.

France, fully armed and financially better buttressed than any country in Europe, had nothing to fear from her unarmed neighbor, struggling with an unemployment problem and a badly disarranged foreign commerce; she had nothing to lose by withdrawing an aggravating obstacle to the trade and friendship of a good peace customer; she had much to gain by an action that would reassure the rest of the world of her desire to promote peace in Europe by erasing the last of the bad scores left by the late war. France, moreover, needs Ruhr coal to smelt Alsatian iron ores. Friction on the border was bad for both nations.

A REAL MILLENNIUM

When you get up near the Arctic Zone the revolutionary bug does not thrive. When it comes to stable governments Iceland may be pointed to with pride. The island is largely made up of volcanoes, glaciers and ice, but it has a population that is committed to peace and order. Just now the people are celebrating the thousandth anniversary of their Althing, which is the name borne by the island Parliament. Here is a real millennium. Imagine a Latin country preserving its government uninterrupted for ten centuries! It isn't being done. The people of Iceland don't have much to do except raise sheep and catch fish, but they are to be envied for the permanence of their institutions. The world will congratulate them upon this anniversary. They are not spending a penny for any army or navy or other fighting machinery and the government is out of debt. What more could be asked?

SOMETHING MORE TO WORRY OVER

By James J. Montague

We are mildly instrigued when the powers agree
That war is a trifle too rough;
"Let us limit the range of our navy," say we,
"And cut out the bluster and bluff."
We pay little heed to the national need
For battleships, gunboats and cruisers,
But we madly peruse every item of news
That relates to a couple of bruisers.
While we cry, with a hoarse and belligerent growl:
"He can't be a champ if he won on a foul."

We talk of the tariff, but not very much,
And our language is calm and serene;
In schedules of cowhides and flaxseed and such
Our interest could not be called keen.
Such subjects as this with a frown we dismiss
As remote from our life and our calling,
But, beyond any doubt, how that box fight came out
Is a theme which is wildly enthralling.
In store and in workshop and office and dwelling
There is hardly a topic but "Sharkey and Schmeling."

We feel for the farmers who furnish our food,
And we trust they will get what they need;
To a fidgety market we sadly allude
And feel very woeful, indeed.
But our serious thought is still constantly fraught
With a troubled and worrisome doubt
As to how, if that punch had been over the lunch,
The fight might perhaps have come out.
We must daily dispute till our foreheads grow damp,
But we'll never discover who really is champ!

THE IMMORTAL ATOM

BY BAILEY MILLARD

[This is, in part, a radio address given recently over KHJ and is published in response to many requests from listeners to The Times Forum Hour programs.]

At last science has been able to define quite fully the nature and structure of the atom. This has been done by the use of the X-ray yardstick. The diffraction of an X-ray beam by the atom and the measurement of this diffraction give a clear indication of atomic structure.

As explained by Prof. A. H. Compton of Chicago University to the American Physical Society at Ithaca, N. Y., recently, the atom consists of positive electricity called the proton, surrounded by negative electricity, called electrons. Compton's experimental method was to send an X-ray beam through a chamber of helium under high pressure. The tiny particles of gas deflected the beam and its varying intensity in different directions was measured in an ionization chamber. By obtaining the direction in which most of the scattering of the rays occurred Compton could measure the molecules of the gas and determine the distribution of the electrons in the molecule and in the atom.

These Compton studies should not be confused with those of Dr. Millikan, who isolated, weighed and measured the electron on oil droplets a few years ago. Compton, who was the Nobel prize winner in physics for 1927, is one of several scientists who believe that the evolutionary process of creation was not a chance one, as old-fashioned men of science have stated, but has been directed toward some definite end. In other words, the creative force, which is also the activating and directive one, has a design of some sort constantly in view. It indicates a universal intelligence and a purpose back of everything. His conclusions indicate that there is immortality in the atom.

It is to the radiant energy proceeding out of the ether, including the cosmic rays discovered by Millikan, that a few scientists have ventured to ascribe the possibility of the immortality of the atom. Whether they are on the right track or not time may tell, or it may be that the secret will be forever withheld from us.

I will venture to say that there is no subject that lies deeper in the interest of mankind, if not in individual and collective welfare, than that of immortality. All want to know more about God and whatever future life there may be. This sentiment is strong in youth, it is stronger in middle life, it is strongest in old age.

What has science to say or rather to intimate regarding God, creation and immortality? According to some modern physicists, if we are to look for God at all we must seek Him in the atom, or rather in the elements and forces of which it is composed. Let us examine the theory on which this idea is based. In the fourth century before Christ, Democritus and other old philosophers began to scrutinize the structure of matter. They evolved the theory that it was composed of minute particles separated by spaces destitute of matter. Lucretius, in the first century before Christ, followed up this theory and wove it into his philosophy. But what the ancients wrote about atoms was generally vague. Very little was really ascertained about them until John Dalton began to experiment with them early in the nineteenth century. Dalton proved the truth of the ancient theory of the atomic structure of matter when he found that when substances combined chemically they did so in certain definite groups and proportions.

Later Lord Kelvin defined an atom as "a vortex ring in a continuous medium." This, instead of making the atom a dead, inert substance, as it was formerly considered, made it a very lively affair. But it was not until the discovery of radium and of radioactivity that the true nature of the atom disclosed itself. Formerly it was regarded as indivisible, but now it was seen to be divided into electrons and protons and that these were composed very largely of positive and negative electricity.

The idea of minuteness conveyed by the word "atom" always had made it seem infinitesimally small, but now we know that the atom is not only not the the smallest thing in nature, but that the electron within the atom, as measured by Millikan, is only one hundred-thousandth of the diameter of the atom.

It is in its velocity that the enormous power of the electron resides. You know what velocity or momentum will do—that straws may be hurled by a cyclone like spears into wooden walls or trees. Prof. Soddy says these electronic particles reach a speed in some cases of 50,000 to 170,000 miles a second. It is impossible to estimate the speed with which the cosmic rays descend upon the earth through space—and remember, these rays are of electronic or electric composition—but their energy is such that they will shoot through six feet of lead, as demonstrated by Dr. Millikan.

Studies in the realm of radioactivity, in which so many discoveries have been made in recent years, are fascinating to me. I was directed to them fifteen years ago by Edgar Lucien Larkin, that erratic genius who for years presided over Mt. Lowe Observatory. Dr. Larkin held that the whole universe was permeated and held together by the energy of rays proceeding from various bodies in space, and that all forms of life were sustained and actuated by it. But he knew little more about the radioactive nature of matter than did any other scientist of that time. Matter was generally considered in those days as something concrete and stable, composed of atoms that could not be destroyed or built up, though they might be changed.

Of late years matter seems to have disappeared as a fundamental existence, being explained as a manifestation of electricity proceeding out of the ether. So it would seem that it is the ether, that unseen, all-permeating thing, that we must regard as the only fixed and lasting element.

"It is this ether," says Charles Kassel, "this ether which we never beheld, which no instrument ever has explored and which gives to our touch no sign of its presence, that becomes the fundamental reality."

Prof. J. J. Thomson says: "The whole mass of any body is just the mass of the ether surrounding that body which is carried along by the Faraday tubes associated with the atoms of the body. In fact, all mass is the mass of the ether, all momentum momentum of the ether and all kinetic energy kinetic energy of the ether."

Standing in a dark room with a little instrument in his hand with which he had been demonstrating to me the existence and wonderful activity of electrons, Prof. E. P. Lewis, chief of the department of physics of the University of California, said in reply to my question as to whether the activation of the electron did not prove the existence of a supreme being, that he admitted this to be true. But he hastened to add that neither he nor any other latter-day scientist entertained the idea of a personal God.

This coincides with the ideas expressed by Prof. Arthur S. Eddington, the famous English physicist, and also in a way with those of Sir Henry H. Jeans, eminent astrophysicist of London. It would seem that science after having disputed the existence of a supreme being, looked into the atom and found Him.

As out of the ether came the atom so out of it has emerged to our view what Prof. Raymond Dodge of the institution of psychology of Yale University has termed "the spirit of space," as good a title as any that can be given to the dominant force of the universe. "The events of nature," says Prof. Dodge, "the creation of stellar systems and revolution of planets around the sun, are all the result of the operations of the mind of the spirit of space. They are the thoughts of God."

Maurice Maeterlinck says: "Thought can and does exist everywhere, without a brain, seems to precede matter, is independent of matter. The vindication of cosmic mind," he says, "is daily more striking."

"But," object the earnest religionists, "your cosmic mind does not satisfy us. We ask you for God and you give us an abstraction—a mere scientific theory." If there is any answer to this objection it is found in the fact that it is through a contemplation of the meaning of cosmic mind that more men of science have come to believe in God than ever before.

One day I was just leaving Dr. Millikan's office in Pasadena after a long talk with him about the cosmic rays, when I asked him if his discovery of these rays did not help to establish the theory of a cosmic or universal mind that ruled and directed all things.

"Why not say 'God'?" he asked with a smile. "There is no reason why a physicist should not believe in such a being, or force. We use the word 'God' to describe what is behind the mystery of existence. Science has seen the world developing through countless ages higher and higher qualities, moving on to better and better things. It pictures God, however He may be conceived, as essentially good, as providing a reason for existence and a motive for making the most of existence in that we may be a part of the great plan of world progress."

This scientist, like others, thinks that the cosmic rays result from the creative processes and are part of a great creative cycle. The theory that the process of degeneration and regeneration provides a never-ending cycle of creation gives us the hope that the material from which the universe is made as well as man himself has immortal life.

WHERE CAN I LEARN

Creative Writing?

BY LOUISE L. TEMPLE

[Prepared in co-operation with the Los Angeles evening high schools. Questions concerning free evening classes will be answered if stamped addressed envelope is inclosed. Address Louise L. Temple, care of The Times.]

Beginning July 7 a free class in creative writing will be offered by the Polytechnic Evening High School, 400 West Washington Boulevard, on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday evenings, 7 to 9. There is no charge of any kind and people of all ages are welcome to visit or to join. There will be instruction in plot, characterization, suspense and climax.

This will be the only free class in creative writing during the summer and those interested should enroll the first evening in order to indicate to the school authorities that there is a real need for this class during the vacation months. The instructor is Sarah Wolverton, an English teacher of long training and experience, with a keen insight into story technique and a broad knowledge of magazine markets.

PUNISHMENT

Once a banker pulled a crime, and defrauded trusting guys, and got out of serving time, his attorneys were so wise. I was stuck for fourteen bones, when the bank to pieces went, and I called in strident tones for the banker's punishment. But his lawyers were so slick that they proved him white as snow, though they knew his sinful trick filled the countryside with woe. When that banker ran his bank he was of a pleasant mien; he seemed cheerful, smiling, frank, and his spirits were serene. He seemed younger than his years, as all people would allow, with no gray above his ears and no furrows on his brow. He seemed hale and amply fed, full of pep and good as wheat, and he walked with buoyant tread up and down the village street. When his lawyers, in the courts, got him free and won their game, I remarked to other sports that it was a beastly shame. "He has robbed the people blind," I remarked, and they agreed, "and it's pretty hard to find that the law has gone to seed. There's no punishment for one who deserves the guillotine; there's no justice 'neath the sun, and the law's a fake, I ween." Then the banker went away to avoid his fellow-men, and upon a recent day I beheld him once again. He was but a dreary wreck of the man I used to know, as I watched him sadly trek, like an outcast, to and fro! All his face was lined and seamed, and his hair was wintry gray, and his eyes no longer gleamed with a light serene and gay. Every gesture, every glance showed that he had suffered more than convicted men who prance to the tolbooth's iron door. Punishment will hit the sport who inclines to go astray; if it doesn't come in court, it will come some other way.

Wellborn, to Elliott Schieffelin, at a dinner party given by the grandparents of the bride-elect, Mr. and Mrs. Lucien Napoleon Brunswig, at their home, 3528 West Adams street. Covers were arranged for fifty guests.

Miss Wellborn was graduated from Marlborough School here, and studied abroad for several years, and since her return she has been a student at the University of Southern California.

Mr. Schieffelin was graduated from Groton School and Yale University and has studied for two years at l'Ecole des Sciences Politique in Paris. He is the son of Dr. and Mrs. William Jay Schieffelin of New York and is a direct descendant of the late Commodore Cornelius Vanderbilt and John Jay, first Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States.

No date has been announced for the wedding.

Wedding Announced

Formal announcement is made by Dr. and Mrs. C. W. Douglass of 436 South Gramercy Place of the marriage of their daughter Dorothy to Richard B. Bagley, the ceremony taking place June 19.

After a delightful honeymoon at Huntington Lake Mr. and Mrs. Bagley are at home to their friends at 7400 South Hobart Boulevard. The bride belongs to one of the old pioneer southern families, being the grand-daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Jefferson Douglass of this city. She is graduated from the Beverly Hills High School and is very popular in the younger social set of the Southland.

Bon Voyage

A bridge-luncheon was given recently by Mrs. William B. Tritt at her home on New Hampshire avenue honoring her sister-in-law, Miss Margaret Tritt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Tritt, who sailed on the Calawaii Tuesday for Honolulu. Pink and green shades were used in the color scheme of the table decorations and the place cards were fashioned to resemble small ships. Among the guests were Mrs. W. W. Tritt, Mrs. Charles Geis, Mrs. Roy Russell, Mrs. Stanley Ewing, Mrs. Albert Knox, Miss Elizabeth Neilson, Miss Elizabeth Zakaryan and the honoree.

Marriage Solemnized

One of the attractive weddings of recent date was celebrated at the Wilshire Congregational Church when Miss Ruth Burbank, daughter of Mrs. Bertha M. Burbank, became the bride of Robert Thompson, son of Mrs. Bess Thompson. The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Kent Burbank. Her sister, Miss Helen Burbank, was her sole attendant. Eugene Simpson, college chum of the bridegroom, came from Washington, D. C., to serve as best man.

The bride wore a gown of white satin and a cap of lace with pearls and orange blossoms. Her bridal bouquet was of lavender orchids, white rosebuds and lilies of the valley.

Mrs. Thompson is a member of Epsilon Nu and the bridegroom was graduated from the University of California. He is the nephew of Rear-Admiral S. S. Robinson, superintendent of the United States Naval Academy.

Visit Country Estate

Friends of Miss Catherine Van Wart, who is a student at Marlborough, are passing pleasant weekends as her guests at Rancho Samataguma, the country estate of Miss Van Wart's parents, Dr. and Mrs. Roy McLean Van Wart, which is situated in the San Diego Mountains. Dr. and Mrs. Van Wart and daughter are planning a motor trip to Canada, which is to be made in August.

Honors Princess

Mrs. Guy Bush was the hostess at a delightful luncheon given recently at the Royal Palms Hotel honoring Princess Tsianina of Chicago and Miss Helen Haworth of Phoenix. The guests were Mrs. Drew Bernard, Beulah Storrs Lewis, Kathleen Lockhart Manning, Mrs. W. L. Heathcote, Mrs. Lulu Tefft, Mary Carr Moore, Mrs. W. D. McIntosh, Mrs. Emmett Daly, Miss Dorothy Baker, Mrs. Ruth Miller, Mme. Senta Erd, Mrs. Harry Perl and the honorees.

Prenuptial Party

More than sixty guests were bidden to a luncheon given recently at the Roosevelt in honor of Miss Florence Solomon, who will wed Louis Edward Kline at noon Sunday. Mrs. Joseph Kline, mother of the bridegroom-elect was hostess at the affair.

Will Attend Convention

Miss Ruth Ellen Emerson, recently elected vice-president of the Alpha Chi Chapter of Delta Zeta at the University of California at Los Angeles, left Tuesday for Madison, Wis., where she will attend the national convention of the sorority. Miss Emerson is being accompanied on the trip by Mrs. A. H. Muenter of the Rho Chapter, who claims Denver University as her alma mater. Mrs. Muenter is president of the Los Angeles Alumnae Association. En route the two delegates will visit Carlsbad Caves in New Mexico; New Orleans and Chicago. They will visit Denver, Salt Lake City and San Francisco on the return trip.

Betrothal Announced

An informal party given recently at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred C. Smith, 2309 South Longwood avenue, served as the occasion for the announcement of the betrothal of their daughter, Miss Frances Berdine Smith, to Marshall E. Wilson of Glendale. No wedding date has been set.

HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS

Homespun

A damp towel makes glassware and silver dull and cloudy.

A weak solution of alum will revive the colors in a faded carpet.

Highly seasoned and strongly flavored foods are not for the invalid.

Constant watchfulness is the most important watchword for successful moth control.

Moisten some granulated sugar with vinegar and eat it when suffering from hiccoughs. It will almost always bring relief.

Never leave a spoon in the saucepan if you want the contents to boil quickly, as the spoon will carry off a great deal of the heat and delay the cooking.

A Maid's Recommendation

When Annie returns some day and asks for a recommendation to some future employer, write what you can that is good about her and let the bad go, unless she has proven dishonest. In that event tell Annie to ask the inquirer to telephone you and then you can enlighten her. Things of that sort are better said than written, but if you can find a thing to boost in Annie, help her along, as this is the only way she can get a position.

In an Emergency

If the fountain pen runs dry and you have no opportunity to refill it, half-fill it with water. There are usually enough dried crystals in the pen barrel to make good-enough ink for an emergency.

CHEF WYMAN'S RECIPES

Every Tuesday and Friday at 2 o'clock Mrs. A. L. Wyman will conduct a free class and demonstration of good cookery in the lecture room of the Southwest Building, 130 South Broadway.

CANTALOUPE MOUSSE

Take a large size cantaloupe, remove the pulp, measure it, place in a saucepan and add to it half the quantity of sugar, let it simmer slowly, until rather thick, rub the mixture through a sieve, and replace it on the fire. For each pint of pulp (or two cupfuls,) dissolve in a little cold water two level teaspoonfuls of gelatine and pour over it one cupful of boiling water, stir until dissolved, add this to the cooked melon, stirring until it begins to cool and thicken. Wet molds with cold water, place the mixture in it, set on the ice until firm and serve with whipped cream.

ZUCCHINI AND TOMATOES

Remove the stem ends of the zucchini and cut four of them into long pieces the same as for French fried potatoes. Place them in a saute pan and add two cupfuls of solid tomatoes, a half cupful of chopped onion, one green pepper, cut in long thin strips, and two tablespoonfuls of dried mushrooms that have been soaked in hot water for one hour and chopped. Season with salt, paprika and a tablespoonful of oil, cover tightly and simmer gently until tender.

PEACH SPONGE

Take one pound of peaches, peel and remove the stones, press the peaches through a sieve, and add to the pulp one cupful of boiling water, one-half cupful of sugar, and one tablespoonful of lemon juice. Cover two tablespoonfuls of gelatine with half a cupful of cold water, and let it soak for fifteen minutes, add it to the peaches, place in a double boiler, and stir until the gelatine is dissolved. Place the mixture in a cold bowl, stand the bowl in a bowl of cracked ice and stir until it begins to thicken, then fold into it the stiffly beaten whites of three eggs, turn into a mold that has been rinsed in cold water, and when ready to serve pour over it a thin custard.

SPICED FIGS

Make a syrup of one pound and one-half of sugar, one cupful of cider vinegar, one-half cupful of water, and cook in it, tied in thin cheese cloth, one ounce each of whole pepper, stick cinnamon, and one-half an ounce of clove, add one orange, and one lemon, cut in thin slices, and the seeds removed. Boil the syrup for one-half an hour, place three pounds of figs in a double boiler, and steam until tender, then add them to the syrup and allow to cook slowly for an hour and a half longer, place the figs in jars and pour over them the boiling syrup.

Mrs. Wyman does not reply to letters, but requests for recipes are answered in the department, PRACTICAL RECIPES, published every Friday.—(All rights to reproduce reserved by A. L. Wyman.)

Health and Diet Advice
By DR. FRANK McCOY
Author of "The Fast Way to Health"

CANTALOUPES ARE COOLING

Provident nature kindly arranged to give us cantaloupes during the warm season when they are most valuable. Throughout the melon time I would suggest that you will keep cooler and feel better if you use melons once or twice daily. On extremely hot days it is often a good plan to make an entire luncheon on nothing but cantaloupes, using as many as desired. The large amount of purified water and wholesome mineral elements contained in cantaloupes and other melons have a cooling and cleansing action on the blood stream and should be used abundantly during the summer time.

Cantaloupes are related to the gourd family. Their original home is in Asia and India, and they were first brought to Europe from Armenia. Muskmelons, cantaloupes and nutmeg melons all belong to the netted group whose rinds are laced over with a thick graying pattern. The pulp of these melons varies from green to a deep gold, and is highly flavored and sweet to the tongue. They consist of about 89 per cent of water, the rest being composed of sugar and organic minerals, principally potash, lime and iron, and vitamins. Casabas and honey dew closely resemble muskmelons in food value and are somewhat larger in size and ripen later in the season. These melons contain a small amount of acid and for this reason the best way to use them is to make a complete meal of any one kind of melon, using all that is desired.

They should never be eaten when they are unripe or overripe, as they may produce symptoms akin to colic. They are best when the flavor is most fully developed. The housewife should use the greatest care to select the ones which have a good ripe odor and are not bruised. Much of the pleasure of eating the muskmelon is due to the delicate musk-like aroma which is whiffed up the nose. For this reason, the melon with the best odor usually has the best flavor.

They are best chilled by placing in the refrigerator. If cracked ice is used to chill them, it should not be placed inside the melon, but the melon should be packed inside the ice, and opened and cleaned when ready to serve. This method preserves the delicate natural taste and is not diluted with ice water. To make the cut cantaloupe stand on the plate a slice may be cut from the bottom, making it flat. Cantaloupe filled with ice cream makes a perfect meal for luncheon when you do not care for heavier food. Another delicious way to serve muskmelons is to cut the fresh fruit into small squares or balls which can be made with a melon spoon obtainable at any hardware store. This can be served as a salad or you can cover these pieces with apricot or pineapple Jello or Jell-well, placing the dish in the refrigerator until the gelatin has hardened.

Some people enjoy the cantaloupe baked. Simply cut the cantaloupe in two, scoop out the seeds and put the halves into a hot oven. Serve as soon as they begin to brown. Do not cook them too long or they will become mushy. If the cantaloupe is a little too green to serve for breakfast, you may often use it by baking in this manner.

WHEN THE SANDMAN COMES
by THORNTON W. BURGESS

Obedience without delay
You'll find to be the muskrat way.
—Jerry Muskrat.

THE SIGNAL PASSED ALONG

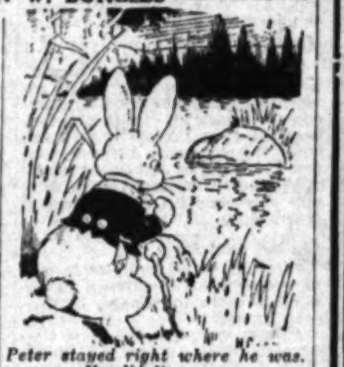
Peter Rabbit spent a lot of time around the Smiling Pool. You see, Peter was greatly interested in the school there, for really there was a school in the Smiling Pool. There were two teachers—Jerry Muskrat and Mrs. Muskrat. Nine little Muskrats went to that school. Of course, they didn't call it a school. But after all any place where you learn lessons is a school and those little Muskrats were being taught lessons every day.

It was surprising how fast they grew. It was quite necessary that they should learn as fast as they grew. Otherwise, they would become grown up without being really fitted to take care of themselves. Peter, just from watching, got so that he understood some of the signals. He was over there just at dusk one evening. Jolly, round, red Mr. Sun had gone to bed behind the Purple Hills and the Black Shadows had crept across the Green Meadows and over the Smiling Pool. It was all very calm and quiet and shadowy there. Presently the first little star came peeping out and was reflected in the water.

Nowhere could Peter see anything of the Muskrats. Jerry wasn't to be seen; Mrs. Muskrat wasn't to be seen; none of the little Muskrats were to be seen. After a while Peter began to wonder where they were. It was just such a night as Muskrats love. Could it be that something had happened to one or more of the family and the rest were in hiding? Peter tried to be patient. However, patience does not hold out forever and at last Peter made up his mind that he would go over in the Green Forest for a while.

Peter was just about to start along when he heard clearly but faintly a sound made by a flat tail being slapped on the water. The sound came from down the Laughing Brook below the Smiling Pool. Immediately the sound was repeated but was much louder. This time it came from back of the Big Rock in the Smiling Pool. And then right away came a whole series of little slaps. They were not so loud, because they were made by small tails. These slaps came from in among the bulrushes at the upper end of the Smiling Pool. After that all was still. Yet, sir, all was still.

Peter sat right where he was. He didn't move. In a moment or two it seemed as if a shadow—a flying shadow—passed across the Smiling Pool. Peter held his breath. Inside he was saying, "That was Hooty the Owl. Jerry Muskrat must have seen him and gave the signal down there in the Laughing Brook. Mrs. Muskrat over there behind the Big Rock heard the signal and passed it along. The nine children over there in the bulrushes heard her and each passed the signal along. So, by the time Hooty the Owl got up here every little Muskrat was hidden."



Peter stayed right where he was. He didn't move

All this Peter said to himself inside, taking the greatest care not to move so much as a whisker. You see, Peter knows all about the wonderful ears of Hooty the Owl and how well he can see at a time when most other people can see very little. And Peter was quite right in his understanding of those signals. Jerry Muskrat had seen Hooty the Owl and had passed the signal to Mrs. Muskrat. She, in turn, had passed the signal on to the little Muskrats and they, because they had all been trained, had at once hidden and remained hidden.

By and by Peter heard a squeak. It was Mrs. Muskrat. It was answered by a number of little squeaks. These were from the little Muskrats. Their mother had told them at the danger was past.

KEEP WATCHFUL EYE TO PREVENT DISASTERS ON FOURTH

All mothers look forward to July Fourth with trepidation. They want to be good sports, they want their children to do what other children are doing, and they are well aware of the penalties the children and they suffer unless they put the maternal foot down firmly upon some of the common methods of celebration.

"Aw, Maw, there's nothing dangerous about them! They make a lot of noise but no one could get hurt by them."

These are the supposedly harmless cannon crackers which when put under a can or inside a bottle make such a terrific noise. Along with the noise there are major casualties like eyes being blown out, glass and tin being forced into the child's skin all because small boys like noise and aren't aware of what can happen when gun powder is harnessed inside of some obstacle.

AN OUNCE OF PREVENTION

Then there are always those harrowing next-day stories of how the child didn't think the cracker was lit and went up and looked more closely, prepared to light it again and at that moment it exploded. Shattered fingers, powder scarring tender skins—the result is terrible and everlasting.

It is too late to mourn when the damage is done. It isn't always possible to prevent children's shooting firecrackers. It is possible for some older person to stay with the children while the celebration is going on. One needn't make oneself obnoxious, but keep a watchful eye and prevent these dire disasters to children who are more fertile in thinking up "funny" things to do with firecrackers, than they are in imagining the possible result of their funny exploits.

KEEP WATCHFUL EYE

Mothers can see that their daughters do not go out with a string of the most harmless baby-crackers, dressed in clothes which the least spark will ignite. They, too, can sit close by if some masculine member of the family can't be present and see that while there is harmless popping and screaming, the children take care to handle what is always a treacherous element in a manner that will prevent disaster.

There are mothers who will forbid firecrackers being bought but they are not always able to prevent their own children from entering into the celebrations financed by some one else. Faced with all kinds of situations which offer danger to the children, their own peace of mind and the children's well-being will be better served by cooking a simpler feast and taking time off to see just what the children are doing with firecrackers and firearms on this grand day which yearly celebrates our independence by the sacrifice and injury of innumerable innocents.

LITERATURE COURSE OFFERED

Opportunity is offered during the summer months for persons to study literature in the making under the direction of the University of California extension division. The fields of drama, poetry, biography and the novel will be explored. The instructor for the course is William C. D. Kerr. The class will meet Tuesdays and Thursdays, 6 to 8 p.m., in the Hillstreet Building.

A Place for Them

A large box should be kept for the purpose of storing canceled checks and receipts. Be sure to put them there after the bill is paid, then should a dispute come up over the payment, you know just where to find the bill and receipt or canceled check.

Removes the Stains

When crystal vases or flower holders are used frequently a brown stain is apt to form at the base. These dark stains can be removed by moistening tea leaves with vinegar, placing them in the vase and scrubbing the inside with them by means of a bottle brush.

Mrs. H. Dolhonde,
6318 York St.,
New Orleans, Louisiana

"Before my last baby was born, I started taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I got such good results that I named her Catherine Lydia. I have six older children and five grandchildren, too. I am now taking the Vegetable Compound again because of my age. I eat and sleep better and I do all my housework, and my washing. I will do my best to answer letters."

Mrs. Harold Goodnow
36 Cane St.,
Fitchburg, Massachusetts

"I cannot praise your medicine enough. After my baby came I was rundown. I had to go to bed often through the day. I took three bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I felt like a different woman. If any mother has those tired feelings I advise her to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."

Mrs. Lloyd R. Blasing,
Anaheim, California

"After my baby came I was so nervous and tired that I felt miserable. One day a booklet was left at our door and after reading it I decided to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I am now on my fourth bottle and I feel much stronger. It has helped me in every way and I feel sure that other women in rundown condition will pick up if they will only take a few bottles."

Novelties, Ideas, and Suggestions

By OLIVE GRAY

Chocolate Independences

Fourth of July chocolates come in many novel shapes, this season. Tiny cannons are set upon bases of chocolate, the guns wrapped closely in the national red-white-and-blue. All sorts of mimic "fireworks" are fashioned from the favorite sweet. Flagged in tissue of enduring quality, chocolate takes on the part of Independence Day souvenirs both large and small. Almost too realistic for consuming, these dainties are pretty enough to use as keepsakes, rather.

Safety Firsting

How glorious that fire-danger has been so strictly eliminated from the Glorious Fourth.

It seems almost incredible, now, that not so many years ago, fireworks calamities were a matter of course, in the national celebration. This may lend us hope that, sometime, week-end motor accidents may form no part of our news items. Truly, "the world do move," toward a higher civilization.

The Merest Five

"Well," exclaimed Editha, and at the same time acclaimed: "Who would think that so much wedding gift could be found for the merest five!" For we were in search of such gifts and had discovered those tables whereon under the $5 mark were displayed lovely objects in pewter—bowls flaring out like fairy flowers, vases, candlesticks, jugs and other articles both useful and handsome. Something there is about pewter most endearing. As Editha said: "I like it better than silver; the texture is so soft and creamy." I suppose she meant that she liked the duller surface of this metal better than the more lustrous silver. Or, is it that Madame la Mode so favors pewter?

Anti-Feminist?

A correspondent laments that the so-called "feminine vogue," presages the return to woman's slavery to man. "Just as women were beginning to be recognized as man's equal, at least, in business and the professions, we take on all the foolish frills and furbelows of our forebears!" she laments continuing. "Just as it was beginning to be less a man's world and more of a world of our own, we throw it all away, for mere baubles of vanity—long skirts, corsets, perhaps, chignons!"

But, dear lady, has it ever been really anything but a man's world? And, were we progressing so rapidly by usurping mannish ways? And do "clothes make the man"—or the woman? Is it not more the way in which clothes are worn, and the personality which peers through the outer garb?

Children's Entertainment

Some find vacation days, with the children out of school, rather problematic. What to do with all the time, suddenly thrown upon tiny hands! One mother has started the neighborhood group to making portfolios, cutting pictures from magazines and papers. Good taste in the selection of the pictures and neatness in making the books, are to be rewarded by some treat, such as making the winner hostess at a luncheon, or the principal during a trip to the beach. Thus, one form of entertainment leads to another, and competition adds a pleasing zest. At the same time, good taste, in simple art, is developed.

No Peace Advocate

One writer on the perennial subject of marital happiness or its reverse, believes that periodical quarrels are beneficial. He thinks such flare-ups clear the atmosphere and break the monotony. "First in war, first in peace and first in the heart" of the spouse, seems to be this writer's interpretation of matrimonial generalship.

Chinese Lanterns

With the vogue for color so omnipresent, what so effective in the summer cabin or cottage, as Chinese lanterns?

A most enlivening touch is conferred by these gay lanterns, swinging in time with the summer breezes. That they need not "match" anything in their surroundings, affords a feeling of freedom making for relaxation; and then, too, one accustomedly thinks of these lanterns in connection with joyous eating-places and with the placidity of the Chinese who serve there.

Summer Differing

Summer should bring out different ways of living, different ways of doing even the usual things. If the family cannot afford to take the regulation vacation, one may be simulated by breakfasting in the back yard, or on a porch. Picnics may replace the usual dinner; for however limited the city space, surrounding the home, something may be devised to play at being in the great out-doors. Ingenuity in planning such relaxation, will in itself quite equal the pleasure of its attainment. One family tells of certain days for each of the children to think out a variation from the usual family routine.

An idea originated by a great-minded woman was that, foreigners should reside in the United States for the same length of time required for native residents to become citizens—that is, twenty-one years. "If twenty-one years are required for those born under our flag to be fitted for citizenship, those born without this blessed heritage should be required at least as long, to learn the requisite love and respect for our institutions." Such was this thinker's contention. This is a subject for thought, at this, our anniversary of national independence. Would such requirement make for better citizenship in general? Pro or con?

CONFESSION OF SLAYING REPUDIATED

Wilbur McCabe Charges Duress at Hearing on Night Clerk's Murder

Wilbur McCabe, ex-convict accused of the murder of Henry Miller, night clerk at the University Club, during a hold-up on June 17, last, was arrested after being followed from the club to his boarding-house at 1537 Wilshire Boulevard by a trail of drops of blood from a cut inflicted by Miller in his effort to protect his employers' money, Detective Lieutenant Armstrong testified yesterday in Municipal Judge Turney's court. McCabe is undergoing preliminary hearing on the murder charge.

Charles P. Harris, night watchman at the club, testified that he saw McCabe and Miller talking in the office a moment before the shooting. He went into the garage, he said, and heard two shots. Dashing back, he found Miller lying on the floor.

McCabe took the stand to declare that the confession which he made to police after his arrest was obtained by threats and violence. "Capt. Seager and other officers struck me and threatened me," he said. "Seager told me he would 'take me for a ride unless I came clean with a squawk.' I was struck and kicked by other officers."

In spite of McCabe's declaration, Judge Turney allowed the confession, which was not signed, to be introduced as evidence. The hearing will be continued this morning.

Girl Refuses to Explain Her Disappearance

Held in the County Jail as a material witness against her asserted sweetheart, Ardith Woodling, 20 years of age, yesterday declared that her disappearance last Monday night on the eve of her scheduled court appearance must remain unexplained.

The young woman was taken in custody several days ago by police after she is asserted to have given them information which resulted in the arrest of Victor Blanco, 20, with whom she said she had been living, and his brother, Louis, 30, on burglary charges.

She was scheduled to appear at the preliminary hearing of the pair Tuesday morning, and when she failed to do so officers expressed the belief that she may have been spirited away by persons interested in preventing her from testifying.

Late Tuesday she walked into the courtroom and was placed in jail, pending the continued hearing of the case next Wednesday.

"EX-MISTRESS" TO BE FILMED

M.-G.-M. Signs Walter Hasenclever, Author of "Beyond;" Former Essanay Director Plays in Lasky Picture; R.-K.-O. Company Traveling to Alaska

BY GRACE KINGSLEY

"Ex-Wife" has had her day on the screen, as a Norma Shearer vehicle, and with title changed to "The Divorcee." And now comes "Ex-Mistress." This popular novel of the moment is to be made into a picture by Warner Brothers, according to announcement of Darryl Zanuck.

The film talking version will be called "Just An Hour of Love," and so far no director or star is assigned, but it should be a box-office draw, judging from the popularity of the original and the new title bestowed on it.

NOTED EUROPEAN TO WRITE FOR M.-G.-M.

Another famous European playwright has been brought to America to write directly for the talking screen in the language of his own country. He is Walter Hasenclever, noted Berlin dramatist, who arrived yesterday on the Chief, under contract to Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer.

Hasenclever is best known in America for "Beyond," first produced in Berlin and later with success in New York. It was a hit at the Provincetown Playhouse.

Though born in Germany, Hasenclever for many years lived in Paris and his plays show a distinct French influence. Among his best known European dramas are "A Refined Gentleman," "Marriage is Made in Heaven," and "Napoleon Interferes," which last named is to have an American production next year.

Former Director to Act

KAY JOHNSON

Everyone who remembers the halcyon film days of Essanay, when Francis X. Bushman, Beverly Bayne, Richard Travers and Ruth Stonehouse held sway, will remember also Hal Davis, director for that institution.

Davis has just been signed as an actor by Paramount. He will play a featured role in "The Spoilers," joining a cast which includes Gary Cooper, Kay Johnson, Betty Compson, Harry Green, James Kirkwood, William Boyd, Slim Summerville and others.

The director-actor was formerly of the stage, and at one time co-starred with James J. Corbett in a play called "Pals."

Badger Gets New Contract

Badger Gets New Contract.

First National has decided that the organization can by no means do without the expert professional services of Clarence Badger, and have signed the director on a new long-term contract.

Badger has directed a number of the later successes of First National, and is shortly to receive a new assignment.

R.-K.-O. Players to Alaska

EVELYN BRENT

The company of players, directors and technicians who are to aid in the R.-K.-O. production of Rex Beach's "Silver Horde," left yesterday for Alaska, where, at, and near Ketchikan, scenes for the production will be filmed.

The cast includes Evelyn Brent, Joel McRae, Louis Wolheim and Raymond Hatton, with Gavin Gordon added to the cast in an important role just before the players left. George Archainbaud will direct.

Wallace Smith wrote the film story and adaptation, together with the dialogue, and preceded the company into the Alaskan wilds.

Russell Gleason's New Contract

That promising young actor, Russell Gleason, has so greatly pleased Pathe officials that they are signing him on a new long-term contract.

Gleason has appeared in several of Pathe's most popular pictures of late, and always with success. He is at work at present in "Beyond Victory."

Phyllis Crane in It

Whenever they want a particularly good job of ingenuing done in a picture at Warner Brothers they introduce Phyllis Crane into the cast.

Miss Crane's newest assignment is the ingenue lead in "College Lovers," which Jack Adolfi is directing. Jack Whiting has the principal male role, as heretofore announced.

Warner Company Travels

It has been decided over at Warner Brothers' studio that "River's End" is to be made into a big special. So well do Warner officials like the scenes which director Michael Curtiz has already provided them that they felt the picture deserved special production.

EVELYN KNAPP

The "River's End" company, including some 125 persons, will leave today for the Sacramento River, near Auburn, where most of the principal scenes will be taken.

Charles Bickford, Evalyn Knapp, J. Farrell MacDonald and Walter McGrail have the four featured roles in the production.

Jack King With Paramount

Jack King, who has climbed to success as a composer of internationally popular music within two years, has just been signed to a film contract by Paramount, B. P. Schulberg announced yesterday. The musician is a graduate from the ranks of concert pianists. He wrote his first popular number, "How Am I to Know?" two years ago. It was at a dinner party at Ruth Chatterton's home that the idea for the song came to him.

Dr. De Forest to be Greeted by Committee

Plans were completed last night to give Dr. Lee De Forest, "father of radio," a rousing reception upon his arrival at noon today aboard a Western Air Express planes from San Francisco. Herbert Hoover, Jr., chief engineer of Western Air Express, a committee from the Chamber of Commerce and prominent radio men of Southern California will form a reception committee to welcome him.

Tonight at 6:30 o'clock he will speak before a special meeting of the Los Angeles section of the Institute of Radio Engineers, of which he is president.

Dr. De Forest will inspect the radio department of Western Air Express, organized by Mr. Hoover, tomorrow morning, following which he will visit several motion-picture studios.

Accompanying him on his trip from San Francisco will be G. J. Hallam, war-time pilot and general sales manager of the De Forest Radio Company at Passaic, N. J.; J. W. Garside, Jr., of the factory sales department; J. T. Hill, Pacific Coast representative of the company, and Elmer Reed, associate of Mr. Hill.

Los Angeles Looks Lovely to Evangelist

"After traveling four times around the world, I find no place so lovely as Los Angeles," said Mrs. Aimee Semple McPherson, pastor of Angelus Temple, in an address given yesterday before an audience of 500 persons at the City Club.

Mrs. McPherson told her audience that on one of her trips the Shriners of an Eastern States initiated her as the first "Lady Noble," telling her she had earned the title by having "walked the burning sands."

Describing her visit to the Holy Land, Mrs. McPherson said that all of her hopes and dreams of the things she would see there were fully realized in that charming land of romance and color. She told of an Egyptian who told her fortune and who predicted that she will have three husbands and ten children.

TONIGHT—"GREEN FIELDS"

"JEW SUSS" PRODIGIOUS IN SCOPE

Individual Talents of Players Subjected for Effect as Whole

BY JACOB COOPER

Heralded as the most ambitious play in its repertoire, "Jew Suss" was given a performance at the Biltmore Theater last night by the Yiddish Art Players. This play, based on the novel, "Power," by Leon Feuchtwanger, is veritably prodigious in its scope and can achieve the adjective "ambitious" in more sense than one.

Attempting to capture the epic sweep of the novel within the confines of three acts of a stage play is a colossal task. But in last night's performance it seemed to achieve its aim through panoramic effect and subtle undertone.

Jacob Ben-Ami, in the role of the ambitious Jew who set himself up as financial dictator of a German principality at the time when Germany was divided into innumerable petty kingdoms, set the pace and tone which the other actors followed in building up a unity out of disintegrated bits of action.

The play opened in a slow manner. Each act seemed to consist of a series of tableaux and portions of dialogue which wove and interwove. As the action went along from act to act, these scenes piled up in intensity and cohesion, forcing their import across slowly but with relentless power.

There were no pyrotechnics. Every bit of action was subtle, almost insinuating, and the actors' abilities were subjugated toward attaining an effect of totality. Individuals stood out, of course, but not in the manner which would easily be apparent in a play of lesser dimensions.

The role of the Duke of Wurtemberg was given a splendid interpretation by Isidore Cashier, and Ann Apel, in her small part as the mother of Joseph Suss, stepped out of her usual earthy characterizations and showed herself adept in more patrician roles. Lazard Freed contributed greatly to the fineness of the performance in his part as the aged rabbi—a part which spoke well for his versatility when contrasted with his performance of the evening before as a young farm boy.

Anatol Vinogradoff has displayed some exceptionally fine talent in the first two plays of this repertoire and has decidedly blossomed out in his ability since last year. In "Jew Suss," he carried off an important part with equal honors. Another important role, the daughter of Suss, was equally well interpreted by Judith Abarbanel, and Bertha Gersten was well cast as Magdalen Sibylle.

Fine staging and lighting effects added greatly to the total effect, and the direction reflected the efforts of a shrewd and capable hand.

The importance of this play in the company's repertoire is manifested in the announcement that it will be repeated on Saturday and Sunday evenings. Tonight there will be a repetition of Hirshbein's "Green Fields," one of the finest comedies in Yiddish stage literature. Friday night, the single performance of J. D. Berocvich's drama, "Out of the Beyond," will be given.

Substitute Has Role in Drama on Subway Car

Two days before the opening of "Subway Express," the mystery play at the Mason Theater, the actor rehearsing the role of Tony, the Italian ice man that precipitates a row that results in a mysterious murder, reported that he had chickenpox. That automatically put him out of the cast with very little time to find some one to take his place.

Ralph Simone, who is staging the play here, is used to such mishaps and was the least flustrated of all, for he soon found another man to take the place of the sick one. But the program had been printed and that is the reason the substitute actor's name did not appear on it. J. E. Lessing was the man in question and he gave a creditable performance.

Blond Tresses Intrigue Star of "Caprice

To dye or not to dye is the question now facing Fay Bainter, star of "Caprice" at the Belasco Theater.

In the second act Miss Bainter has a quarrel with her sweetheart and departs. In the next act she returns with beautiful yellow tresses "turned gold from grief," she explains. Naturally the yellow tresses are supplied by a wig, but so charming does the star look in the light hair that she has thought seriously, upon the closing of "Caprice," to have her own turned that color. Her friends are begging her not to do so, but Miss Bainter herself is still undecided, it is reported.

'Second Man' Due Tonight at Pasadena

"The Second Man," S. N. Behrman's sophisticated play, opens tonight at the Pasadena Community Playhouse.

The novelist, who loved luxury enough to buy it with simulated love, will be played by Maurice Wells, old-time Playhouse favorite who has just completed the season with the Theater Guild, while the role of the rich widow who supported him will be played by Ellen Hall who has just returned to Pasadena after a winter on Broadway with Alice Brady in "The Most Immoral Lady."

Marion Clayton, clever ingenue, will be welcomed back to the Playhouse in this production. Ralph Freud completes the foursome in the role of Austin Lowe.

MAURICE WAR HERO

Maurice Chevalier, Paramount screen star, was awarded the French Military Cross for heroism during the World War.

Actress Shifts to Dramatic Role

Nancy Carroll

Heretofore associated with singing and dancing parts in films, is given an opportunity to display emotional ability in "Devil's Holiday," starting today at the Million Dollar Theater.

DIX VEHICLE SCHEDULED

Announcement was made yesterday by the Orpheum Theater that "Shooting Straight," starring Richard Dix, will be the next attraction at that theater. The new feature is scheduled to start Saturday morning.

"Shooting Straight" brings Dix to the screen in what is claimed to be one of the most virile roles in which he has yet been seen, namely, that of a young crook gambler.

A capable supporting cast, headed by Mary Lawlor, former New York stage player, and Matthew Betz, support Dix in this latest feature.

A realistic train wreck and a free-for-all fight between Dix and Betts are said to be among the outstanding scenes of the picture, which comes from Radio Pictures' studios.

"Svenson's Wild Party," musical comedy which stars El Brendel and Marjorie White, will have its final showings at the Orpheum tomorrow night.

NOTED STAR TO PLAY AT EL CAPITAN

Glenn Hunter Engaged for "To the Ladies," Starting in Fortnight

Glenn Hunter, star of "Merton of the Movies," "Clarence," "Seventeen," "Young Woodley" and other Broadway successes, has been engaged to play the leading role in "To the Ladies," the Marc Connelly and George S. Kaufman comedy satire which follows "Nancy's Private Affair" at El Capitan Theater starting Sunday, the 13th inst.

The opening of the new attraction will also celebrate the third anniversary of the theater under the supervision of Henry Duffy.

The co-authors of "To the Ladies," which glorifies the national efficiency expert, the American wife, have a series of outstanding successes to their credit. Marc Connelly is the author of "Green Pastures," a fantasy which has taken the country by storm and is the dramatic sensation of the season on Broadway. George S. Kaufman's latest hit is "June Moon." Together they wrote "Merton of the Movies," "Dulcy" and others.

Rehearsals are now under way with Edwin H. Curtis directing and the balance of the cast which is to support Hunter will be announced within a few days.

Cooper Essays Soldier Role in New Film

"A Man from Wyoming," a Paramount production starring Gary Cooper, starts today at the Paramount Theater. The hero of "The Virginia" and "The Texan" becomes a captain in the United States Engineers of the A.E.F. June Collyer, a favorite leading woman because of her beauty and ability, is featured opposite Cooper as the girl who shows him he is not as rough as he thinks.

The romance that develops is carried on under shell fire, with the war days as its background. But with the signing of the Armistice, and the passing of the war's hysteria, a problem faces the lovers that threatens disaster to their romance.

"A Man from Wyoming" was directed by Rowland V. Lee from an original story by Joseph March and Lew Lipton. Others in the cast are Regis Toomey, Morgan Farley, E. H. Calvert and Mary Foy.

Film Player Reads Fiction in Spare Time

Fiction interests Robert Ames, well-known stage and screen player, who portrays a leading role in "Double Cross Roads," the film opening today at the Boulevard Theater. He reads a book a day, rain or shine, it is said.

The new film deals with the redemption of a young crook who, after he leaves a prison term behind and decides to go straight, falls in love with a girl who helps him to reform in spite of the obstacles put in his way by a fellow-gangster.

Lila Lee heads the supporting cast, which includes Montagu Love, Ned Sparks, George Macfarlane, Tom Jackson, Edythe Chapman and others. A new stage show will open tonight.

FAWCETT TO START PICTURE

George Fawcett has finished with stage production for the time being and will return to pictures. He has already been signed for an independent with all-star cast and will begin work shortly.

PANTAGES TO SCREEN "DIVORCEE"

Norma Shearer Portrays Chief Part in M.-G.-M. Film Production

Norma Shearer is said to score an individual triumph, ranking ahead of performances in "The Trial of Mary Dugan" and "The Last of Mrs. Cheyney," in her new production, "The Divorcee," which begins a week's run at the new Pantages Hollywood Theater today.

The picture is reported to present the most sophisticated treatment of the question of divorce. Miss Shearer has the role of a woman who seeks to equal her husband's infidelity by matching his conduct.

With eighty people on the stage and featuring Barto and Mann, Fanchon and Marco's "Cadet Idea" is the largest presentation to accompany a picture at this theater. Slim Martin will direct the orchestra in "Medley Militaire."

LON CHANEY TALKS IN NEW FILM

"Unholy Three" Serves as Vehicle for Popular Screen Player

Lon Chaney talks today. The noted character actor, one of the last to yield to the demands for his voice on the screen, makes his audible debut with a quintet of vocal personalities—all his own—at Loew's State Theater.

The picture is a new version of "The Unholy Three," just completed under the direction of Jack Conway. Chaney's role as a strange ventriloquist in a side show makes it possible for him to use five different disguises of voice in the story and also surrounds with an aura of mystery his plot with the giant and midget of the show. The supporting cast, headed by Lila Lee, includes Elliott Nugent, Ivan Linow, Harry Earles, John Miljan, Crauford Kent, Clarence Burton, Richard Carle and Armand Kaliz.

Fanchon and Marco offer a Victor Herbert Idea on the stage, utilizing the melodies of the composer as basic music. Walter Powell, Buddy Howe, the Victor Herbert Quartet and the Belcher Dancers will appear.

Reginald Denny Will Play Star Role on Screen

Portraying the role of a rollicking but elusive Romeo, Reginald Denny heads the cast of "What a Man," starting at the R.-K.-O. Theater today.

The picture is classed as a gay comedy, and is said to afford Denny one of the best roles of his varied career. It is an adaptation of the novel, "The Dark Chapter," and was directed by George Crone. Miriam Seegar, blonde actress, plays the leading feminine role.

A group of California favorites make up the R.-K.-O. vaudeville entertainment. Headed by "Sunkist" Eddie Nelson, the program includes Zelda Santley, Ann Pritchard and her five boys, and the St. Claire sisters and O'Day.

PREVIEW ANNOUNCED

Tonight will mark the preview showing of a new Columbia picture at the Westlake Theater, in addition to the regular feature, "Paramount on Parade." The Westlake is also showing a Fox Movietone News and several shorts.

FIRST YEAR IN PICTURES COMPLETED

Reactions to Film Work in Hollywood Told by Marion Shilling

BY JOHN SCOTT

First anniversaries, though usually celebrated, never amount to very much. A child 1 year old doesn't know or care; young married men practically always forget the occasion until the wife reminds them, and college graduates one year after are still trying to figure out what to do with their educations, if any.

Marion Shilling, youthful motion-picture actress, is now in the throes of her first anniversary of film work and is enjoying a vacation in lieu of celebration. The length will be determined by how long it takes her to recover from a tonsil operation.

Asked to describe her reactions after a year's acting in front of the camera and microphone, Miss Shilling confessed that she found herself in somewhat of a daze over the whole thing, not being able to realize that she has played in five pictures and at four studios during the twelve months just passed.

"As a child I played small parts in my father's stage productions in the East," Miss Shilling said. "There was no particular glamour connected with the theater, due, I suppose, to the fact that I was too closely associated with it. Hollywood and motion pictures were not only my ambition but those of practically every stage actor with whom I came in contact.

"Players used to tell me how hard it was to even get inside the studio gates in Hollywood; forbidden gates, I believe they were called. My father decided to bring the play 'Dracula' to Los Angeles, and I came along, more out of curiosity to see the studios than anything else. An M.-G.-M. casting executive gave me a screen test and now I have played in five films, including 'Kempy,' 'Lord Byron of Broadway,' a James Gleason picture, 'Shadow of the Law,' with William Powell, and most recently a Fox production, 'On Your Back.'"

"Shadow of the Law," after one postponement, is now playing at the United Artists Theater. It tells the story of a man unjustly sent to prison by the testimony of a woman and his advenures after being discharged.

Powell plays the accused gentleman, Natalie Moorhead the nefarious woman and Marion Shilling the southern girl who falls in love with Powell.

Though the fascination of portraying an ultra-sophisticated role is a strong one, Miss Shilling believes that one secret of success is not to change character.

"Mr. Powell, who is really splendid to work with, started his career as a 'heavy,'" the actress explained. "He was a delightful villain and now uses his sophistication and suavity to fine advantage in romantic roles. I could not play a scheming adventuress because my temperament and expression are not suited to the part. The trusting girl seems to be my forte for the present."

Miss Shilling has advanced far without a "between pictures" delay, jumping from one part into another. Her performance in "Shadow of the Law" brought her a Paramount contract.

Modern Youth Vindicated by Film Writer

While modern society suffers from the reputation of living under looser moral standards than prevailed a generation ago, the integrity of its members is as sound as was that of their parents and grandparents. This is the opinion voiced by J. Grubb Alexander, who wrote the picture version and dialogue for "A Notorious Affair," film drama of society now showing at Warner's Downtown Theater.

According to Alexander, too much talk and time is wasted on what is wrong with the younger generation. Essentially, this is a faster world that we are living in today than was the case when mother was a girl, thanks to scientific progression, he says. As a consequence, the adolescent is imbued with the speed in which it is necessary to travel in order to keep up with the time, thus making it difficult for yesterday's younger generation to understand. This results in needless worry and misunderstandings on the part of the latter, Alexander declares.

Wynne Gibson Signs Contract With Al Rosen

Wynne Gibson, youthful Broadway comedienne, has scored in the title role of "Molly Magdalene," Crane Wilbur's new comedy drama now playing at the Mayan, to the extent that she has been given a three-year contract by Al Rosen, producer, who will direct her affairs both for the stage and the screen.

Rosen also acts in the same capacity for Jack Oakie, Skeets Gallagher, Fredric March, Regis Toomey and others.

Miss Gibson had an important role last season in New York in "Jarnegan," opposite Richard Bennett, and prior to that was featured in "Castles in the Air" and other musical shows. In "Molly Magdalene" she appears in the role of a burlesque soubrette.

Elsie Ferguson Heads Cast of 'Fata Morgana'

Monday evening, the 14th inst., is the date set for the opening of "Fata Morgana," Ernest Vadja's sophisticated comedy-drama at the Hollywood Playhouse.

Elsie Ferguson, distinguished actress, will be seen in the role of Mathilde Fay, the woman who is forced to choose between love and luxury. The supporting cast will be headed by Tom Douglas, English player. This will mark his debut on the Pacific Coast.

Other players cast for the drama are Lloyd Ingraham, Brenda Forbes, Alma Powell, Josephine Brown, Josie Melville and Frederick Harrington.

POWER BONDS MOVE DELAYED

Chamber Wants Projects Approved First

Directors to Have Advice of Engineering Board

Rehiring of Economist as Consultant Opposed

Postponement by the board of directors of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce of action on the proposed power bonds until the power projects under the bonds are approved by a board of consulting engineers selected by the chamber was announced at a meeting of the Board of Water and Power Commissioners yesterday.

The action of the chamber directors was taken after the Water and Power Commissioners had tentatively approved the three-year power development program of $31,000,000, of which $19,000,000 would come from the bond issue. The commissioners sent the program to the chamber for inspection and approval. The chamber referred the matter to its committee on water and power resources.

PROGRAM TECHNICAL

Upon hearing the report from the chamber, the commissioners took action accepting the suggestion from the chamber and requesting the chamber to select the engineers as requested. The chamber suggested that two of the three consulting engineers be electrical engineers, that all be named by the president of the chamber and hired by the commissioners.

The chamber pointed out that the power program is so technical and complicated that the layman directors could not be expected to pass upon it intelligently without complete engineering advice, naturally from an outside source.

In the same communication, the chamber suggested that the commissioners take similar steps in reference to the expenditures for engineering projects under the $38,000,000 water bonds recently voted, particular reference being made to the matter of the construction of the eleven-mile tunnel under Deadman's Summit separating the Mono Basin the Owens Valley watersheds. The nature of the rock structure and the possibility of running into hot springs have raised some question about the feasibility of running the tunnel through, although the department engineers have expressed confidence of ultimate success. Elaborate drilling prospecting will be done before the route of the bore will be determined. The chamber suggested the employment of consulting geologists and engineers on this project. The suggestion will be followed, and the chamber was invited to name the consultants.

RESERVOIR MATTER UP

The matter of the proposed Bouquet Canyon reservoir as one of the near-in sites to increase local storage for the water system came up again at the meeting, and Chief Engineer Van Norman was instructed to take the question to representatives of Santa Clara Valley residents to insure co-operation on every side. The board also let it be known that reasonable prices are going to be obtained for any proposed dam and reservoir sites or the city would be forced to resort to condemnation proceedings. There will be no expensive preliminary engineering work done on possible sites until some understanding has been reached with the owners of the land as to price. There are several possible sites in the canyon, the engineers reported.

As part of its policy of cutting down unnecessary expenses, the board voted yesterday not to re-employ Dr. W. D. Moriarty as consulting economist for the Bureau of Power and Light. When the request came up at the last meeting from Burdett Moody, business agent of the bureau, for the continuation of Dr. Moriarty on the pay roll, Commissioner Brooks promptly said, "I'm against it." Commissioner Johnson seconded Brooks. Moody urged his retention. Dr. Moriarty was down on the bureau's books for $235 per month for only part-time work in lecturing salesmen and giving advice.

The board continued until next Tuesday at 2 p.m. its investigation into the disappearance of valuable records from an office in the water and power building during the water bonds campaign. So much evidence has been accumulated during the investigation that the commissioners wished to have an opportunity to digest it before proceeding further. Indications are that the inquiry is broadening and that some very interesting facts are being developed touching upon not only the disappearance of the records but office politics within the department.

The commissioners took an important step yesterday to insure security of employees against reprisals that might be visited upon them by superiors for "talking" at the inquiry when they adopted a resolution instructing department heads from now on to make no changes in personnel or organization without the approval of the board.

SAYS HUSBAND POOR HOST

Because her husband would not play host to her visitors, Mrs. Fannie F. Hill yesterday obtained a divorce from Lafayette E. Hill. Superior Judge Yankwich granted her a decree and custody of two minor children.

TAX SALES DRAW THRONGS

Buying Spirited as County 'Auctions Land on Which Levy Payment Had Become Delinquent

They sold California land "down the river" here yesterday.

Under a staccato fire of bids more than 100 parcels of real estate, put on at auction and sold for delinquent taxes, changed hands in the office of Tax Collector Welch in the Hall of Justice.

The drama of the day was furnished time after time by some home owner galloping in under the wire in a hair-raising finish with a fist full of currency a few minutes before his property was scheduled to be put up for sale.

"Most of the improved property, I believe, has been redeemed," said L. A. Pfeiffer, who is in charge of the sales. "The auction has been halted twice so that we could withdraw hundreds of parcels of real estate on which taxes had been paid, in several cases, by a margin of minutes. Originally there were 1400 parcels. This has been cut down to between 900 and 1000 by last-minute payments."

One woman bid in a strip of land a foot wide and sixty feet long. It adjoined her lot and no one owned it. She paid a few dollars for it.

Much of the land sold yesterday, according to officials, was distinctly "mongrel stuff."

Mountainside lots with an angle of 75 deg. and covered with weeds; desert washes, gullies, plots located on top of big rocks, strips left by surveyors and which were owned by no one in particular, all had their eager bidders by those who were willing to take a chance.

Possibly 100 buyers were present at the auction yesterday. It will be continued today and possibly may last the remainder of the week or until all the parcels listed have been either redeemed by last-minute payment sor sold under the hammer.

Homeland Ties Cost Two Wives Their Husbands

Divorces as well as the Atlantic Ocean yesterday separated two husbands and two wives after the former had the local courts dissolve their ties with spouses who refused to come here.

Superior Judge Bishop granted a divorce to Oswald Johnson, who said his wife, Wilhelmina Johnson, refused to accompany him here from Berlin, Germany, in 1923, after they had been married twenty-three years.

Superior Judge Burnell granted a similar decree to George J. Konstanturos, who testified that his wife, Bessie, a bride of three months, declined to leave Greece for America.

Actors Report Encounter at Sea With Whale

Three members of the cast in the "Sea Wolf," a Fox picture in course of production under the direction of Al Santell, had a dangerous encounter with a whale 300 miles off San Pedro, according to stories told by them on their return yesterday.

The cast, in which Milton Sills has the leading role, had put to sea in the schooner Ghost to film an episode requiring the use of a lifeboat. Nat Pendleton, one of the principals, was in the lifeboat, as were two actors taking minor parts.

The whale suddenly came to the surface so close to the boat it was nearly swamped. At the urging of Director Santell the boat returned to the schooner.

LAVINE WITNESS RAPS CRAWFORD

Banker Disputes Statement on Funds Withdrawal

Reporter Goes on Stand in His Own Defense

Injunction Sought to Tie Up $75,000 in Case

Attacking the prosecution's case against Morris Lavine, newspaper man, and Leontine Johnson, on trial before Superior Judge Schauer, charged with extorting $75,000 from Charles H. Crawford, politician, defense attorneys yesterday introduced testimony intended to contradict Crawford's statement that the money involved all came from his personal resources.

Arthur L. Teeter, assistant cashier of a Hollywood branch of the Bank of Italy, testified that Crawford withdrew several sums of money from his account shortly before the arrest of the two defendants, but that the total amount did not approximate $50,000. Crawford testified before the grand jury that he drew $50,000 from his bank account and sold sufficient securities to raise the additional $25,000.

Lavine and Miss Johnson contend that the money was to have been in payment for a large collection of documents pertaining to the Julian Petroleum Corporation and that they were preparing a series of newspaper articles based on the documents.

Lavine took the witness stand during the early part of the day and testified in detail concerning the case. Under cross-examination he denied the truth of many of Crawford's accusations made while he was testifying before the grand jury.

According to William McKay and Frank Curran, deputy district attorneys prosecuting the case, every effort will be made to finish the case this week. Defense Attorneys William Beirne, Richard Cantillon and William T. Kendrick, Jr., announced that they have but a few more witnesses to call before resting their case.

INJUNCTION ASKED TO TIE UP LAVINE MONEY

In an action filed yesterday in the United States District Court, H. L. Carnahan, Joseph Scott and William H. Moore, Jr., trustees of the bankrupt estate of A. C. Wagy & Co., petitioned the court for an injunction to prevent the payment to anyone by County Clerk Lampton or Dist.-Atty. Fitts of the $75,000 said to have been given Morris Lavine, newspaper reporter, by Charles H. Crawford, politician, in an asserted extortion plot.

United States District Judge McCormick granted a temporary restraining order as against Mr. Fitts and Mr. Lampton, and ordered them to appear in Federal Court Monday to show cause why an injunction should not be granted against the disposal of the money pending an action in Federal Court, brought by the trustees for recovery of various sums said to have been illegally given to Lavine and Crawford by officials of A. C. Wagy & Co. at a time the company was insolvent.

It was stated in the petition of the trustees that should Lavine be acquitted the money would be given to him but should be be convicted it would be paid back to Crawford. The action filed yesterday seeks to prevent either such payment. It was asserted that the trustees have suits pending against Lavine and Celia Lavine seeking to recover $5310 said to have been paid them through S. C. Lewis and Jacob Berman at a time the latter controlled the Wagy company, at a time the concern was insolvent. It is asserted that Crawford received $41,250 in the same manner. This the trustees are also seeking to recover for Wagy company stockholders.

Glenn Rogers Goes on Trial in Murder Case

Charged with the murder of James Costello, Los Angeles police officer, on March 31, last, Glenn A. Rogers yesterday went to trial before Superior Judge Fricke. The entire day was spent in selection of a jury. Questioning of prospective jurors will be resumed this morning.

Investigators assert that Rogers, sitting in a parked automobile when accosted by Costello, opened fire on the officer because he did not want to be arrested while he had the gun in his possession. Costello was killed by two bullets fired from Rogers's gun, the complaint charges.

EXCURSION TRAINS DUE HERE TUESDAY

The Santa Fe will pour hundreds of Texas and Louisiana pleasure seekers into Los Angeles next Tuesday, when several special trains will arrive loaded with passengers who will take advantage of excursion fares which the company is offering in those two States. Most of the special trains will be made up at Houston, leaving there Saturday, which is the only date the excursion rates are available. One train, which will arrive in Los Angeles at 6 a.m. Tuesday, will consist of fifteen Pullmans. Others made up of cars from Temple, Fort Worth, Dallas, Lubbock, Amarillo and other points will arrive later.

PHILCO DEALERS WILL HEAR SELLING EXPERT

Harry Boyd Brown, Philco merchandising expert, will arrive in Los Angeles Monday to address the annual convention of Philco dealers that evening in the offices of the Philadelphia Storage Battery Company. The visit is part of a transcontinental trip he is making by train and plane, stopping at all the key cities en route. Philco dealers from all parts of Southern California are expected to attend the convention to inspect new models and to hear company managers discuss merchandising plans. Brown will go from here to Portland.

SEIZED LIQUOR RAID FEARED

Federal Officials Warned of Hijacking Plot

Booze Taken from Court to Government Warehouse

Five Cases Held Back for Trial of Stewart

After information was given Federal officials yesterday of a possible attempt to hijack some of the 143 cases of liquor which has been under guard in a corridor of the Federal Building for two days, orders were issued that all but five of the cases be returned to the government liquor warehouse. This was done.

The liquor, said to be valued at not less than $40,000, was taken from the warehouse to the Federal Building as evidence in the trial of Alexander B. Stewart, head of the Curtis Corporation of Long Beach, accused of violating the national prohibition act. Stewart is accused of permitting the landing of the liquor on his company's wharf, and accepting personally the five cases retained as evidence. He was once convicted, but was granted a new trial, now being held before United States District Judge Cosgrave.

Defense attorneys yesterday advanced a plea of previous jeopardy and the case was continued until today when the court will rule on the question. It is expected the trial will be completed today.

Child Refuses to Testify That Mother Hit Her

Still hopeful of gaining the love which neighbors declared had been denied her by her mother since her birth, Jennie Papeleo, 8 years of age, yesterday refused to testify to the beating assertedly administered by her mother, Mrs. Jennie Papeleo, 9423 Compton avenue, on May 5, last. The girl was taken into Municipal Judge Sheldon's chambers yesterday and scars on her body and legs shown to the jury, but she only cried when asked who beat her and would not answer.

School authorities and juvenile officers yesterday testified the asserted beating was due to the mother's belief that little Jennie brought her bad luck by being born cross-eyed.

STORY COURSE TO OPEN

The course will be under the direction of Robert P. Anderson.

Sharkey Fight Plans Blocked

NEW YORK, July 2. (AP)—Negotiations for a return bout between Max Schmeling and Jack Sharkey terminated abruptly tonight, when Madison Square Garden failed to produce a release from Arthur Buelow, the German's deposed manager, satisfactory to the Schmeling interests. Schmeling offered to give Sharkey a return bout in September a few days after he won from the Boston heavyweight on a foul provided he be given an absolute release from the managerial contract, which Buelow holds with Schmeling and which expires October 13 of this year. Sharkey was so eager for another chance at the German heavyweight, he promised to secure the release and pay for it himself. The Boston gob signed today, agreeing to fulfill his promise.

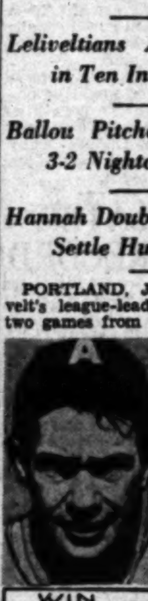
SERAPHS TAKE TWO SIZZLERS

Leliveltians Annex Opener in Ten Innings, 10-9

Ballou Pitches Cherubs to 3-2 Nightcap Victory

Hannah Doubles in Ninth to Settle Hurling Duel

PORTLAND, July 2.—Jack Lelivelt's league-leading Angels took two games from Porland today but both contests were sizzlers that left the issue in doubt until the final out. In the opener the Seraphs won out in ten innings, 10 to 9, while the nightcap was settled in the ninth, 3 to 2, in favor of the visitors. The turn win put the Angels two games ahead of Sacramento.



WIN BALLOU

Old Truck Hannah broke up the final game in the ninth when, with two on and two out, he smashed a double down the left-field line to bring in both runners and erase a 1-to-1 tie. Junk Walters, who engaged Win Ballou in a spirited mound duel in the nightcap, was the loser because of Hannah's timely blow.

DUCKS ADD RUN

At that, the Angels needed both of those runs for the Ducks came back with a run in their half of the tenth to add to the growing crop of gray hairs in Skipper Lelivelt's thatch.

Up until the ninth the contest was even, Johnson homing for a Duck run in the second that the Angels matched in the seventh when Schulmerich's single put a mate over the plate.

The opener was a wild affair that saw the Ducks get off to a five-run lead off Art Delaney. Bill Peters replaced Delaney and hurled good ball to enable the Angels to finally forge to the front, 8 to 7. Peters helped along his own cause by getting three hits and scoring three runs.

However, Peters wobbled in the ninth and the Ducks put over a run to knot the count, 8-all, and force overtime.

CASCARELLA WILD

Cascarella, who had replaced Mays, was wild in the tenth and three walks and one hit gave the Angels two runs. The Ducks threatened in their half, putting over a run and chasing Peters, but Ballou

New York, Atlanta Turn Out En Masse to Honor Golfing Champion; Interlachen Next

BY GRANTLAND RICE

[Copyright, 1930, by the North American Newspaper Alliance]

NEW YORK, July 2.—While few of us now hanging around were there at the time, cities of old Greece adopted the habit of tearing down a portion of city walls to welcome home some Olympic victor. On a general average those Olympic victors received larger ovations a few thousand years ago than they do now.

But Bobby Jones at least equalled the old record on his return from the golf conquest of Great Britain. Atlanta and New York hooked their forces together and the mayors of both stirring municipalities figured largely in the all day and all night festivities.

The Macom and the Mandalay greeted the triple champion first. From that point on through Mayor Jimmy Walker's official presentation up to the dinner at night, representatives of two great cities let Bobby know with much noise and adulation that they thought pretty well of him in more ways than one.

All in all, it was a great day for the champion golfer, but a tougher one, in many ways, than his last march at Heylake or St. Andrews. And after the twelve hours of hip-hip and hurrah were over, all he had to do was catch a train for Minneapolis and plunge into the middle of another golfing war.

It takes a considerable amount of human fiber to go through the double strain of winning championships and absorbing the tributes of the populace in the wake of such achievements. There are times when the latter strain is the harder of the two for one as modest and retiring as Bobby Jones.

In spite of the few days' boat

LEADING AQUATIC STARS STRUGGLE FOR HONORS

Five Championships to be Decided at Long Beach This Afternoon in First Day of Program

Swimmers and divers, whose names are down in bold type wherever records are read, start splashing the waters of the Pacific at Recreation Park, Long Beach, today in their quest for 1930 American A.A.U. championships.

Today's program opens at 10:30 a.m. with trial heats in the 100-meters free style races for men and women. The finals in this feature event will be held this afternoon with the men facing George Lineer's gun at 2:30 p.m. and the women following fifteen minutes later.

HELENE MADISON

George Kojac, the big New York butcher boy who is now swimming for the strong New York Athletic Club team, is the premeet favorite to win the men's race. Kojac, despite the fact that he was only inches behind Johnny Weissmuller when the latter clipped off his world figure of 57.8 seconds, is far from being a genuine cinch to win. Against him will be pitted Al Swartz, intercollegiate champion from Northwestern University who is now swimming for the Illinois A. C.; Johnny Howland, Yale captain, and his New Haven teammates, Brines, Osborne, Butler and Messimer; Capt. Ralph Breyer and Art Highland, Paul Corbett and Mert Wilcox of the Chicago A. A. and Kojac's own teammates, Al Zorilla and Dutch Fissler, Frank Walton, Hollywood; Art Lindgren, Pacific Coast Club, and Phil Daubenspeck, Venice, are the local threats.

SEATTLE GIRL STARS

Helene Madison, the sensational Seattle mermaid who is now swimming for the Washington A. C., is the favorite to annex the women's sprint title, vacated by Eleanor Garatti of San Rafael. The world has never seen a girl who swims like Miss Madison and she is favored to leave behind such feminine stars as Josephine McKim and Olive Hatch of the L.A.A.C. not to mention Lois Grow, Doris Waite and Annette Saville of San Francisco, and Jane Waite, the midwestern champion from St. Louis.

The other free-style races today will be the men's and women's mile

WIMBLEDON (Eng.) July 2. (AP)—America today made sure of winning the British tennis championships in both men's and women's singles by placing Big Bill Tilden, Wilmer Allison, Mrs. Helen Wills Moody and Elizabeth Ryan in the final round.

WILMER ALLISON

Thus the final for Wimbledon's two most coveted crowns Saturday will be all-American affairs. No foreign nation ever before has been able to monopolize both singles finals in the history of this tournament which goes back to 1877.

For the last six years the famous "Musketeers" of France won the Wimbledon crown in the men's division and five of these six times two Frenchmen battled for the honors in the final. But today the American champion, Tilden, disposed of his old rival, Jean Borotra, 0-6, 6-4, 4-6, 6-0, 7-5, to complete the elimination of the French stars begun on Monday when his countryman, Wilmer

Morgan Adams's white-winged sea charger, Enchantress, will be the scratch boat tomorrow when the Honolulu ocean race entrants face the starter's gun off San Pedro Light.

The official rating list for the four racing yachts entered in the ocean classic was made public yesterday by the Trans-Pacific Yacht Club officials at a luncheon held at the Los Angeles Athletic Club.

J. PARK DOUGALL

The first three boats are in Class A and the other entrant, Dr. Floyd Swift's Moililou, is in "B" class. The race will be contested under modified Seawanhaka rules and not under the Universal rules as in 1928. The Moililou being the smallest boat in the race enjoys approximately a three-day handicap over the Enchantress, the largest craft.

Interest in the race is running high these days in Southern California yachting circles. At the luncheon yesterday more than 100 amateur skippers were present when Commodore Al Christie whacked the gavel for order. Paul Hiller, chairman of the Southern California yachting regatta committee, starter of the race, believes that the waters off the breakwater will be jammed with boats watching

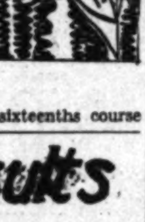
AMERICAN OARSMEN WIN

Two United States Crews Score Handily in First Heats of Annual Henley Regatta; Italian Rowers from South America Display Impressive Form

HENLEY (Eng.) July 2. (AP)—Both United States crews—the Princeton lightweights and the eight from Kent School — and the only South American club entry, the Canottieri Italiana of Buenos Aires came victoriously through the preliminary heats today in the royal Henley regattas.



All three crews turned in excellent performances despite strong headwinds along the mile and five-sixteenths course on the Thames. Fashionable crowds lined the river banks.

The schoolboys from Kent in Connecticut never were headed in the opening brush with the eight-oared shell manned by the huskies of Sidney Essex College of Cambridge University and finished strong, two and a half lengths ahead, in 7m., 49s.

Kent will meet the Lensbury Rowing Club tomorrow in the second round.

The Princeton crew trimmed Twickenham handily in 7m. 47s. The 150-pounders meet Clare College of Cambridge tomorrow and victories for the United States representatives will bring them together Friday.

The Italians from South America defeated the Maidenhead Rowing Club by a full length in 7m. 46s.

The Italians face the Quintin Boat Club tomorrow.

The most exciting race of the first day came in the diamond sculls, where G. Boetzelen of the Berliner Rudder Club, defeated F. Bradley of Pembroke College, Cambridge, by three feet. Joe Wright, Toronto star, easily vanquished J. N. Groves of the London Rowing Club in his diamond sculls heat.

Pacific Coast Doubles Title Tournament Opens Today at Los Angeles Tennis Cl

CLEVER LOCAL TEAMS ENTERED

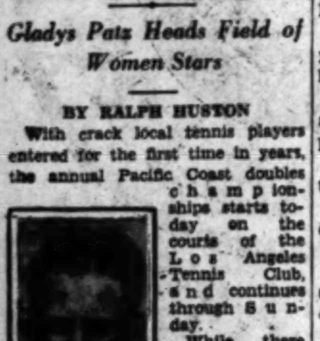
Bartosh, Tidball Top Draw in Titular Play

Vines Seeded Number 1 in Special Singles

Gladys Patz Heads Field of Women Stars

BY RALPH HUSTON

With crack local tennis players entered for the first time in years, the annual Pacific Coast doubles championships starts today on the courts of the Los Angeles Tennis Club, and continues through Sunday.



ELLSWORTH VINES

While there are no northern teams entered, the competition promises to be the keenest in some time. Usually one good team comes down from San Francisco to meet a scattering of local players, as most of the Los Angeles stars have departed by the time the tournament is scheduled. However, practically every leading local net star is entered, and speedy competition is assured.

Twenty-two teams will battle for the Pacific Coast laurels, Ed Berry, tournament director of the club, announced last night. In addition, the special men's singles has attracted thirty-eight entrants, and the special women's singles has drawn sixteen competitors.

Gerry Bartosh and Jack Tidball have been seeded No. 1 in the doubles event, followed by Ellsworth Vines and Les Stoefen, Phil Hanna and Elbert Lewis, and Ben Gorchakoff and Arthur Kussman. The latter pair are returning to competition after a long lay-off. Representing Occidental College, the two youngsters won the national collegiate doubles crown in 1929.

Vines tops the draw in the singles, followed by Tidball, Johnny Risso, the motion-picture champion, and Bartosh. Gladys Patz heads the women's singles, with Elizabeth Deike, Caroline Babcock and Mrs. Esther Bartosh in the other seeded positions.

Today's play starts at 9 o'clock, with forty-three matches scheduled. Bartosh and Tidball open their campaign in the final match of the day, meeting Nathan Bundy and Karl Lott. Vines and Stoefen play Graves and Rowley in an early match, and, if victorious, will tackle a winner later in the afternoon. The schedule:

TILDEN TRIPS JEAN BOROTRA

Allison, upset the defending titleholder, Henri Cochet.

Allison qualified to meet Tilden in the finals by stopping his young Davis Cup team-mate, brawny John Doeg of Santa Monica, Cal., 6-3, 4-6, 8-6, 3-6, 7-5, in another thrilling semifinal this afternoon.

The day's sensational developments included the collapse of plucky little Cecillie Aussem of Germany who suffered a badly sprained ankle in the third set of her match with Miss Ryan and was forced to withdraw, the American winning by default after having taken the first set, 6-3, losing the second, 0-6, and fighting on even terms at 4-all in the third.

Mrs. Moody, the defending champion, became the other finalist, beating Mme. Rene Mathieu of France, 6-3, 6-2. She is heavily favored to defeat her fellow-Californian, a veteran who has lived in this country so long she is regarded almost as an English player.

The unfortunate mishap that cost Fraulein Aussem a chance to reach the finals came at a most dramatic moment when she had battled to even terms by winning the second set, and was waging a hard battle for the third. In trying for one of Miss Ryan's chop-strokes she fell headlong, spraining her ankle severely.

The score was 40-love against her, but she hobbled to her service position and was trying to continue play when she crumpled to the ground. Her collapse was attributed to a combination of the pain from the injured ankle and the heat of the day. Ambulance attendants carried her off the court on a stretcher.

FANS EXCITED

Tilden and Borotra, tennis' greatest showmen, followed Mrs. Moody and Mlle. Mathieu on the center court for their epic five-set match, which was anybody's until the final set, when Tilden won the final point of the twelfth game. The encounter lashed the 15,000 Wimbledon fans into a tumult of excited applause and fury of partisanship.

The excitement grew with every game and the players' personalities and the conduct of the crowd entered into the contest even to the point of bad sportsmanship. Borotra to Wimbledon fans is a gay matinee idol. Tilden was the grim gladiator who had the audacity to question linesmen on their decisions. When he did the crowd howled jeers at him like baseball fans at an umpire.

The big American ace fought Borotra, the crowd and his own temperament and defeated them all. Borotra never ceased to be entertaining. He drew roars of laughter by repeatedly carrying a bath towel to his base line. It was not tennis, but it seemed to amuse everybody but Tilden, who in high tension, waited to smash his cannonball service at the Frenchman's court and often it was in. Although master of every stroke, the tall American won the battle with this terrific service.

TILDEN TAKES LEAD

Borotra raced through the opening set without losing a game while Tilden warmed up slowly. The French star had two games on the second set before Tilden won his first game. With his fiery services finding their objective and fighting for every point, the lanky American took the second set, 6-4. The even struggle lasted through the third set, which Borotra won, 6-4.

Tilden jumped into a lead in the fourth set and Borotra, playing as if worn out, threw games away while jockeying for the service in the fifth and deciding set. The Frenchman repeatedly netted deliberately, knocked the ball out of bounds and served doubles in order to get grips with his opponent in the final set.

In the last set, Borotra was the Bounding Basque of old as he shot his opening services over, rushed to the net and won the opening game. The grand stands cheered his every effort. After nearly every point, the officials had to request quiet. By supreme exertion the Frenchman led, 4 to 2, but he had shot his last bolt. Tilden, with his powerful service always his ally, drew level, and then led, 5 to 4. Borotra spurted to pull even but Tilden came back with his great reserve to take the eleventh and twelfth games.

Quarter-finals in the doubles will hold forth tomorrow. In the mixed events, Jack Crawford and Miss Ryan will oppose the all-American combination of Allison and Edith Cross. Tilden and his Dutch partner, Hans Timmer, have the powerful French team of Cochet and Brugnon as their opponents while the other French pair of Borotra and Christian Boussus encounter the well-balanced English team of J. C. Gregory and I. G. Collins. Misses Sarah Palfrey and Cross encounter Mrs. Whittingstall and Miss Betty Nuthall, the English team, with Mrs. Moody and Miss Ryan meeting the winner in the semifinals later in the day.

RABBIT PUNCHES

THE TEXAS LONE STAR

THE continued parade of Wilmer Allison, the Texas Lone Star, through all tennis opposition at Wimbledon, shares the day's honors with the welcome home given Bobby Jones at New York and the ninth straight win of the Hollywood Stars.

Allison's five-set victory over Johnny Doeg of Santa Monica yesterday furnishes the setting for an All-American final in England's net classic.

This is the first time since 1923 such a set-up has occurred, and it therefore causes some little rejoicing in Texas and other parts of the country which are tennis minded.

Allison enters the finals against Bill Tilden after wading through the stiffest kind of competition.

Until he faced Johnny Doeg, the beach southpaw, he had not dropped a single set.

He has met and defeated in turn:

Edgar F. Moon (Australian champion, and Davis Cup player, 6-1, 6-3, 6-3.

S. W. Harris (England,) 6-3, 8-6, 6-4.

G. P. Hughes (English Davis Cup,) 6-4, 6-1, 6-3.

Henri Cochet (France, world's champion,) 6-4, 6-4, 6-3.

Johnny Doeg (American Davis Cup,) 6-3, 4-6, 8-6, 3-6, 7-5.

Just before Wimbledon, Allison won the London championship, defeating Gregory Mangin, of Newark, N. J., 6-4, 8-6.

FOUL FIGHT PADS

REMEMBER Dave Brant, who many moons ago played a lot of end for L. A. High School—the days when the boys on the hills trounced the college teams regularly and thought nothing of it?

Well, Dave, besides being the boss of Brant Rancho at Owensmouth, now and then pays some little attention to the fight game as a spectator.

And Dave, after witnessing the moving picture of a prize fight in Siam, has some decided ideas on the way the foul situation should be handled in this country.

He has written a screed to Bill Henry, a former schoolmate, about the matter:

"Saw a picture (moving) the other night of a prize fight in Siam. There the fighters not only hit with their hands but kick with their feet and knees also. To prevent foul blows—or rather damaging blows in the groin—they wore big triangular pads that strapped around their waist line and down between the legs. A blow on the pad did not stop the fight. In all seriousness can't a similar protection be promoted for our fighters, especially the heavyweights in the championship division?"

A.A.U. INCONSISTENCY

YOU can't blame Charley Paddock for being a bit disturbed because the A.A.U. never gave him credit for his 100-meter world's records of 10 1-5s.

Eddie Tolan, the Michigan black boy, gets it by virtue of his victory over Percy Williams and Simpson in that time at Vancouver the other day.

Away back in 1921, when the national A.A.U. championships were held at Pasadena, Sir Charles ran 110 yards in 10 1-5s.

Now, 110 yards is slightly longer than 100 meters, and by all the rules of Hoyle Sir Charles was entitled to the 100-meter record along with the 110-yard figure.

But the A.A.U. frowned on Sir Paddock's request. It couldn't withhold the 110-yard record, but it told him to forget all about the other mark.

And just to show its inconsistency, the A.A.U. turned right around and gave Roland Locke both 200-meter and 220-yard world records when he ran the latter distance—slightly longer than the 200 meters—in 20 3-5s.

TWO TIGHT RACES

WHAT a race in the National League!

It's so close between Brooklyn and Chicago that the percentage figures have to be carried out to six places to ascertain who really holds the lead.

And the American League dash is not far behind with Washington but two and one-half games back of Philadelphia and the New York Yanks just a shade to the rear of the Senators.

AMERICAN TRACK STARS WIN AND LOSE IN DEBUT AGAINST GERMAN TEAM

COLOGNE (Germany) July 2. (AP) America's invading track team made an impressive showing in its first European appearance today, winning five of the events in which it competed.

The unexpected failure of Ed Hamm, Georgia Tech's star broad jumper, to win his specialty prevented the Americans from making a clean sweep. Hamm failed by one-half inch to defeat Dobermann of Germany, who leaped 7.22 meters or 23ft. 8 11-64in. The Georgian cleared 7.21 meters, or 23ft. 7 25-32in.

First places went to George Bullwinkle, crack half-miler of the College of the City of New York; Tom Warne, Northwestern's premier pole vaulter; Steve Anderson, Washington's great hurdler; Pete Bowen, Pittsburgh's star quarter-miler, and the 400-meter relay team.

Les Kennedy Stops Spiker

Les Kennedy, local heavyweight star, won on a technical knockout over Ray Spiker, ex-marine, in the sixth round of their scheduled ten-round scrap at the Wilmington Bowl last night. Bud Baker and Max Hernandez battled to a draw in the semi-wind-up. Jimmy Peterson stopped Jack Inman in the fourth round of the special event. Elliott Badilla beat Urban Hernandes over four rounds, while Melvin Bobo defeated Chick Peralto in the opener.

DONLIN IN SCREEN FEATURE

Mike Donlin, famous ex-ball player and now a well-known motion-picture actor, and Hap O'Connor, well-known umpire and sportsman, both have important roles in Benny Rubin's fast-moving baseball comedy, "Hot Curves," which is to be seen for the first time in Los Angeles starting tomorrow at the California Theater.

OAKLAND, July 2. (AP)—Willard Dix, Bellingham (Wash.) light-heavyweight, chalked up another knockout tonight, when he dropped Paul Drake of Los Angeles, in the third round of their ten-round bout at the Oakland auditorium.

OLYMPIC BOYS RIDE AIRPLANE

Junior Champions Witness City of Chicago

Take Snappy Workouts on Northwestern Field

BY JOHN F. NESS
"Times" Staff Representative

CHICAGO, July 2. (Exclusive)—This was a day of thrills for the four Junior Olympic champions. With the brisk workout at Northwestern University over at 3 o'clock this afternoon the boys were taken to Sky Harbor Airport, where they watched the officials clock the 505th hour of the plane City of Chicago's endurance flight.

Guy Goodman, secretary of the Northwestern University alumni, was the host of the day and to cap an already exciting afternoon the boys joined in the crowd that welcomed the trans-Atlantic plane Southern Cross as it landed here.

The Junior Olympic uniforms attracted the attention of many officials at the flying field and imagine the enthusiasm when Sam Waxman, Johnny Lee, Louis Haley and Joe Andrade were loaded into a huge tri-motored Ford plane by the flight manager and sailed aloft to shout and wave greetings to the Hunter brothers in the City of Chicago. Keeping well out of the well-defined circle which is the exclusive air property of the City of Chicago, the Junior Olympic party flew alongside the record-smashing craft and were able to inspect it from every angle.

A refueling contact was made while the boys were in the air and there will be much to write about in the diaries tonight. The flight made by the youngsters today is the only one that will be given them on the entire tour, and this was authorized because they were guests of officials of the flight and it was an opportunity to participate in an aeronautical triumph which will mark a great day in their lives in the years to come.

The boys were tugging at the traces when Coach Arthur Dietz took them out on the track after lunch. They are in splendid physical condition and to prove that the effects of a three-day train trip meant nothing to them each boy jogged over to the gymnasium, where Sam started off with seventeen baskets and Johnny, Joe and Louis followed, and, as striking as it seems, every youngster shot just seventeen in his first try with two practice tosses allowed.

Tonight the boys will sleep at the Kappa Psi house as guests of Dean Klarr and other splendid boys of the university alumni and student body. Incidentally, the big piece of information discovered by 12-year-old Johnnie Lee was that they charged 1 cent a pound for passengers at the air field. The party leaves tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock on the fast New Yorker for Atlantic City, where their real training period commences for the national finals, which will officially start the week of the 8th inst.

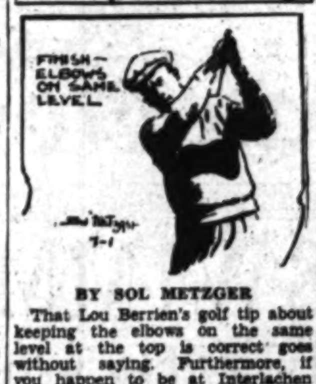
Berrien Gives Tip on Swing



FINISH—ELBOWS ON SAME LEVEL.

BY SOL METZGER

That Lou Berrien's golf tip about keeping the elbows on the same level at the top is correct goes without saying. Furthermore, if you happen to be at Interlachen next week note the position of the elbows of the leaders as they finish their drives. You'll find them, as Berrien points out, again on the same level, in the same relative position as at the top.

Here's proof that the clubhead has gone through along the same arc that it took on the upswing. By balancing the elbows in this way (keeping them on the same level at the top) and then swinging through with the arms the left in control, the golfer will soon rid himself of any perplexing slice.

But the main thing to do is to swing through the ball. Do not hit it. When you hit you fail to follow through.

A new free illustrated leaflet on "The Art of Putting" has been prepared by Sol Metzger. Write for it. Address Sol Metzger, in care of The Times, and inclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

JONES GIVEN FINE WELCOME

rest which helped a lot, it was easy enough to see that Bobby Jones was a rather tired young man. There was a look in his eyes that indicated a deep yearning to find the top of some distant mountain where he could forget golf and the plaudits of the crowd.

Which was the harder battle—the match play championship at St. Andrews or the medal play test at Hoylake? As he put it:

"They were two different types. There were many moments at St. Andrews that carried a heavier strain than Hoylake, but there are a few resting places in match play and none in medal play where the pressure starts from the first tee and keeps gathering force to the final putt. There were three matches at St. Andrews that were nightmares. They were the ones with Cyril Tolley, Jimmy Johnston and George Voigt. One shot at almost any time could have swung the balance the other way.

In matches of this type it is often a matter of who happens to get the breaks and there are times when the final result seems to be beyond your control. All you can do is work and suffer and wait for fate.

"I can say now that the strain of the amateur championship was much greater, because that was the one I wanted most to win—the one that I wanted to win above everything else in golf. And on at least two occasions down the stretch with Johnson and Voigt I had to face putts of ten and twelve feet to stay in and at the time I would rather have faced tigers or lions.

"My hardest blow at Hoylake," he continued, "came at the long eighth hole on the final round. When my second shot stopped some twenty or twenty-five yards from the green I felt fairly safe about the championship, knowing that I had a lead with only ten holes to go. And then, before I knew what hit me, a 7 blew up in my face. I needed five strokes to get down from twenty-five yards and I felt for a moment as if some one had hit me with a club.

"The tough part of golf is that those things can happen before you know they are happening. They break your souls before you know what has taken place. One mistake leads to another when you are tired and jumpy."

LUCKY—OR UNLUCKY 7's?

I recalled the fact that 7's had played a prominent part in several of his championships. There was the 7 he took at the eighteenth hole at Scioto in the third round, needing four strokes to get down from just off the green. There were the two 7's he took at Winged Foot on the final round at the eighth and fifteenth holes. There was the 7 at Hoylake. Seven might seem to be an unlucky number for the Georgian, but after all he won all three championships where 7's fluttered out of the bag like poisonous bats. Maybe they were lucky 7's after all.

What about Interlachen? That, he admitted, is a tough one with Hagen, Diegel, Horton Smith, MacSmith, Armour, Farrell, Sarazen and 150 others waiting to blockade the road. "And," as he said, "no one knows what will happen in golf until it has happened."

The edge has to wear away some time. It may last through this next week at Minneapolis, or it may come to a point as to whether he can run into a bad patch of play and have the concentration and determination and the zest left to weather the storm.

"The field at Interlachen," said Bobby, "will be the hardest in the world to beat. Any one of twenty or more entered has the game to win and the chance to win. This includes the pick of the amateurs and the professionals from nearly 1200 starters and fifty of these are good enough to break 70 on almost any course at any time."

CROMWELL, JONES SHOWN ON SCREEN

"Champion Makers," a Grantland Rice Sportlight, now screening at the Paramount Theater on the program with Gary Cooper's "A Man From Wyoming," is a subject of more than usual interest to Los Angeles sportsmen. "Champion Makers" features a number of the country's best-known sports personalities responsible for the coaching of champions in every branch of sports. Among them are Dean Cromwell and Howard Jones, both prominent in athletic circles at the University of Southern California.

TOWNSEND TRAINING FOR BOUT

Vancouver Billy Opens Drill With Fast Boxing Workout

Billy Townsend opened his training yesterday for the Joey Medill bout at the Olympic by boxing four rounds with Leo Lomeli and Mike Gonzales. The Vancouver puncher has scored twenty-two knockouts in forty-five fights and will probably be the favorite over Medill.

The weight was moved up a pound by consent of both fighters. They will meet at 141 pounds instead of 140. Medill weighed 144 pounds on arrival here from Chicago and Townsend was up to 145.

Townsend has won three straight fights at the Olympic by knockouts—all of the sensational variety. He stopped Wildcat Carter once and Armando Santiago twice.

The supporting card features Manuel De Leon and Huerta Evans in the six-round semi-wind-up. Martin Zuniga and Bobby Pacho meet in the special event. Steve Hayden and Buck will go six rounds also. Mateo Magdalena and Joey Rich will open the show.

Word received last night from Bud Taylor stated he would be unable to appear here the 29th inst. against Fidel La Barba as had been planned. The Joe Dundee-Benny Miller bout has been set back to the 21st inst., Monday night.

CHISOX PLAYER EQUALS RECORD

ning. The only other player to do this was George Kelley of the Giants, who performed the feat in 1923, although several have hit three successive homers and Bobby Lowe of the old Boston Nationals once hit four in a row. Reynolds also tied the American League record of eight runs batted in.

Babe Ruth's triumphant course toward a new home-run record received a serious setback today when the Babe attempted a too ambitious fielding stunt in the second game and suffered an injury to a finger which may keep him out of the game for some time.

Ruth in attempting to catch the second of three home runs hit by Carl Reynolds as it sailed into the right-field bleachers just above the screen crashed into the netting. The second finger of his left hand was caught in the wire and the nail was torn completely off.

Barring the possibility of infection, the Babe probably will be kept out of action for several days and his ability to swing his mighty bat may be hampered for an even longer time.

Ruth can endure a small setback, however, for he hit his thirty-first homer of the year in the opening game, and went still farther ahead of his 1927 record. In the year he established his mark of sixty, he did not hit No. 31 until July 24, while on July 2 he had but twenty-five homers. The Babe is twenty-two days and as many games ahead of his record. Night Racing on Ascot Bill

Dr. Fred Loring and officials of the Legion Ascot Speedway, who pioneered last year with night auto racing when after-dark sports promotion in the outdoors was hardly being considered anywhere, will stage their first 1930 night program the 19th inst.

The Legionnaires were the first promoters in the West to adopt artificial illumination as a regular thing. They held a dozen race meetings at night last summer and boldly took their gambles when many skeptics frowned on the revolutionary idea.

The fifty-foot tower, which held the cluster of giant lights that served to throw a spray of illumination over the five-eighths-of-a-mile course last year, has been retained and will be used this sea-

Risko Loses to Griffith in Chicago Go

CHICAGO, July 2. (AP)—Johnny Risko, spoiler of heavyweight championship hopes, probably has reached the conclusion that he cannot wreck the title aspirations of "Tuffy" Griffith.

Griffith, bounding back into the heavyweight spotlight with vengeance, decisively defeated the Cleveland baker boy in their ten-round battle in the Chicago Stadium tonight. Griffith, outslugging and outroughing Risko, gave him an artistic pasting, winning nine of the ten rounds.

The Sioux City (Iowa) heavyweight defeated Risko tonight just as he has done twice previously. Griffith, fighting with confidence, outboxed the Cleveland heavyweight, made him miss repeatedly and beat a steady tattoo with both fists on his head and body. He cracked Risko with enough right crosses to upset a less rugged opponent, but Risko always kept his feet and never backed away from Griffith's ruthless fire.

The match did not attract a capacity turn-out, the attendance falling to 9959, with receipts of $30,000.

SAMMY BAKER SERIOUSLY HURT

CLEVELAND (O.) July 2. (AP)—Sergt. Sammy Baker, New York welterweight, was taken to a hospital tonight after suffering a technical knockout in the twelfth and last round of a boxing match at the hands of Baby Joe Gans of California. Baker was in bad condition when the referee halted the match.

A medical representative of the Boxing Commission said head injuries caused Baker's collapse in the twelfth round and said his injuries might prove serious.

The end came after one minute of the last round, after Baker went down for the eighth time under the heavy punches of the California Negro.

Baker, who had floored Gans twice during the bout, began to reel without being struck shortly after the twelfth round. He fell backward near the ropes and the referee counted nine. As he pulled himself up Gans rushed in with crashing lefts and rights to the jaw. Baker sank to the mat once more and the referee halted the bout.

Baker was still unconscious more than an hour after he was taken to the hospital. Physicians were unable to State the extent of his injuries or the seriousness of his condition.

BAER, KENNEDY SIGN FOR BOUT

eventually was whittled down. Kennedy also accepting a cut in his percentage and making possible the sealing of the bout.

Baer is hailed as future heavyweight champion. Tall and strong he hits powerfully, and has scored eighteen knockouts in his last twenty-four fights.

He flattened Ernie Owens in five rounds at San Francisco recently. It was the first time Owens had ever been knocked out.

Previously, Baer had won a ten-round decision over Owens at the Olympic, scoring four knockdowns in the last three rounds.

Several eastern managers have sought contracts on Baer's services, among them being Benny Leonard, retired lightweight king. Jack Kearns has been after the Livermore boy, and Jack Dempsey also poked a finger into negotiations recently.

At present Baer is managed by Hamilton Lorimer, son of a wealthy Oakland engine manufacturer.

HAYWOOD, HURD IN PASADENA REMATCH

Meeting in a rematch, Jack Hurd, Los Angeles light-heavyweight slugger with twelve straight kayoes to his credit, and Jack Haywood, Monrovia Negro battler, are booked for the ten-round main event tonight at Pasadena Arena. Hurd on his first appearance two weeks ago scored an unexpected first-round knockout on Haywood. Mayfield Groves, who stole the arena show three weeks ago, will be back to fight Young Mickey Walker in the four-round semifinal at 148 pounds. Four-round bouts will be: Lewis Woolley vs. Anthony Aguilar, 120 pounds; George Starr vs. Jack Leyva, 135 pounds; Sammy Marx vs. Dutch Schipper, 142 pounds; Manuel Reyes vs. Johnny Rodgers, 122 pounds.

SOLONS TRIUMPH

WASHINGTON, July 2. (AP)—The Washington Senators moved closer to the top of the American League today by winning both ends of a double-header with St. Louis while Philadelphia split its twin bill with Detroit. The scores here were 5 to 4 and 5 to 3.

After the Browns had gone into the lead in the twelfth inning of the opener, 4 to 3, Manush tripled and scored on a sacrifice and Judge singled and stole second to score on West's double.

Alvin Crowder chalked up his fourth win for the Senators in the second game, letting the Browns down with four hits, while he and his mates collected nine off Coffman and Kimsey. The scores:

PITTSBURGH, July 2. (AP)—Harry Seibold kept the Pittsburgh hits scattered and Boston won today, 6 to 4. A three-run rally off Erwin Brame in the fifth gave the Braves their win. Brame allowed only two hits after the fifth and did not issue a base on balls during the game. Pittsburgh had twelve men stranded on the sacks. The score:

NATIONAL A.A.U. SWIM MEET WILL OPEN TODAY

events. Miss Madison, who swims most anything and everything, is again the favorite in the feminine division. Miss McKim is given a better chance to nip the Seattle girl in the longer race. The L.A.A.C. girl is the present national champion and world record holder at 24m. 59s.

Clarence (Buster) Crabbe, the one-man swimming team from the L.A.A.C., will attempt to retain his crown in the men's mile race against the threat of Raymond Ruddy of the New York A. C., J. W. Harte of Yale University, Al Zorilla of New York, Corbett and Wilcox of Chicago, Buster Olds of San Diego, Jimmy Triolo of Oakland and a few more. Trial heats in this event were held yesterday.

Crabbe faces the toughest assignment of any swimmer for he will be called upon to defend titles later in the week in the 300-meter medley, and 440 and 880-yard free-style swims as well as the mile today.

The other championship event today is the men's ten-foot springboard diving with Michael Galitzen, better known as just plain Mickey Riley, defending his title. His two team-mates, Johnny Riley and Dutch Smith; Wally Colbath of Chicago; Frank Kurtz of Hollywood and Dick Louttit of Honolulu are all strong threats with Colbath especially standing out.

NO ADMISSION

The entire four-day program is free to the public and is being held under the auspices of the young men's division of the Long Beach Chamber of Commerce. Plans have been made for a record crowd for tomorrow, the Fourth of July, and officials have scheduled the long-awaited men's and women's 440-yard free-style events for the feature races.

The course in Recreation Park is located in East Long Beach and may be best reached from Los Angeles by driving south on American avenue (Long Beach) and then east on Anaheim street or Seventh street. Ocean Boulevard may be followed by turning north on Ximeno avenue or Livingston Drive.

National A.A.U. officials are here to handle the meet with Frank W. Blankely of Chicago, national swimming chairman, acting as official referee. George Lineer, San Francisco, is the starter.

Leslie A. Henry, chairman of L.A. A.C. athletics and president of the S.P.A.A.U., has been untiring in his efforts to make the meet a success, as has Fred Cady, who has supervised a good deal of the details. Other well-known officials include George Graves, Detroit; John Farrington, New York; Morrison Egbert, Los Angeles; Robert S. Weaver, Los Angeles; Frank Holborrow, Santa Monica; Ernest Brandsten, Stanford University; James Hughes, San Francisco, and others.

RED SOX WIN

BOSTON, July 2. (AP)—Big Ed Morris as relief pitcher hammered a two-base hit against the left-field fence in the last half of the ninth to send Miller over the plate with the run which enabled the Red Sox to defeat Cleveland, 5 to 4, today.

Brown held Boston to one run until the eighth, while his mates piled up a three-run advantage, but a rally in the eighth featured by Todt's home run with one on base tied the count. Oliver of the Red Sox had four hits in as many times up. The score:

STARS WIN 12-1 GAME FROM OAKS

interesting was because it was the Sheiks' ninth straight win and their fifteenth victory out of their last seventeen games. As a result of their win the Vittmen climbed up into the first division in a tie for fourth place with the skidding Seals.

Hollywood started the shooting early blasting Daglia for a couple of runs in the opening round. Hill led off by beating out a bunt to Daglia and rambled to second on the hurler's wide throw. Lee's triple off the bleacher screen scored Hill and Dud came in on Barbee's double off the left-field wall. Carlyle also doubled off the left-field fence, but Griffin faked as thought he was going to catch the drive and held Barbee to third by some snappy fielding. Heath was walked and Severeid hit into a double play to end the cannonading.

Brannan lined one into the right-field bleachers in the third to put the Sheiks three runs out in front.

Daglia was touched for three more runs in the sixth. Barbee was hit by a pitched ball and then Carlyle and Heath clicked successive homers into the center-field stands to make it 6 to 0.

Lombardi rode one far over the left-field wall in the Oakland seventh to register the lone run off Hollerson. The ball was well kissed, landing in the trees on the other side of Thirty-ninth street.

Dumovich was on the mound when the Sheiks came up in the seventh and Zip was given a six-run greeting by the overjoyed Vittmen, who have developed a fondness for southpaw flinging of late. Five hits, including Barbee's homer high into the right-field stands, Brannan's triple, Hill's double, singles by Heath and Green, two walks and a sacrifice fly combined to produce Hollywood's other half-dozen tallies.

Vitt has delegated Jim Turner to pitch the Stars to their tenth straight win this afternoon, while Jim Edwards, a southpaw, will probably be on the mound for Oakland, although Zamloch may pick Bob Hurst. Score:

Petrone Loses to Chocolate

NEW YORK, July 2. (AP)—Kid Chocolate, slugging Cuban bantamweight, defeated Dominick Petrone of New York by a technical knockout in the sixth round of their scheduled ten-round bout at Ebbets Field tonight. Chocolate weighed 126; Petrone, 125.

Chocolate went out in front from the start of the first round, knocking the Harlem fighter about the ring with a two-fisted attack. Petrone was groggy when at the start of the sixth round Chocolate backed him up against the ropes and then began the punishment which resulted in Referee Eddie Forbes stopping the fight.

SENATORS WIN SEE-SAW GAME

Solons Nose Out Missions for Third Straight

SAN FRANCISCO, July 2. (AP)—Sacramento scored its third straight victory of the series by defeating the Missions, 9-8, today in a see-saw affair. The Senators put over two runs in the eighth on a hit, an error and three walks to take the lead, after the Missions had forged to the front in the preceding inning with a five-run rally. Douglas, Mission pinch hitter, belted a homer in the seventh with the bases full. Score:

SEALS TRIPPED

SEATTLE, July 2. (AP)—The Indians made it two straight over the Seals today, winning, 7 to 4. Seattle's big inning was the third, when Muller's homer accounted for two of four runs scored.

San Francisco threatened in the next inning, scoring three times on four hits, but Zahniser tightened up again and had allowed only eight hits when his day's work was done.

The Indians found Jacobs easy. Perry replaced him in the seventh. Score:

PAY ROLL SAVED BY CLEVER RUSE

Oil Company Man Chased for Seven Miles Elusive

Refuses to Stop, Stirs Up Dust, Puts Out Lights

Stick-up Men Speed on Past; He Hides in Moorpark

VENTURA, July 2. — Chased for seven miles by two pay-roll bandits after he had evaded them when they ordered him to "stick 'em up," G. C. Wilson of Los Angeles, employee of the Richfield Oil Company, hid out in Moorpark early today with the pay roll safe in his machine, while the would-be bandits went on, and then he reported the affair to the Sheriff's office.

A thorough investigation was begun immediately by the officers, who are confident they will find the two stick-up men, as the information that Wilson was to come to Ventura county with the pay roll was known, they assert to only one person other than Wilson himself.

Wilson told officers that the two men parked their car across the highway one mile west of Simi, and when he approached them, one man, with a revolver in one hand and a flashlight in the other, demanded that he stop.

Wilson pulled over to the side of the road, he said, but when the bandit approached him, he threw his car into intermediate gear and dashed away. In answer to another command to halt, accompanied by a threat that the bandit would fire, Wilson gave his machine the throttle and the chase was on.

Bumping over a portion of the road which is under construction, Wilson's car threw up clouds of dust, and when he reached another detour sign, he turned out his lights and parked on a side road, he declared today.

The hold-up car swerved into the detour road and sped on, while Wilson proceeded unmolested into Moorpark, where he called the Sheriff's office.

Forest Fire in Mountains Now Under Control

REDLANDS, July 2. — The forest fire burning in the big timber beyond the prison camp in Mountain Home Canyon, is under control today, it is believed. A message from Supervisor Joe Elliott this morning stated that the fire has burned over 100 acres of big timber.

There are sixty men on the line yet, with fifty on reserve in camp and more going up from Redlands. It is rough country and the mopping up will be difficult. The fire has cost about $2000.

J. J. Prendergast of the Bear Valley Water Company visited the fire and found it still burning in the timber, but under control, unless a high wind comes up.

Move Against Council Meeting Time Failure

REDONDO BEACH, July 2.—The first meeting of the City Council under its recently adopted plan of afternoon meetings will be at 2 p.m. tomorrow.

A petition bearing 410 names opposing the afternoon meetings and asking a referendum election to revoke the resolution under which they are authorized has been tabled as insufficient.

Seven of the required number of signatures are lacking, according to the certification of the City Clerk.

Naval Officers Ranch Guests

CORONA, July 2.—High officers of the United States Navy this week are being entertained by Clair Overholtzer at his ranch estate near this city. The guests include Admiral W. B. Pratt, commanding the Pacific Fleet; Al De Witt, Edgar G. Pratt, the admiral's brother; Capt. D. Shield, and Lieut. James Campbell.

The naval officers and civilian guests are enjoying the hospitality of the Overholtzer ranch preparatory to the departure of the fleet for Honolulu whence they are ordered to Vancouver.

Admiral Pratt recently returned from the London naval conference and is taking a brief rest before taking direction of the Coast armada for the Hawaiian voyage.

On a recent cruise in the Pacific, Overholtzer was a personal guest of Admiral Pratt.

FORMER NEW YORK HEALTH OFFICER DIES

SANTA MONICA, July 2.—Masonic funeral rites were conducted today for Dr. B. Frank Knause, retired physician and former deputy commissioner of health in New York City, who died Monday. Services at the Todd & Leslie chapel here at 2 p.m. were followed by interment in Forest Lawn Memorial Park. Dr. Knause came to Southern California from New York City in 1919. He was a major in the Army Medical Corps during the World War. Before the war he had been borough chief of the health department in Brooklyn and then deputy commissioner of health for New York City. Death came at the age of 87 years. He leaves his widow, his mother, one daughter, Miss Frances Gary Knause, and two sisters, Mrs. Mary Winifred Brown and Miss Margaret E. Knause.

LITTLE GIRL HAS NAME FEMINIZED

Maryedith Durrell

AZUSA, July 2.—As a hint to womenkind, Meredith Durrell, 7-year-old miss, has reached a firm decision as to what is "feminine loveliness" and as a mirror of her own reflections requested that her name on school records be changed to Maryedith, because she did not want to be mistaken for a boy.

When asked concerning changing her name Miss Maryedith responded that in her opinion it suited her decidedly feminine type the best.

"To bring tears into Maryedith's eyes all one has to do is to call her a tomboy," her mother smilingly said.

Unlike other little girls of her age, she refuses to have her hair bobbed and wears her curls about her shoulders. She entered school for her first term this year and was promoted to the third grade. She is interested in her studies and especially loves her dancing and reading.

Due to her artistic talents she has appeared before numerous clubs and organizations to please her friends and also figured in a talking picture last year, although she has never longed for a movie career.

Her proudest possessions, she states, in addition to her lovely blond tresses, are her loving cups won in various children's contests. Her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. S. G. Durrell, are enthusiastic about her youthful ideas.

PIONEER IN EISTEDDFOD QUITS POST

F. J. Hokin Resigns as Secretary of Oxnard's Community Service Body

OXNARD, July 2.—F. J. Hokin, executive secretary of Oxnard Community Service for seven years, today tendered his resignation to the board of directors, effective August 30 of this year.

Hokin, following the work of Tam Deering, former secretary here, and now in San Diego, was instrumental in the introduction of the Eisteddfod movement in California. About six years ago, Hokin organized the first Eisteddfod in California and successfully staged it in this city, gathering for Oxnard the title "The Home of the Eisteddfod." Since then the movement has grown steadily and the county of Ventura annually presents an Eisteddfod which is considered the finest in the State. The headquarters of the movement remains in Oxnard.

Hokin in a statement today, said he feels that now the pioneering work has been accomplished here, there should be municipal support for recreational facilities in the city. This question was recently decided in the negative by a small majority in a city election. However, indications are that when it is next submitted there may be a more favorable outcome.

In any event, it will be for someone else to carry on as Hokin's resignation is definite.

CITRUS PACKING HOUSE BURNS

Fruit Exchange's Highland Plant Razed by Fire

Fertilizer Warehouse and Residence Destroyed

Total Loss on Structures Set at $150,000

HIGHLAND, July 2.—The $100,000 plant of the Highland Citrus Association, within a block of the center of town, burned in an early morning fire today, also the J. C. Smith home next to it and a fertilizer warehouse, the total loss being $150,000. Lee Woods is manager of the exchange, a member of the Redlands-Highland Fruit Exchange at Redlands.

The packing-house, the two-story home of J. C. Smith near by, and a fertilizer warehouse, were all burned. There were two cars of grapefruit in the house ready to be packed today. The house packed 125 cars during the season.

LUMBER YARD MENACED

The packing-house, completed two and one-half years ago at a cost of $100,000, was located on the west side of Palm avenue and north of the Santa Fe tracks, a block from the center of Highland's business district. Directly across the tracks are located the yards of the Hammond Lumber Company. Several times flames spread to the lumber yards, but on each occasion were extinguished by volunteer fire department crews which did effective work though hampered by low pressure and lack of equipment.

For an hour, the sparks from the blazing packing-house fell throughout the business and residential district, frequently menacing the buildings and homes, but property owners kept garden hoses busy. An absence of wind undoubtedly prevented the fire from spreading to the adjoining structures.

The lumber company's yards, directly across the track from the packing-house, were saved by the combined efforts of the Highland and San Bernardino fire departments, the latter department being called when it appeared that the entire town would be wiped out.

STARTED IN ROOF

The fire apparently developed in the roof of the packing-house, probably from defective wiring. Within a few minutes the entire roof was ablaze. The fire spread to the two-story Smith home, quickly destroying it. The packing-house was built three years ago by Fred R. Luschen. It has been operated by the association for two years. It was one of the largest in the valley. Most of the loss is covered by insurance.

When discovered, the flames were confined to the upper part of the packing-house. Recent warm days and low humidity had dried out the composition roof making it so much kindling. Flames from the roof shot seventy-five feet into the air, sparks falling on near-by structures. The north wall of the structure soon buckled outward from the heat, letting fall the roof trusses. Their thrust partially demolished the south wall of the structure.

HOSE LACK DOOMS HOUSE

The residence of J. C. Smith, prominent local resident and president of the Chamber of Commerce, caught quickly, though it was situated some sixty feet from the packing-house. Had additional hose lines been available at the time it could have been saved, it is declared. Smith was asleep in the upper story at the time the alarm was sounded. He dressed quickly and superintended the removal of his furniture and household effects by a corps of volunteers. He estimated his loss at around $10,000.

The house was well covered by insurance, the chief loss being the burning of a grove of beautiful shade trees and a score of orange trees on the property.

LARGE HALIBUT CAUGHT

HUNTINGTON BEACH, July 2. J. J. North, local oil worker, brought in a thirty-five and one-half-pound halibut yesterday, the largest reported caught in the waters along this coast. He was fishing from the Docken & Morrison barge three miles from shore when he captured his prize and another halibut weighing twenty pounds. He carried it a block and sold it at the McIntosh Market.

DESERT TRAGEDY UNFOLDED

Pitiful Story, Embellished by Attempt at Suicide and Woman's Inebriacy, Comes to Light in Court

RIVERSIDE, July 2.—A pitiful story of the desert, embellished with an attempted suicide and a woman's inebriacy, today was unfolded in Superior Judge Freeman's court as he committed a husband and wife to State and county institutions.

The commitments sent Mrs. Mabel Lewis to Patton as an inebriate and Frank Lewis, formerly proprietor of a wayside lunch stand on the desert, to the County Hospital for observation. Alienists declared Lewis, who attempted suicide by drinking formaldehyde, was only temporarily insane at the time.

As developed in the court hearing the couple bought a roadside lunch stand on the desert and took personal charge of the place of business. Trade was disappointing. Gradually they became deeper and deeper involved in debt. A mortgage was placed on other property they owned.

Mrs. Lewis tried to drown her sorrows in liquor. She became addicted to the liquor and required it constantly, the husband said.

Business affairs grew worse. There seemed no way out for them.

Discouraged and disheartened, Lewis a week ago took a heavy dose of formaldehyde in an attempt to seek peace from the woes of life. The size of the deadly potion thwarted his intention, however, for it acted as an emetic.

Deathly sick, but not in danger of dying, Lewis was rushed to the County Hospital here and placed under treatment. He overcame the effects of the poison, but was held on suspicion of insanity.

Meanwhile, authorities had taken Mrs. Lewis into custody as an inebriate and she was held pending an examination by physicians.

Drs. Dorr, Payton and Roblee yesterday expressed their opinion that Lewis can be turned loose in three weeks, so Judge Freeman ordered him to be confined in the County Hospital for that period.

Mrs. Lewis, however, they said, should be sent to Patton as a liquor addict. Her term was fixed at two years.

EUROPEAN JOURNEY GIFT TO GRADUATE

Lester Wendt

VAN NUYS, July 2.—When Lester Wendt, son of C. G. Wendt, of 14619 Gilmore street, started at Van Nuys High School his parents promised him a fine graduation present. He is just now cashing in on the promise after months of intensive study. He chose a trip through Europe and this is his itinerary. He leaves here by stage for Virgina, Ill., thence to Montreal for Liverpool by the 20th inst. Three days will be spent in Stratford, Shakespeare's home town. From there young Wendt will go through Holland and Germany and then to see the Passion Play at Oberammergau, and from there through Italy, Switzerland and France.

The odd part about young Wendt's graduation present is that his parents didn't have to give it to him, after all, for he won the European trip on his own hook. On the day of his graduation Jehiel S. Davis, one of the high school teachers, announced he was going through Europe this summer. He spied Wendt, a favorite pupil. "How'd you like to see the Passion Play?" Davis asked. "Great," said Wendt.

"Well, get your hat and come along, it's on me," the teacher said. The two will embark at Montreal on the 11th inst.

Plans for Gathering Made at Conference; Sessions Begin September 18

PASADENA, July 2. — More than 1000 attorneys and judges will attend the 1930 convention of the State Bar of California, to be held at the Huntington Hotel, September 18, 19 and 20, next. Plans for the gathering were discussed last night at a conference presided over by Leonard B. Slosson of Los Angeles.

The conference was called by Judge Raymond G. Thompson, president of the local bar association, and was attended by five other bar association presidents, Norman A. Bailie, Los Angeles county bar; Judge Stephen H. Underwood, Long Beach bar; Judge Charles W. Dyer, Glendale bar; Judge William T. McNeeley, Alhambra bar; Allen P. Nichols, Pomona bar. Chester Coffin, Santa Monica City Attorney, represented the beach city.

Nationally known authorities on legal practice, who will address the convention will include Roscoe Pound, dean of Harvard law school, and Chief Justice William H. Waste of the California Supreme Court. The opening convention address will be delivered by Charles A. Beardsley, president of the State bar.

The dinner-meeting program on the opening day will be under the auspices of the junior members' committee of the Los Angeles Bar Association. Dean Pound's address will follow this meeting.

Second and third days of the State-wide gathering of legal luminaries will include election of officers and round-table discussions.

MERGER ELECTION SET

HAWTHORNE, July 2.—Annexation of the Lawndale district to this place will be voted on by residents of that section on August 14, next, under a resolution adopted by the City Council here last night. The territory, extending to Redondo-Riverside Boulevard, adjoins this place on the south.

REDONDO TELLS HARBOR PLANS

Chamber Proposes Building of $5,000,000 Project

Five Other Cities Will Be Asked to Join District

Water-front Purchase and Breakwater Proposed

REDONDO BEACH, July 2.—Construction of a commercial harbor here, costing more than $5,000,000 and accomplished through the formation of a district encompassing several localities contiguous to this city, is asked by the Chamber of Commerce in concrete plans made public this morning. The plan, as advanced by the chamber, is included in its harbor committee report in which engineering estimates place the cost of the proposed project at $5,200,000.

Five adjacent cities are to be approached by the chamber under this plan for co-operation in the project. The city of Torrance, adjoining this place on the south and east, is not included in the survey of cities which it may be possible to interest in the venture because of its proximity and close interest in Los Angeles Harbor.

BOND PURCHASE URGED

The plan, as it will be brought before the district, provides for the purchase at the outset of operations, of all territory lying between Diamond street in this city to the Hermosa-Redondo boundary line, and extending back to Pacific avenue its entire length. Provisions made for actual harbor construction under the initial part of the plan would provide a breakwater extending south from a point opposite the intersection of North Elena street and Pacific avenue to a point approximately 1700 feet offshore.

From Diamond street a wharf area of 225,750 square feet is indicated with an estimated anchorage of twelve acres, ranging in depth to twenty-four feet. Probable building time is set in the estimates as two years.

PLAN NOT NEW

Provision for harbor facilities as an aid to community development in preference to an immediate revenue has been a question of major interest before civic bodies here for a number of years. Economic conditions have forced the issue down on several previous occasions, although at one time, in 1917, a bond issue of $300,000 was voted and government aid enlisted. Wartime conditions, however, made the relinquishment of the plans obligatory and the bonds were never sold. A similar plan of soliciting the co-operation of inland communities was advanced five years ago but was abandoned after several intercommunity meetings.

It is an attempt at a revival of some of the shipping prestige of this point several decades ago when passenger liners and scores of traders docked at the three Pacific Electric wharves maintained here at that time. Much of the lumber destined for Southern California wholesale yards passed through this point as recently as 1923 when franchises held by the Pacific Electric Railway Company expired and were not renewed.

Meeting Held to Save Aged Verdugo Adobe

GLENDALE, July 2.—A rousing meeting to save a California landmark was held at the old Verdugo adobe here yesterday under the sponsorship of Mrs. C. E. Hughes, chairman of the Glendale Junior Green Cross.

The audience was composed of more than 2000 enthusiastic lovers of California who are working on a program to set aside the old Verdugo Adobe, the oldest house in this city, surrounded by the oldest eucalyptus trees in California, as a park, a monument to the historic past, and a living inspiration of towering trees for years to come.

Among the speakers was George H. Barnes, executive chairman of the American Green Cross, and John Steven McGroarty, California's own historian, who lives in the "green Verdugo Hills," which he has made famous through his well-known page in the Sunday Times Magazine.

The need of a program of forest conservation, reforestation and the preservation of historic landmarks was stressed by the speakers and the work of the American Green Cross was cited as a worthy example for every citizen to follow.

George H. Barnes was hailed by McGroarty as "California's most useful citizen," for the years of effort he had given to the question of the protection and development of our forests. McGroarty pleaded for the preservation of California's traditions, not only in song and story, but by the perpetuation of the old Spanish buildings that carry the memories of the past down to the present, and that will inspire the generations of the future.

ELEVATOR CRUSHES REPAIR MAN'S TOES

REDLANDS, July 2.—Clinton Chittendon was treated at the hospital today for injuries to his foot incurred when it was caught in the elevator at the Woolworth store. Chittendon, who lives at 140 West Eighty-third street, Los Angeles, is employed with the Otis Elevator Company. He had been sent here to install the new elevator in the store, which has been under repair, and in starting the cage, caught his foot between it and the shaft, tearing several of the toes. He was rushed to the hospital, where Dr. E. J. Eytinge treated him, taking several stitches in the foot.

The injury will necessitate Chittendon remaining in the hospital for several days while the stitches heal.

Melodrama Rules in Big Bear Play

Scene From "Nevertheless Old Glory"

Myra Hubert, as pulchritudinous heroine, and Arthur Belasco, as bearded and bold, bad villain, in tense moment in "Nevertheless Old Glory," historic melodrama, to be presented for its premiere at Big Bear Lake tomorrow, the Fourth, and on the 5th and 6th insts.

SAN BERNARDINO, July 2.—Although firecrackers and skyrockets will be banned in the forested area, great throngs of week-end vacationists will enjoy a thrilling Fourth of July celebration tomorrow in Bear Valley's first community play, "Nevertheless Old Glory," re-enacting an Independence celebration of the Sixties, the advance reservations indicate.

George A. Klapp, president of the pageant association, reported today that preparations are complete to accommodate great crowds expected to join special excursions to be conducted by the Motor Transit Stage Lines and the Pacific Electric Railway, as well as the throngs to make the pilgrimage to the San Bernardino mountain resort in private automobiles.

"Nevertheless Old Glory," adapted by Phil Whiting, its director, from Stephen Chalmer's novel, "Take-a-Chance Tamarlane," is unique among community pageants in that it is an out-and-out "western" thriller. A bull and bear fight, frontier horse race, stage coach hold-up and barroom brawls are among the exciting episodes presented.

Episodes of the play are founded on actual occurrences in the valley in 1861, when the Bear Lake mining camp boom town of Holcomb attempted to stage its first July Fourth celebration, only to have it interrupted by a gold strike.

Important roles in the historical thriller are being taken by Myra Hubert, Kenneth Randall, Arthur Belasco, James Guilfoyle, Frank McGlynn, Elizabeth Ross and Patricia Page, all well-known dramatic stars, supported by a cast of 120 residents of the valley, including pioneer miners.

The play will dedicate the Moonridge Bowl, a modern outdoor amphitheater seating 5000. Reservations may be made at branch ticket offices of the Lloyd D. Mitchell agency throughout Southern California. The drama will be repeated Saturday and Sunday afternoon.

LONG BEACH, July 2. — Mrs. Mary Billy Cline Quinn, local aviatress, set an altitude record of 17,500 feet for light airplanes in a flight from the Municipal Airport today. There has been no official mark in that class.

The barometer will be sent to Washington to be checked in support of her claim for a world record in the light-plane class.

Mrs. Quinn flew a Travelair plane equipped with a 110-horsepower motor. She has been flying about six months.

Two Brothers Committed to Juvenile Hall

ARCADIA, July 2.—On charges of burglary, Roy and Calvin Ridenour, brothers, now residing in Pasadena, were arrested here by Officer Jack Richards and yesterday committed to Juvenile Hall for the second time.

The youths, who are 14 and 16 years of age, respectively, confessed to burglarizing the home of former Councilman J. J. Granville at 303 Pinehurst avenue on June 15, last, and later, they told Chief of Police Coberly, they burglarized the home of Mrs. G. G. Mortimer of 3170 Lombardy street, Pasadena, where they took a revolver, cartridges, knives, flashlights and cigarettes. They also admitted entering a home at 1741 North Santa Anita avenue.

They were arrested in 1928 for robbing the South Santa Anita public library and were committed to Juvenile Hall.

Posing as Dry Agents, Bandits Rob in Hotel

SAN DIEGO, July 1. (AP)—Posing as prohibition agents, two armed bandits gained entrance to the rooms of three guests in a downtown hotel here tonight, held them up at pistol's points, and bound, gagged and robbed their victims of small sums of money. They were arrested by detectives as they were leaving the hotel.

The victims of the hold-up are W. W. Gay of El Paso, George Wilson and Jerry Clark of this city.

The pair arrested gave their names as Jack Turner of Los Angeles and Leonard Malott.

IMPROVEMENTS AT BEACH VOTED

Santa Monica Goes in for Huge Street Program

Planning Commission Backs $2,273,900 Projects

Outlay Will be Made Over Three-Year Period

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

SANTA MONICA, July 2.—A total expenditure of $2,273,900, to be divided over a three-year period, is involved in a report adopted by a vote of 4 to 3 by the City Planning Commission here, covering Santa Monica's highway development program. City, county and possibly State money will make up the fund, under the recommendations of the Santa Monica-Ocean Park Chamber of Commerce. The report was passed over strenuous objections by L. M. Ford of the commission. The items and costs enumerated in the report for the first year are: Palisades Beach road condemnation and improvement to fifty-foot width, $595,000; incline viaduct from Santa Monica Canyon to Ocean and Margarita avenues, $175,000. For the second year: Santa Monica Boulevard incline from the beach road to Ocean avenue, $100,000; Trolleyway improvement, joint use with Pacific Electric, fifty-five-foot width, $350,000, and California avenue incline improvement, $103,900. For the third year: Palisades Beach road connection to Lincoln Boulevard (Eighth street) via Colorado and Railroad airline right of way, $125,000, and Washington Boulevard opening and improvement, uniform width of eighty feet, $250,000.

Ford contended in a minority report that the beach road should be widened to a full seventy-foot width, and that the Santa Monica Boulevard incline and widening of the California avenue incline should be undertaken first.

TRADE WILL BE STUDIED BY ATTACHE

Commercial Envoy Here From Paris Will Inspect Nation's Principal Ports

Fayette Ward Allport, secretary of commercial affairs for the American Embassy in Paris and formerly a resident of Los Angeles, on a month's vacation here, has been ordered by the Department of Commerce to make an extensive survey of trade conditions in the United States before returning to Europe. Mr. Allport has been connected with the government service for ten years and has been the commercial attache in Paris for five years.

The survey he has been directed to make will include a three-months' tour of the country in which he will inspect most of the principal ports.

With Mrs. Allport and their sons, Peter, 10 years of age, and Alexander, 8, he has been living at 607 Lillian Way. He is the brother of H. E. Allport, owner of the Mission Hotel at 1747 North Cahuenga avenue.

"I have found through a preliminary survey that trade conditions on the Pacific Coast are unusually healthy," he asserted. "The relationship between California and the Orient is extremely promising and there is little reason to doubt that a new era of prosperity is at hand."

SECOND MAN SEIZED FOR BANDIT RAID

Two Now Held Accused of Holding Up Pay-Roll Pair and Stealing $2130

In the arrest of Percy Eberlee, 24 years of age, who was surprised while sleeping at the home of his sister in Wilmington, with a .45-caliber automatic under his pillow, Detective Lieutenants Romera and Alsup yesterday announced the capture of the second bandit who figured in a $2130 pay-roll hold-up June 25 at First and Vignes streets.

The first suspect, Pierre V. Soleno, was arrested shortly after the hold-up, but stoutly denied his guilt, insisting that he himself had been the victim of an attempted robbery.

Police found him partly dazed in a wrecked car a few blocks from the scene of the hold-up, and investigation disclosed that the car was one of three the robbers had stolen in their attempted flight. When questioned at the station his story was picked to pieces by detectives and he was booked on a charge of suspicion of robbery.

Both Eberlee and Soleno are booked on a charge of robbery and Romera declares the men also have been identified in at least two recent hold-ups of drug stores.

The victims of the pay-roll hold-up were a bank messenger and guard who were delivering the money to the Citizens Truck Company, 800 Turner street. Romero said $230 was recovered from Eberlee at the time of his arrest.

Youth Drowns in Bathing Pool at Ocean Park

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

SANTA MONICA, July 2. — Although there were many bathers today in the Ocean Park plunge, privately owned indoor bathing pool, none noticed that Art Baron, 20 years of age, of 1935 New Jersey street, Los Angeles, was drowning in their midst.

The fact was not discovered until the young man's body floated to the surface, after which the alarm was sounded. The inhalator squad of the Venice Fire Department worked an hour in a vain attempt at resuscitation.

Without direct evidence the police concluded young Baron had been seized with cramps. The body was removed to the undertaking rooms of Kirkelie, Bernard & Peake.

Saturdays Off During Summer Voted City Help

Following the recommendation of its Efficiency and Personnel Committee, the City Council yesterday voted unanimously to instruct the various department heads of the city government to allow full time off on Saturdays during July and August to all employees who can be spared.

When Councilman Williams suggested that this blanket authorization might leave the way open for discrimination by departmental executives, Councilman Cooke stated that if any such discrimination ever is practiced he would move to discharge the executive guilty of it. Several other Councilmen added their amen to his threat.

Alice Day Has Change of Mind in Wedding Plan

Alice Day, motion-picture actress, and Jack B. Cohn, member of a local brokerage concern, are going to be married at Santa Barbara after all. The reason is that had they filed a notice of intention here yesterday they could not get a license until Monday and they wanted to be married Sunday, Miss Day said.

The couple took out the license last Saturday in Santa Barbara when Miss Day used her off-screen name, Alice Irene Newlin. Marceline Day, her sister, will serve the bride, while Val Montgomery will be best man. The ceremony will take place at the Santa Barbara Biltmore at 2:30 p.m. Sunday.

ANTIDOPE CAMPAIGN APPROVED

Meeting at City Hall Indorses Program of Narcotic Research Group

The program worked out by the Narcotic Research Association for the suppression of the drug evil on the Pacific Coast was unanimously approved by a meeting of representative citizens called together unofficially yesterday by Mayor Porter. The meeting, which was held in the Mayor's outer office, was opened by him with a short statement of its purpose and then turned over to N. J. Herwig, general superintendent of the association.

The first step in the association's program is the launching of a campaign of education to prevent the further spread of addiction. Other features of the program are enactment of uniform and effective narcotic laws with severe penalties for drug peddling, legislation for the segregation of all criminal addicts with adequate medical care and provision for rehabilitation and efforts to bring about an effective international agreement to curtail the manufacture of narcotic drugs to actual medical needs.

Mayor Porter was asked by vote of the meeting to invite Gov. Young to join him in calling a two days' conference to be held in this city next fall, to which the governors of all the Pacific Slope States, the mayors of the larger cities, the Premier of British Columbia and the President of Mexico would be invited to send delegates.

Council May Vote Today on Street Project

As the result of a special meeting of the City Council's Public Works Committee yesterday afternoon, the Council may vote today, or by Monday at the latest, on the final ordinance for the improvement of the streets in the Olympic Boulevard and Stanley-avenue Improvement District. This project includes the paving of two and a half miles of Olympic Boulevard between Rimpau and Robertson boulevards, and is, therefore, an integral part of the greater Tenth-street project, as Olympic Boulevard will carry Tenth street westward from Rimpau Boulevard.

At its meeting yesterday, the Public Works Committee voted unanimously to recommend to the Council that it adopt the final ordinance and instruct the Board of Public Works to advertise immediately for bids.

Figures Given on Paralysis Cases in County

The number of new infantile paralysis cases reported for the city of Los Angeles for the first two days of July, ending last evening, was twenty, a sharp increase over the daily average in June, when eighty-three cases were reported altogether.

For June there were six deaths. There has been one additional death since the 1st inst.

The health department is making every effort to curb the spread of the disease, the history of which, according to Dr. Parrish, city health officer, shows that it increases in July and August and diminishes as the cooler months arrive. The number of cases reported last year was three.

County Health Department figures show that since June 1, last, seventy-nine cases have been reported throughout the county, exclusive of the city of Los Angeles. One new case was reported yesterday.

CHILDREN TO STAGE PLAYGROUND DRAMA

Opening a series of weekly matinees to be presented by children drawn from Los Angeles municipal playgrounds this summer, a dramatic program arranged, directed and enacted by its youthful participants will be offered today in the Little Lattice Playhouse of Barnsdall Playground at 2:15 p.m. "At the Wishing Well" is the title of the play, which will be supplemented by music by the playground harmonica band, children's chorus, and the "Toy Symphony."

HEARING ON BEACH OIL PLEAS SET

Santa Monica Planning Commission Urged to Expand Drilling Area

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

SANTA MONICA, July 2. (Exclusive)—A flood of petitions, letters and verbal requests to increase the area set apart by a recent ordinance for town-lot oil drilling in Santa Monica prompted the city planning commission, at a meeting in the City Hall, to set a public hearing on the matter for the 14th inst. On the next election ballot an initiative ordinance is to be placed before the voters barring oil drilling in any section of the city beyond the area, approximately one-third of the municipality, lying in Ocean Park, originally set aside in the ordinance.

The proposal to expand that area before the election comes from a group owning property or residing in an adjoining strip extending from Pico Boulevard to Colorado avenue, and running easterly from Alley 8, east of Lincoln Boulevard. This strip would join a portion of the present drilling zone, which extends as far north as Colorado avenue east of Clover Field Boulevard.

STONE'S SUIT OVER LEASING POSTPONED

Trial of the Lewis Stone case to enjoin the Los Angeles Municipal Playground and Recreation Commission from leasing submerged lands to oil companies for development has been postponed until 10 a.m. the 10th inst., attorneys stipulating to the delay in Superior Judge Hanby's court. The court continued in effect until then the temporary restraining order against such leasing. It was issued when the actor filed his suit last week.

Stone's attorney filed five affidavits with the court in which is set forth in detail damages which he asserts will result to his beach home near Playa Del Rey from the proposed ocean drilling. It is contended also that the Harbor Commission and not the Playground Commission controls the leasing rights, if any.

Judge Hanby transferred the case to Superior Judge Bowron's court, Department 46, where it will come up for trial next week

LAST RITES FOR MAXEY TOMORROW

Southwestern Developer's Funeral to be Conducted at Yuma, Arizona

Funeral services will be conducted tomorrow in Yuma, Ariz., for James H. Maxey, developer of many irrigation and engineering projects in the Southwest, who died here last Thursday at the Hospital of the Good Samaritan.

He was a leader in railroad, levee and highway construction in Arizona, California and Mexico. He brought water to Gila Valley, Arizona, through irrigation systems from wells. He also was extensively interested in cattle raising and mining.

Maxey had resided in practical retirement for the last two years. His death was attributed to a brain tumor. He leaves his widow, Mrs. Mary Maxey.

PROPHECIES COME TRUE

Back in 1887, a United States Army officer at the Presidio, San Francisco, wrote a novel which he called "A. D. 2000," in which he tried to picture the United States as it would be at the close of the present century. He predicted that by the end of this century we would travel in motor cars, airships and submarines, and that the North Pole would have been discovered by an airship. Another forecast he made was that a single newspaper would be distributed simultaneously in all parts of the country. It has taken only forty-three years instead of 113 to realize all of these predictions, even to the distribution of the newspaper since the front page of a San Francisco paper was transmitted by telephoto to Schnectady, N. Y., recently. It is natural to wonder what the year 2000 really is going to yield for the human race.

BALED ROCKS NEW SWINDLE

Rancher Who Hides Stones in Hay Now Faces Heavy Fine

Gone is the corner groceryman who put sand in sugar and sold wooden nutmegs. The milkman who put water in milk is also a historic memory.

Enter, however, the present-day rancher who bales up rocks and dirt in his hay to make the bales weigh more. Today hay in bales is sold by weight.

Complaints of this 1930 method of cheating have come to Charles M. Fuller, County Sealer, who is making an investigation. The penalty for such a deception is a maximum fine of $500 and six months in jail.

CITY PARKS WILL HAVE FIREWORKS

Playgrounds and Pools Will Remain Open All Day Tomorrow for Programs

Los Angeles playgrounds and pools will remain open all day tomorrow and special Fourth of July programs will be given at widely scattered centers, with fireworks displays at Lincoln, Hollenbeck and Westlake parks and at Venice, for which the City Council appropriated $800.

Special events, consisting of games, contests and stunts will be held at Echo, Glendale and Temple-street playgrounds, starting at 2 p.m.

A combined program of contests, races and stunts will be held for Verdugo and Yosemite playgrounds, lasting all day.

An athletic exhibition, stunts and contests will be held at the Terminal Island playground, across from San Pedro, and there will be boating and swimming activities at Cabrillo Beach.

Four plays and three children's dances will be held at the Stoneheart Playground in the morning. There will be a community lunch at noon, games and contests in the afternoon and a dance in the evening.

Impromptu celebrations will be held at all the other playgrounds. The Playground and Recreation Department in the City Hall will be closed for the holiday.

Noted European Surgeon Speaks at Honor Dinner

Modern methods of emergency treatment given to accident victims in the capitals of Europe was the subject of an illustrated lecture given last night by Dr. Lorenz Boehler, surgeon in charge of the Accidents Hospital in Vienna. Dr. Boehler was guest of honor at a dinner at the Jonathan Club, which preceded the lecture.

In a series of motion-picture films, the Austrian surgeon explained the methods used in his hospital in the treatment of bone fractures. He also displayed through a stereoptican a number of X-ray photographs showing the progress of the healing process.

Many of the cases shown on the screen were those which resulted from serious traffic accidents on the streets of Vienna, but which were discharged from the hospital without permanent disability.

Dr. Boehler will visit the Orthopedic Hospital this morning, and will make a motor tour of the city for the balance of the day, leaving tomorrow for San Francisco, where his lecture will be repeated before a group of surgeons in that city. He is on an extensive tour of the United States, lecturing in several cities. He is regarded as one of the outstanding surgeons of Europe.

Deed-Fraud Case Jury Locked Up for Night Again

Failing to reach a verdict after more than thirty hours' deliberation the jury which heard the trial of Owen E. Wyatt, charged with three counts of grand theft in asserted trust-deed frauds, was again ordered locked up for the night by Superior Judge Aggeler late yesterday.

The indictment against Wyatt charges that he defrauded Mrs. Herbert Rear out of $12,464; Emil Barbul of $3280 and Opal Dempster of $4750 in trust-deed transactions.

At a previous trial Wyatt was convicted of grand theft following a trial without a jury. The defendant then appealed the case to the higher courts and obtained a new trial on grounds that he had been tried without a jury without having first given his consent.

Bowl Conductor Refutes Rumors of Resignation

Dr. Alfred Hertz, popular conductor of the Hollywood Bowl, will continue his association with the Bowl indefinitely, it was learned yesterday following rumors that he will retire.

Hertz will lead off the ninth season of "Symphonies Under the Stars" Tuesday, next. He will conduct the first week of concerts and will be back next year, he said. This will be his eighth year as a Bowl conductor.

After heading the San Francisco Symphony Orchestra for the last fifteen years, Hertz resigned recently. It was his resignation, he believes, that started rumors he was giving up his active connection with music to go to Europe to live. At the end of the season he will go abroad for the thirty-second time, he said, but only for a visit.

VETERAN OF STAGE AND SCREEN DIES

Anders Randolf Expires Unexpectedly Following Surgical Operation

Anders Randolf

Anders Randolf, pioneer character actor of both stage and screen, died unexpectedly early yesterday at his home, 609 North Canon Drive, Beverly Hills. Death was due to complications following an operation from which he was believed to be recovering.

Mr. Randolf was 60 years of age and a native of Denmark. He came to the United States in 1893, achieving immediate success on the New York stage. His first film roles were played for the old Vitagraph Company of Brooklyn, among them being the principal character in "The Lion and the Mouse." He remained with the Vitagraph Company until its dissolution, then entering the free-lance field. Joining the Hollywood film colony in 1923, he filled engagements with all the representative producing studios. He contributed an important part recently to "Maybe It's Love," a Warner Brothers picture. In addition to his fame as an actor he attained note as a painter. He leaves his widow and one daughter, 13 years of age.

Funeral services will be conducted at 11 a.m. Saturday from the funeral parlors of Francis Hall & Son, 1607 South Flower street. The body will be cremated and the ashes taken to Denmark.

Eight Thousand Hear Jubilee Bowl Program

An audience estimated at 8000 persons gathered last night at the third annual Midsummer Jubilee at the Hollywood Bowl to hear a varied program of music and vaudeville presented by screen and stage stars. The affair was given as a benefit for the Los Angeles Sanatorium. No estimate as to the amount realized was made by officials, who declared that several thousand dollars was expected to be turned in on unreported ticket sales.

All the major studios of Hollywood were represented on the program by one or more acts. The program was staged under the direction of Florenz Ziegfeld and Fred Niblo. Benny Rubin, Lew Cody and Charles Irwin acted as masters of ceremonies.

The Los Angeles Grand Opera chorus under the direction of Dr. Karl Riedel sang several selections and the South Pasadena Legion drum corps staged a snappy exhibition. The Albertina Rasch Ballet from Sid Grauman's prologue at the Chinese Theater also was present. Cliff Edwards (Ukulele Ike) and the M.-G.-M. revue represented a part of the M.-G.-M. contributions to the program. R.-K.-O. presented a dancing ensemble and musical numbers by Everett Marshall, baritone, and others. Ann Pennington and the Mosconi brothers gave pleasing numbers. The Fox Pictures singing chorus also was popular.

A Heroine in a Cobbler's Shop

When W. B. Ashley, Washington (O.) shoemaker, died a year ago his wife was stunned. She was left with two children, Ada, 16, and Roy, 9, to support, and there was a mortgage on her husband's little shop as well as on their modest home. There was no source of income at all.

"What are you going to do now?" neighbors asked the widow a day or two after the funeral.

"I don't know," she answered them, still bewildered over the misfortune that had befallen her, and not knowing which way to turn.

Later some one asked her if she would undertake to fix some shoes as she was known to have helped her husband a little at times, and there was no other cobbler in the village.

"I think I could fix them all right," replied Mrs. Ashley, who weighs only ninety pounds, "but I don't know how neat the work would be."

"Go ahead and try," the neighbor suggested. She fixed the shoes and when the owner came after them he was pleased with her work.

"Say, if you can do work like this why don't you reopen the shop?" he asked. Encouraged over her first work she did reopen the shop and has been kept busy ever since. Her work has increased ever since that first day in the shop and now she is looking for a cobbler, woman preferred, to help her.

During this first year since her bereavement she has not only supported herself and children but is paying off both mortgages in substantial payments. She will soon have both clear, she says, if her health holds out and business keeps good.

If the story of the world's heroines ever is written a large part of it will have to be devoted to widowed mothers, who, left without anything, have carried on, being both mother and father to their children, and setting an example of courage and fortitude and determination that shames the average man.—Capper's Weekly.

PROVOCATION ENOUGH

"You are charged," said the judge, "with beating up this government inspector. What have you to say?"

"Nothing," replied the grocer. "I am guilty. I lost my head. All morning I held my temper while government agents inspected my scales, tasted my butter, smelled my meat, graded my kerosene. In addition, your honor, I had just answered three Federal questionnaires. Then this bird comes along and wants to take moving pictures of my cheese, so I pasted him in the eye."

LANGDON SUIT COMES TO END

Judge Blake Will Give His Decision Monday

Comedian Pictured as Love Pirate by Plaintiffs

His Attorneys Declare He's Too Goodhearted

Harry Langdon, film comedian, yesterday was pictured contrastingly as a cringing home-wrecker and as a good-hearted fellow by attorneys summing up in Superior Judge Blake's court, the suit against the actor on notes for $11,500 given Thomas J. O'Brien to fend off a heart-balm action. Tried concurrently was Langdon's cross-suit to recover $15,000 cash he gave O'Brien with the notes when the comedian was accused of alienating the affections of Mrs. Helen O'Brien, now Mrs. Langdon. Associated with O'Brien as plaintiffs and cross-defendants were his former attorneys, Leo Rosecrans and Otto Emme. Judge Blake took the case under submission, announcing that he will render a decision next Monday.

As the closing sensation of the trial, Attorney Emme charged that Langdon's cross-suit to recover his $15,000 and to avoid paying the notes, was an entering wedge to regain the $70,000 property settlement he made Mrs. Rose Langdon, his first wife, when she divorced him. Emme asserted that if Langdon succeeded in the present issue, he would find mental reservations to attack his agreement with his former wife.

LOVE PATS EXCHANGED

Attorney Bayard R. Rountree began summation for the plaintiffs, reviewing the testimony taken during the past three weeks. He attacked Langdon's defense of signing the notes under duress and threat of publicity which would injure his screen career. When Rountree charged that O'Brien's former wife lied on the witness stand, the comedian reassuringly patted his wife's arm. Later, when the lawyer said Langdon had changed her life, she returned the assuring pats.

MOTHER ASSAILED

Attorney Paul Schenck, for Langdon, attacked the testimony of Marie Firman, a private detective, whom he called a double-crosser. He assailed the motives of Mrs. Laura Walton, mother of Mrs. Helen Langdon, who testified against her daughter.

Attorney Emme, who maintained the role of plaintiff until yesterday, closed summation for himself and associates. He asserted that O'Brien was driven to seek the law's recourse because his wife had illicit relations with Langdon.

ENGINEERS ESTIMATE GAS USAGE

Los Angeles Consumption for This Year Computed at 17,900,000,000 Feet

Los Angeles will consume substantially more gas in 1930 than it used in 1929, according to estimates presented yesterday before State Railroad Commissioner Carr in an investigation on the commission's own motions into the rates, rules and practices of the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation.

A. J. Luick, consulting engineer, appearing for the corporation, estimated the 1930 consumption as 17,900,000,000 cubic feet. Assistant Engineer J. E. Speice, appearing for the commission, testified under cross-examination that he estimated the 1930 consumption as 18,450,000,000 cubic feet.

As against these estimates it was pointed out that the amount of gas consumed in 1929 reached 17,190,000,000 cubic feet.

Engineer Speice estimated that the company's gross revenues in 1930 will be $15,924,000.

Luick estimated the going value of the company at approximately $10,000,000.

The hearing will be resumed today. It is anticipated that it will be brought to an end next week.

Youth on Lone Trip to Alaska

Hal Ryerson, adopted son of Mr. and Mrs. Colin Clements of Beverly Hills, has left on his long trek to St. Michael, Alaska, alone. He went by train to Seattle and then will go aboard the Victoria, which will sail today for Nome.

He will spend three days in Nome and then go on to St. Michael, where he will be met by his grandfather, who will take him far up the Yukon to count the reindeer herds.

Hal is 14 years of age, a junior at Harvard Military Academy, and this is his first trip outside of California.

WOMAN WAITING FOR FORTUNE LOSES PURSE

Whether a financial loss looms in the immediate future, as indicated by a fortune-telling slot machine into which she dropped a coin yesterday afternoon, Mrs. Edith Solovay, of 1316 Exposition Boulevard, did not inform police. She did, however, report that while she stood before the machine near Third street and Broadway she was robbed of her purse containing $11 in cash.

PROTESTS DENIED

Protests against the ordinance of intention for the building of sewers in the One Hundred and Ninth street and McKinley-avenue sewer district were denied by the City Council yesterday, thus opening the way for the adoption of the final ordinance.

MINNESOTANS TO CELEBRATE

Minnesotans will celebrate the Fourth of July tomorrow evening with a rally in Music Arts Hall, 233 South Broadway. The program will include melodies by the Utica Quartet and a tribute to the flag by Andrew G. Vaughn. Dancing and refreshments will follow.

City of Chicago Loses Bolt

Pilots Suggest Having Court Up in Air for Hearing on Cash Injunction

Army Flyers Make Radio Broadcast Contact on Third Effort

CHICAGO, July 4. (Exclusive) At 2:40 a.m. today the Hunter brothers passed their 539th hour in the air and their engine showed no signs of faltering.

CHICAGO, July 3. (P)—Indications that the record-breaking City of Chicago is beginning to yield to the strain were evident at Sky Harbor Airport tonight. A bolt connecting the motor to the frame of the plane came loose and the engine was pumping oil.

A bolt to replace the one shaken loose was hurriedly taken up.

Lieut. E. S. Moon, who made a successful two-way radio contact with the City of Chicago at 6:01 p.m., central standard time, reported he saw a streak of oil on the ship which he said indicated one of the cylinders is pumping oil.

OILY SHIRT DROPPED

A short time later an oil-soaked shirt was thrown to earth by one of the Hunter brothers.

Fred W. Clarke of New York, mechanic who helped prepare the plane for its test, however, denied the motor is pumping oil.

"The motor is consuming six gallons of oil a day," said Clarke. "It consumed four at the start, but the increase is natural."

Flight managers also denied anything serious had developed mechanically.

During the two-way radio conversation, Kenneth Hunter thanked his friends and attendants at Sky Harbor for aiding in making the endurance flight successful, declared he and his brother John were both feeling fine and that he could see no reason for coming down in the near future.

At this juncture, however, he requested more fuel and repairs and put the radio connection aside.

PAPERS ANGER PILOTS

The plane passed the 536th hour of endurance flying at 11:40 o'clock central standard time, and by then had eclipsed the former record by 116 hours.

Wednesday night newspapers sent up to John and Kenneth by way of Big Ben, the refueling plane, started a storm today.

Kenneth saw himself quoted as saying he was tired of the flight and that he wanted to land. As John put it in a note, "It caused plenty of trouble between me and him."

Kenneth did complain that he was tired, said his brother Albert, who, with another brother, Walter, operates the refueling plane.

But John, the ground crew brother explained, was angry because his note had been made public.

Still another worry of the boys, who hope to make their record long enough to stand forever, was news that a lawsuit involving the City of Chicago and directed against them had been set for hearing Tuesday.

"That would mean we would have
